EVANSTON CHIEF IN ZUTA BOX

ARMY AND NAVY AIR CHIEFS WILL SEE RACES HERE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—More than a hundred Washington officials, officers, and aviation enthusiasts are preparing today to go to Chicago for the national air races. Many of the air officers and men of the army and navy will leave tomorrow. Others will leave by air and train during the next three days.

The official Washington delegation will be led by W. Irving Glover, assistant postmaster general in charge of all mail, and the three assistant secretaries in charge of aviation matters. David A. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy in charge of aviation, will reach Chicago Friday. F Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation, and Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce for aerial matters, will leave later.

Gen. Fetchet to Attend.

The lure of racing airplanes will take Maj. Gen. James E. Fetchet, chief of the army air corps, and Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, head of the bureau of aeronautics, to Chicago by Friday. They will go by airplane. Another famous aviation figure—Capt. John H. Towers, assistant chief of the naval bureau of aviation and navigator of one of the N C 4 planes that crossed the Atlantic back in 1919—will be in Chicago.

Many officials of the National Aeronautics association will go to Chicago for the aerial classic. Among those who will attend are William R. Enyart, editor of the National Aeronautical Review; Richard D. Wiley and Miss Virginia Snow, staff members; Jeffe Lodi, secretary of the membership committee; Mrs. Sara Howley, office manager; and John S. Victor, treasurer. H. W. Halverson, secretary of the private flying club committee, is already in Chicago.

Civilians to Attend.

Among Washington civilian aviation enthusiasts who will attend the races are G. W. Lewis of the national advisory committee for aeronautics; Adolph K. Barta, president of the Aeronautics club of Washington; Thomas Carroll of the Washington airport, Walter Hinton of the Aviation institute, Joseph Egerton, and Henry Berliner.

It is estimated that close to 100 army and navy officers will be on hand when the races begin. Secretary Ingalls will lead the navy contingent, flying from Cleveland with his aid, Lieut. Commander R. P. Molton Jr., Thursday of this week. An aerial tactical section of three officers flying standard naval flying planes will escort the assistant secretary to the meet.

Navy Has Mystery Plane.

The mystery plane which Capt. Arthur H. Page of the marine corps will fly as the navy entry in the Thompson trophy race, free for all speed event, has attained a speed in excess of 200 miles an hour during tuning up trials for the classic. The exact speed attained by the plane has not been revealed.

Capt. Page's plane was constructed with the purpose of developing a fast-fighting plane for the navy and marine corps. It was built not only for speed, it was stated at the department today, but also with the strength factors and maneuverability requisite for a military plane.

"It is the latest development of the Curtiss Hawk navy fighter built four years ago," it was said.

Other navy units will include one 18-plane fighting squadron from the battle fleet carriers Saratoga and Lexington, and a 12-plane marine corps fighting squadron from Quantico.

Army to Send 50 Flyers.

About fifty army officers will be sent to Chicago. Col. R. C. Kirkland will have charge of the army planes, which will include the first squadron of 2d pursuit group [nine planes] from Langley field and the 2d squadron of the first pursuit group from Selfridge field.

Besides Assistant Secretary Young, navy aviation officials will go from the bureau of aeronautics division. Gilbert Budwig, director of aeronautics, expects to spend most of the week in Chicago. Howard P. Hough, acting chief department of commerce inspection service, will go by train.

THERE'S A NEW BABY IN HOOVER CABINET; HER NAME IS HURLEY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—A ten pound baby girl was born today to Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley, wife of the secretary of war, at the Columbia hospital. It was announced that both mother and baby are doing well.

There are three other children, Patricia, Ruth and Wilson. Mrs. Hurley, a daughter of Admiral Henry B. Wilson, United States navy, has been exceptionally popular in Washington social circles.

AFTER ALL, IT'S NICE TO BE HOME AFTER VACATION

Ordinarily, the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brooks of Hammond, returned yesterday from a two weeks' vacation in southern Illinois would be just another social item. Mr. Brooks discovered that——

His house had been on fire.

His radio had been stolen.

His electric bill had trebled because he had left the basement lights burning.

"And is that all?" asked Sergt. Fred Fondrai of the Hammond police.

"No," said Mr. Brooks. "I forgot to put the cat out."

'Flip Up' Seat Law Passed for Theaters

An important change in the Chicago building code relative to the spacing of seats in theaters was enacted by the city council at its last meeting before the summer vacation, according to disclosures yesterday. The change was made in an amendment, recommended by the council buildings and zoning committee, which escaped the attention of the aldermen who were engaged in a debate on the new telephone ordinance.

Manufacturers of automatic seating devices, which cause seats to rise when unoccupied, appear to benefit from the code amendment. Theater owners are given the option of installing these devices within six months after the ordinance goes into effect on Nov. 5 or of increasing the distance between rows by fourteen inches.

Wider Spacing Required.

Under the old code the seats are placed so that the rows are not less than two feet eight inches from back to back. The amendment requires the rows to be not less than three feet ten inches from back to back with the exception that where the automatic devices are installed the distance between rows can be the same as under the old code. Before the devices can be installed they must be approved by the commissioner of buildings.

All buildings "now erected or at any time hereafter to be erected" in two classifications of buildings are affected by the new seating provision. The first classification includes all buildings used for moving pictures or vaudeville shows where an admission fee is charged and the seating capacity does not exceed 300. The second classification includes every building used as a public theater where an admission fee is charged and movable scenery is used, and assembly halls equipped with a permanent stage and seating over 300.

Records in the city hall show that on Nov. 1, 1929, there were 345 theaters in Chicago with a total seating capacity of 352,065. This number includes 59 moving picture and vaudeville houses, 15 legitimate houses, 7 burlesque and 6 stock company theaters.

Few of these theaters, according to inspectors in the city hall, are now equipped with the automatic seat raising devices.

Record of the Amendment.

The amendment was introduced into the council on April 9, 1930, by Ald. William R. O'Toole [14th], chairman of the building and zoning committee, and was referred to his committee. No action was taken on it, according to the committee records, until July 28, the day before the last council meeting, when it was recommended to the council for passage by the committee.

Examination of the committee records failed to show that the amendment had been referred to a subcommittee for investigation or that any public hearings were held to allow theater owners to register their opinions.

According to some reports in the city hall the amendment was given to Ald. O'Toole by O. W. Rosenthal, a contractor, who is the general chairman of the committee appointed by Building Commissioner Paschen to revise the building code. This committee has been working for three years and just recently turned over the revised engineering sections of the code to a committee of the Illinois Society of Architects for review.

NEW YORK'S BUDGET FOR 1931 EXPECTED TO BE 600 MILLIONS

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—New York's 1931 budget will call for at least 600 million dollars, it was calculated today, on the basis of departmental requests made public by Charles L. Kohler, director of the budget. This figure exceeds by approximately $30,000,000 the 1930 budget of $569,769,828, which represented an increase of nearly $26,000,000 over 1929.

The 1930 budget already has been exceeded by emergency appropriations and the 1931 preliminary figures do not include the requests of some of the heaviest spenders, notably the police and fire departments, whose figures have not yet been submitted.

GRAPE GROWERS GIVEN PERMITS; BIG MERGER ON

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—California grape interests which were seriously disturbed a year ago when Prohibition Commissioner Doran went west to stem the tide of grape juice, have apparently emerged victorious in their fight against too rigid restrictions and are now preparing to extend their activities on a large scale.

Outstanding in the developments has been the formation of the Giant Fruit Industries, Inc., reported to be a $300,000,000 corporation. Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, is reported to be counsel for this concern.

Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition enforcement, arrived in Chicago yesterday. She said she never divulged the names of her clients, but that she hadn't heard of any such concern as the Giant Fruit Industry.

AVIATORS SAVE TRIO FROM LAKE AS YACHT BURNS

Plunge Into Water After Blast.

Two naval airmen, cruising 1,000 feet above the Great Lakes Training station with a student pilot each in their seaplanes, sighted a wisp of smoke ten miles out on the lake yesterday about 2 p. m.

Lieut. E. L. Johansen, first to observe the smoke, took the controls from his pupil and skimmed towards it. Ensign Victor Randecker followed in the other plane.

They arrived just in time. The 38 foot cabin yacht Orion was ablaze from stem to stern and the three passengers were bobbing in the waves, supported by life belts and almost exhausted, with 40 feet of water under them.

Engine Explodes; Owner Hurt

A mysterious engine explosion had set the Orion ablaze 45 minutes before and the flames had scorched the face and arms of the owner, Herman A. Brassert, 56 years old, Chicago consulting engineer, who lives at 547 Roslyn road, Kenilworth.

Brassert had slipped on a life belt and leaped from the boat immediately, followed by his 16 year old son, William, and the boy's companion, Jack Flatley, 17 years old, 72 East Elm street, Chicago, son of J. E. Flatley, purchasing agent of the Milwaukee railroad. Young Brassert was unclad at the moment, having just stripped off his yachting togs to don street clothes.

"I was just about done for," Mr. Brassert said as Lieut. Johansen and the student, W. J. Munro of Detroit, helped him aboard the seaplane. They placed him in the student's seat and, with Munro riding the wing, took off for the Great Lakes hospital.

Signals to Steamer.

Meanwhile Ensign Randecker had flown two miles beyond the blazing boat and signaled the Goodrich steamer Roosevelt, which was steaming towards Chicago, to stand by.

Six or seven planes were hovering above the burning Orion by then and a speed boat was on the way from the training station. Flatley and Young Brassert, the latter nearly unconscious from exposure, were pulled into the speedboat and taken to the hospital.

Coast guard crews from Evanston and Waukegan, who had been plowing towards the blazing yacht in their surf boats, arrived just as the flames burned the hull to the water's edge. The Orion, in which Mr. Brassert and the youths were returning to Wilmette harbor from Milwaukee, foundered.

Tow in Crippled Yacht.

Another Chicago yacht, the 40 foot cruiser Marguerite, was towed into the river last night by the Central Coast guard's surf boat after being adrift 20 hours on the lake without a rudder. Aboard were the owner, Dr. J. J. Litschgi, chief of the X-ray department at the Grant hospital; his brother-in-law, Herbert Lindhammer, 4233 Kenmore avenue, and Lindhammer's friends, Carl Schwengel and Daniel Gillespie.

Three hours after putting out from South Haven, Mich., for Chicago on Sunday afternoon the Marguerite lost her rudder. The four men idled through the night and at daybreak yesterday gathered driftwood for a makeshift rudder, which, however, helped them little. The Marguerite had drifted far south off her course and was 18 hours overdue in Chicago when, at 3 p. m. yesterday, Capt. Anderson and his men sighted the yacht 18 miles northeast of Michigan City.

RAIDERS' CAPTIVES ACCUSE POLICEMEN OF BOOTLEG GRAFT

Evidence said to link police of the South Chicago police district with the protection of saloon keepers was obtained by United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson last evening when 15 persons arrested in raids on 13 saloons were questioned.

The raids were made simultaneously at 6 p. m. by 29 prohibition agents led by Alexander Jamie, chief of the special contingent. Most of the raiders, however, were men under Col. John F. J. Herbert, prohibition administrator. The two departments did not coöperate in any major raids under the régime of former Administrator E. C. Yellowley.

Tell of Graft Payments.

Mr. Johnson and his assistants questioned the prisoners for several hours. The United States attorney refused to discuss the nature of the statements taken by three court stenographers, but it was learned that some of the prisoners admitted they had paid money to the South Chicago police for protection. Mr. Johnson issued this statement:

"This investigation was undertaken about three months ago by Mr. Jamie's men on the belief that conditions as they existed in South Chicago could not have prevailed without the permission of authorities."

Mr. Johnson was asked whether, after taking the statements of the defendants, he believed that the purpose of the raids would be realized.

"Yes, I am well satisfied with the night's work," he replied.

It was reported at the federal building during the questioning that the government would try to develop a large conspiracy case as a result of the raids, but that it was doubtful whether the statements of the prisoners alone would support indictments of any police officials.

Raiders Seize Woman.

One woman was taken in the raids, Mrs. Anna Jordan, whose place was at 8339 Burley avenue. She was questioned and then released on her own recognizance, but the fourteen men were held for arraignment today before United States Commissioner Walker.

The other places raided and prisoners taken were:

Raid Big Distilleries.

While the South Chicago raids were in progress, other dry agents under Administrator Herbert raided five large alcohol distilleries in Lansing, destroying several thousand gallons of alcohol and mash. All the stills were found in bungalows, in one block on Wentworth avenue, south of Monroe street. Louis Melixco, Paul Shudick, Gito Bellealro, and Joseph Sino were arrested.

FERRY UPSETS; 4 DROWN; FAMILY CAUGHT IN AUTO

Westmoreland, N. H., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Four persons, including a baby, drowned when a ferry plying the Connecticut river from East Putney, Vt., to Westmoreland, upset and sank in midstream tonight. There were two automobiles on the ferry.

The drowned were Mr. and Mrs. Kay Austin and their one year old baby, and William Clark, 60, all of Putney, Vt.

The Austin family was trapped in their automobile. Clark was a foot passenger. Two others swam ashore.

Fur Coats—At Lowest Prices in Years

Time was when a good fur coat cost as much as an automobile. Buying a coat made fashionably of a fashionable skin took a good slice of a girl's income for a year—or even a husband's.

How times have changed! Coats of fur can be had in the current August sales by furriers at prices that are not appreciably higher than good cloth coats sold for a year or so ago. Women who thought that they could never afford a fine fur coat now find that the unusual August sale offerings place them well within their means.

In part the present unusual fur prices are due to the larger production of fur bearing animals. In part they are due to the fortunate buying of skins from the trappers early this year. But in large part, the present low fur prices are down due to the desire on the part of Chicago furriers to stimulate sales in August.

FREEMAN AND CITY EDITOR OF NEWS INVOLVED

Check and Letter Found in Files.

Two new disclosures from the safety deposit boxes of Jack Zuta, murdered vice lord and gang leader, were made public last night by Assistant State's Attorneys Charles F. Rathbun and James E. McShane, and Pat Roche, chief investigator for State's Attorney Swanson. They were:

1. A check for $50, uncanceled, made payable to cash and signed by John Craig, city editor of the Chicago Daily News, who, when questioned by the prosecutors, admitted that he had written the check and that Zuta had cashed it. Zuta held the check.

2. A letter on the official stationery of the police department of the city of Evanston, signed "Bill Freeman," in which the writer asked Zuta for a loan of "four C's" ($400). William Freeman, chief of police of Evanston, was questioned and admitted the signature was his.

Craig Admits Check Is His.

The check signed by Craig was dated April 22, 1926. It was written upon a regular check form of the West Town State bank, which was scratched out by Craig, who then wrote on the check the name of the Wilmette State bank.

It appeared from this that the person who took the check from Craig did not present it for payment, and it was found among the secret papers of the gangster, Zuta.

Explanation by Craig.

After the discovery of the check was made public last night, Mr. Craig was asked in an interview to give his explanation of it.

"I was at the Liberty inn, which is at Ashland avenue and Madison street, and I wanted to cash a check," said Craig. "Zuta was there and he agreed to cash it for me, and did.

"After a month or so I noticed the check did not come through the bank, so I inquired about it from Zuta. He said the matter was all right. I replied that I did not do business in that way, and I gave him the cash.

"I asked him for my check and he said he had torn it up."

Mr. Craig was asked how he came to use a check issued by the bank in which Zuta had his account.

"They had the blank checks at the inn," was the reply. "I understand Zuta owns the place, or did own it."

Account Is Investigated.

The state's attorney's investigators had previously inquired at the Wilmette State bank as to whether Craig had an account there, and were informed he never had one. The Daily News city editor explained that the account was in his wife's name, but that the bank had previously honored a number of checks which he had signed with his own name.

Mr. Craig is the superior of Leland H. Reese, gangland reporter for the Daily News, whose name has figured frequently in the investigation of gang crimes following the murder of Alfred Lingle.

It is recalled that Reese revealed for the first time that Julius Rosenheim, murdered by gangsters on Feb. 1, was a paid informant for the Daily News and had regularly supplied Reese with information on the activities of the Chicago gangs. Reese declared he had been reliably informed that Rosenheim was killed in an effort to frighten the News from its campaign against the sale of beer in the loop by the Capone gang, but so far he has not disclosed to the authorities who his "reliable informant" is.

The letter signed by Chief of Police Freeman, on stationery headed "City of Evanston, Illinois, Police Department," was undated. It read as follows:

"Dear Jack: I am temporarily in need of four 'C's' for a couple of months. Can you let me have it? The bearer does not know what it is, so put it in an envelope and seal it and address it to me.

"Your old pal,
"BILL FREEMAN."

"P. S. Will let you know the night of the party, so be sure and come."

When questioned by Rathbun, McShane and Roche, Chief Freeman stated that he did not know Zuta, that he had never met him, and had had no dealings with him. He was then asked to write his signature on a blank sheet of paper and then to write the signature: "Bill Freeman." The sample corresponded with the signature on the Zuta letter.

Then Mr. Rathbun folded up the letter to Zuta so that only Freeman's signature was visible, and upon show-

Freeman Tells of Loan.

Thereupon Mr. Freeman made an explanation of the transaction, which he later repeated in an interview with newspaper men. He said he first met Zuta shortly after he had been given a leave of absence from the Chicago police department and had gone to Evanston to take charge of the department there. This was in the spring of 1927.

Freeman was visibly affected by the disclosures he was required to make, and at first he was in doubt as to whether he ought to say anything publicly. Then he said:

"When I left Chicago and moved to Evanston I had to break a lease on my place in Chicago. The owners held me to the lease and insisted that I pay the rent until they obtained a new tenant. I had no funds to pay it, and they finally sued and obtained a judgment.

"I had to raise the money. I went to a friend of mine and asked him for a loan. He said he didn't have the money, but he knew where I could borrow it. He took me down to the Hotel Sherman and introduced me to Zuta.

Can't Recall Letter.

"Zuta didn't give me the money that day. It is over three years ago and just now I don't remember everything clearly. But I think a couple of days later I called him on the telephone about it. Anyway, I met Zuta at the Sherman again, and he gave me $300 in currency.

"I don't remember ever having written that letter. I don't see how I could write such a letter. I didn't know Zuta and I certainly wouldn't sign it with 'Your old Pal'."

It was suggested to Chief Freeman that he might have sent the letter to Zuta by a messenger, but he declared he couldn't remember it at all.

"Did you ever pay him back?" the chief was asked.

"No, I did not. I called him up some time later, and told him I had $175 for him. He said he would call me back, but he never did."

"Did you ever do any favors for Zuta?"

"No, absolutely no. I never did anything for him. He never asked me to, but I wouldn't have if he did. The city of Evanston is clean as a hound's tooth. There are no gambling dens or speakeasies in the town. Everybody knows that."

Action Up to Bartlett.

Freeman's fate on the Evanston police department rests with Mayor Charles H. Bartlett. The mayor last night was reported on an automobile trip to Colorado, and was last heard from at Radio Springs.

Ald. Herbert S. Simpson, acting chairman of the city council committee, said that the matter was up to the mayor.

"We have always thought well of Bill Freeman in Evanston," Ald. Simpson said, "and we will reserve judgment on him until we get definite information."

It is expected that Mayor Bartlett will cut short his vacation, returning in the next day or two.

Chief Freeman is said to have told Prosecutors Rathbun and McShane that he "might as well quit," and that the Zuta scandal had broken upon him just as he was expecting to be appointed chief of police for the 1933 World's Fair.

New Clews Traced.

The state's attorney's aids stated that other evidence found in Zuta's vaults, some of which further involves public officials, politicians, and others, is under investigation. A list of the names thus far involved includes the following:

William O. Freeman, chief of police of Evanston.

Judge Joseph W. Schulman of the Municipal court.

Louis I. Fisher, attorney for various dog track interests.

George Van Lent, former state senator.

Richard J. Williams, sergeant of police recently assigned to investigation work for Albert R. Brunker, chairman of the civic safety commission.

Definite results from Roche's discovery of the two boxes were being manifested yesterday. Acting Police Commissioner Alcock issued an order transferring the officer personnel of the East Chicago avenue police station. This, it was reported, came as a result of disclosures in the Zuta strong box, which included the baring of the gang's balance sheet, in which two significant items were labeled, "East Chicago, $3,500," indicating that two payments of $3,500 had been made. It was reported that this sum was paid to persons at the East Chicago police station.

Other police actions following the Roche disclosures included renewed activity by Commissioner Alcock's gambling squad, which was sent to raid 24 loop handbook operators.

The state's attorney's assistants yesterday began a systematic checkup of each of the hundreds of documents found in Zuta's hiding places. They prepared to call in all of the politicians, public officials, police officials and others named in the evidence.

Eller Identifies Check.

Former Judge Emanuel Eller, whose signature appeared as an indorsement to one of Zuta's checks for $250, went to the prosecutor's office yesterday and after looking at the check admitted the signature was his own.

"The indorsement on the check looks like my signature," said the former judge, son of Morris Eller, boss of the Twentieth ward and city collector in Mayor Thompson's cabinet. "The check went through my bank, so I suppose it must be mine. The only recollection I have of it is that it was probably a campaign contribution.

"Several friends went out and got campaign funds for me when I was running for Municipal judge in 1922.

"I never received anything from Zuta himself. I knew him by reputation and he had been pointed out to me, but I never had any personal acquaintance with him and he never came to me. I never had any dealings with the man at any time."

Investigate Phone Story.

Published reports that the police had obtained reports of telephone conversations and telegrams exchanged two years ago between Jack Zuta and his lieutenant, Solly Vision, were being investigated yesterday by Mr. Roche.

The reports as published have it appear that Zuta had been banished to New York following the election of State's Attorney Swanson, and that Vision meanwhile was taking care of Zuta's vice, gambling and booze interests. One telegram is quoted, signed "Ike Ginsberg," which is the name of Zuta's uncle, and is a name used by Zuta as an alias, in which Vision is told to get started, and telling him whom to get in touch with.

Then a conversation in which Vision is warned by a policeman to vacate a particular dive, moving it to another locality, and in which the policeman states that an official is "getting sore and is not getting anything," is quoted.

On March 8, 1928, according to the reports, Zuta called Vision and the latter told him Billy Skidmore had been in touch with a high law enforcing official. No names are given in the published reports, which have it that the "high law enforcing official" and Skidmore and "a judge of the Circuit court" and "a west side politician" were to meet the next day to discuss Zuta's case, and to "fix up how much dough you'll have to kick into the campaign before you can come back."

Prosecution May Be Barred.

State's Attorney Swanson expressed the opinion yesterday morning that the statute of limitations will prevent prosecutions arising from the evidence located in the Zuta safe deposit boxes. Practically all of the checks and other documents found in the box bear dates prior to 1927, and it was pointed out by the prosecutor that the statute provides that conspiracy charges must be presented within 18 months after the offense is committed. In felonies, such as bribery, the law allows three years.

Elmer Whitely, supposed to be a bodyguard for Tommy Abbott, Chicago gangster who figured in the assassination of a Rockford bootlegger last week, rushed into the Rockford police station yesterday and declared an autoload of gangsters had tried to assassinate him. The men followed him for 10 miles on the Beloit-Rockford road, Whitely said, and fired from 12 to 15 shots at him. Whitely, Sullivan and one other man were scheduled for a hearing in Rockford on charges of carrying concealed weapons.

Police Transfer Hits Captain and 3 Aids at East Chicago

Capt. Albert Christensen and four lieutenants, three of whom were under his direct command, were moved out of the East Chicago avenue police station yesterday in a transfer order issued by Acting Police Commissioner Alcock. The order shifted two captains, fifteen lieutenants, eight sergeants and ten patrolmen. Commissioner Alcock said the order was for the 'good of the service."

Capt. Christensen was sent to the newly created miscellaneous division which is located in an old police building in North Halsted street. Capt. Michael Delaney was moved to the East Chicago station from the Deering station and Lieut. Maurice Byrne was detailed from the detective bureau to be acting captain at Deering.

Shift 5 Bureau Lieutenants.

The detective bureau loses five lieutenants, two sergeants and nine patrolmen. Two lieutenants and one sergeant, who were working in the commissioner's office are ordered to the district stations.

The four lieutenants transferred from the East Chicago avenue station are William H. Davern to Irving Park; Edward J. Kelly to Fillmore, George de Mar to North Robey street and Joseph H. McGuire to Albany Park. The two lieutenants and one sergeant transferred from the commissioner's office are Michael Woods to Hyde Park, Ernest Mueller to Rogers Park and Thomas Brennan to Rogers Park.

Other Lieutenants Shifted.

The other lieutenants moved in the order, which is effective at 8 o'clock this morning, are William Byrnes, Cottage Grove to East Chicago; Eugene Barry, Stanton avenue to East Chicago; Al Booth, detective bureau to Hyde Park; John McGinnis, detective bureau to East Chicago; Jerry Vaughan, Hyde Park to Cottage Grove; Edward Goggin, Grand Crossing to Stanton avenue; John Treacy, detective bureau to East Side; Michael Golden, Hyde Park to Stanton avenue; and Thomas McGrath, Fillmore to Shakespeare.

"I believe that the lieutenants should be stationed in the districts and I hope to have three at each station, one for each of the three shifts," said Commissioner Alcock. "Sergeants will be placed at the desks in the stations instead of lieutenants or patrolmen."

$55,725 IN REWARDS.

Rewards totaling $55,725 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Alfred Lingle. Of the $25,000 reward offered by The Tribune, $10,000 will be paid to any person who will give confidential information identifying the slayer of Lingle. All information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in room 503 Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

CAPONE'S NAME IS BROUGHT INTO GOVERNOR 'PLOT'

Chicago Girl Held in Jail for Questioning.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—The name of Alphonse (Scarface) Capone, long a Chicago gangster, today was brought into the reputed conspiracy to assassinate Gov. Doyle E. Carlton of Florida in connection with which three men have been arrested.

A girl of 18, blond, and attractive, is held in jail here in connection with the alleged conspiracy, it developed today. She gave her name as Betty Schwartz, 1940 Otto street, Chicago, and intimated that she is affiliated with the Capone gang in Chicago and Miami.

Girl with Eberhardt.

When the three suspects in the case, Fred O. Eberhardt, publisher of the Tallahassee State News; Frank Ralls, former campaigner for Carlton, and Henry Halsema, Jacksonville real estate operator, were taken into custody, Vincent C. Giblin, Miami attorney for Capone, was questioned. He is said to have been in Ralls' company when the latter was arrested. The girl, officers said, was with Eberhardt when he was taken into custody.

Eberhardt and Halsema have been released on $500 bail each. They are scheduled to appear for a preliminary hearing next Monday with Ralls, who still was in jail tonight.

Girl Attacks Jail Matron.

Repeatedly questioned regarding what information she may have in connection with the reported plot, the Schwartz girl finally retorted: "I have lots of information, but try and get it." Questioned further she became so enraged that she attacked the jail matron. Officers, however, placed little credence in her statements.

Questioning of Giblin has been interpreted in some quarters as an effort to inject Capone into the case. On the other hand, however, it is said that the information which started the investigation originally came from Capone sources.

Capone, apprised of the alleged plot, is reported to have said he believed an attempt would be made to make it appear that he was implicated.

Political Plot, He Says.

The warrant on which the three men were arrested charged that the three men with "divers other persons whose names are unknown" plotted to hire some one to slay the governor.

Local authorities, reported to have been aided by the United States secret service agents, said they have been at work on the case for some weeks. While they decline to divulge the nature of their evidence, it is rumored they will attempt to convict the accused trio through the medium of dictaphone records, together with testimony of three witnesses, who it is said will swear efforts were made to hire them to actually commit the crime.

Gov. Carlton is quoted as stating the arrests came as no surprise. It is said he has been aware of the investigation for some time.

MOTHER DOUBTS GIRL'S CLAIMS.

Pretty Betty Schwartz has run afoul of the law before in the course of her eighteen years, her mother admitted yesterday at 1914 Otto street. But her claim to membership in the Capone gang or knowledge of their activities is braggadocio intended to impress the police, she added.

Mrs. Schwartz explained that Betty, at sixteen, was sentenced to the home for wayward girls at Geneva. Afterward she was committed to an asylum in Wisconsin.

EIGHT DIE IN BUS CRASH.

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Eight persons were killed and ten severely injured today when an auto bus crashed through a railing and plunged into the River Elbe near Spindle-Muhle.

CAPT. RUSSELL TAKES CHARGE OF GRESHAM POLICE

Capt. William F. Russell, former commissioner of police, returned to duty yesterday at the end of his furlough and assumed command of the Gresham police station. He takes the place of Capt. James L. Mooney, who is on furlough, and will be given a permanent berth later, according to Acting Police Commissioner Alcock.

Capt. Michael Hughes, also a former commissioner, visited Alcock's office in the city hall yesterday. He left without seeing the commissioner who was out at the time. It has been reported that Hughes would return to active service.

Youth Caught Stealing 'Gas' Shot by Policeman

Attempting to flee after being caught siphoning gasoline from a parked automobile at Albion street and Sacramento avenue, Paul Ott, 16 years old, 5557 North Clark street, was shot in the chest, and an accomplice, James Fahy, 13 years old, 1652 Bryn Mawr avenue, was captured by Policeman Charles Hecht last night. Two other boys, who eluded Hecht, are being sought. Ott, taken to the Rogers Park hospital, was pronounced seriously wounded.

15 Handbooks Raided in Loop by Vice Squad

Fifteen handbooks located in or near the loop district were raided yesterday by the vice and gambling squad under Capt. George O'Connor, who works out of the office of Acting Police Commissioner Alcock. Forty persons were locked up at the South State street station.

Dry Chief Starts Action to Fire Golding, the Hardboiled

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock disclosed today that he has suspended and taken steps toward the dismissal of George E. ["Hardboiled"] Golding, former special dry agent at Chicago and more recently special agent at Albany, N. Y., as the result of an inquiry into charges made by girl stenographers in his office.

Mr. Woodcock at the same time announced the temporary suspensions of two other dry agents, one in Washington and another in Milwaukee, for personal altercations with motorists on the highways, explaining that they had violated his new code that enforcement officials must "act like gentlemen."

Punishment of the three agents, although not severe in the two cases, Mr. Woodcock explained, is evidence that he "means business" in his program of raising the personnel standards of the prohibition bureau and a warning that further infractions of his orders will not be tolerated.

Suspended After Complaints.

The prohibition director said he received complaints from Albany about July 15 and immediately gave Golding an "involuntary vacation." Careful investigation subsequently, he said, brought out facts sufficient to warrant bringing his case before the civil service commission trial board. This, in effect, is asking his dismissal. The trial will be conducted at an early date, it was indicated.

Golding, as former agent in Chicago, earned the title of "Hardboiled" because of his tactics in handling investigations and arrests. He was transferred from Chicago Sept. 10, 1928, following a shooting affair which aroused wide publicity, and sent to Albany where from time to time he has been involved in further publicity.

The temporary suspensions announced by Director Woodcock today were those of Agent Basil Quinn, attached to headquarters here, and Agent Robert F. Myrtle of Milwaukee. Both were suspended for five days without pay.

Myrtle, on July 29, after a traffic mixup in Milwaukee, left his automobile and attempted to arrest William A. French, according to the director. When French asked the agent for his authority, Myrtle drew a revolver and pointed it at French, with the remark that the weapon was his authority.

Quinn's suspension was for striking Thomas E. Quinlan during an argument over right of way on July 16 near Washington.

"I want it clearly understood among my agents that I shall not stand for these sorts of things," Woodcock declared.

"One thing I am determined to do, if nothing else. That is to remove the public friction in the enforcement of this prohibition law."

Later Actions Praised.

According to the director, investigating agents on Aug. 7 found a big still operating in Prince Georges county, near Beltsville, Md. While several officers in the party went for dynamite to destroy the still, McCartney and Thompson were left on guard. Near midnight they were fired upon but held their ground until the dynamite party returned to relieve them.

"McCartney was one of the officers I recently suspended for searching a Maryland motorist," Woodcock continued. "Now he has distinguished himself so I believe my methods are obtaining results. I propose to continue to reward such men whenever they display their efficiency and bravery."

Superior Opposed Action.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—W. Frank Cunningham, who is dry agent R. F. Merkle's superior officer, refused to comment today when the order suspending Merkle was received from Washington. When it became known two weeks ago that the dry agent had been guilty of using his revolver as a persuasive measure, Mr. Cunningham said he saw no need for disciplinary action.

ASK POLICE HERE TO HUNT STOLEN BRITISH CANVAS

A portrait of the first Lady Minto, executed 150 years ago by the great English painter, Sir Joshua Reynolds, and valued at $150,000, may be knocking about an illicit art market in Chicago.

An agent of Toplis and Harding, insurance agents holding a theft policy on the portrait, informed Police Commissioner Alcock by letter yesterday that the picture had been stolen Aug. 1 from the London house of the earl of Minto, descendant of the portrayed lady.

Enclosed with the letter was a photograph of the painting and a full description of its coloring. The letter suggested the photograph be placed on file and detectives be instructed to be on the watch for it.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

An unidentified man about 30 years old was killed last night when he fell or jumped in front of a westbound Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad train while walking on the tracks between Parkside and Central avenues.

The gleaming golds, the brilliant reds, blues, greens of ancient Russian costumes will be Gary's contribution to the Chicagoland music festival at Soldiers' field next Saturday night. It is the choir from St. Mary's Russian Orthodox church, and it easily won first place in the Steel City's preliminary contests sponsored by the Post-Tribune.

There is an enormous fascination about Russian singers and Russian songs, songs which, by the way, St. Mary's chorus will sing when it appears in the final contest here on Friday. Technicians among composers, the wise ones of the music studios, have sought to analyze them, but there is something of the soil in them, tears and laughter of the people, that cannot be imitated. And when Russians sing them, the thunderous hum of the deep basses, deep as great organ pipes, makes the foundation upon which is built heart touching melody.

Pick Chicago Winners.

Chicago sopranos and contraltos were given their final contest at the Oriental theater last night, and at the conclusion of the evening the judges unanimously nominated Miss Agatha Lewis, soprano, of 8247 Carpenter street, and Mrs. Esther Jane Stone, contralto, of 4620 Dickens avenue, as the Chicago candidates to meet the sopranos and contraltos of Chicagoland who will come here later in the week.

Miss Lewis, who about three weeks ago took a leading part in the performance of "The Mikado" at Ravinia, sang the pretty Gavotte from Massenet's opera, "Manon," and Mrs. Stone, preferring music of a more serious nature, appeared in Verdi's "O Don Fatale." The other candidates were Tana Greenwood, Ruth Clare Dennen, and Bernice Alexander, sopranos, and Florence Anderson, Edna Moe, and Mrs. Rose Nutter, contraltos. All were introduced with friendly jest by Harry Rose, master of ceremonies of the Oriental theater. The judges were Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler, Carl E. Craven, Earl Hathaway, and Mrs. Louise Gilbert.

In addition to Gary furnishing a Russian chorus, one of the members of the chorus, Seraphim Strelkoff, is the city's entry in the solo baritone division. A steel worker, blond and gaunt, he is reported as having won high praise from Charles Lutton of Evanston, who judged the event.

The Steel City is sending many other candidates, among them the women's chorus of the Crown Point American Legion auxiliary, a second place winner in the Legion convention last year; the Steel City male quartet; the Duranleau saxophone sextet; another baritone, Axel Tranberg among the soloists, and of other soloists Violet Tait-Smith and Zuteime Koontz, sopranos; R. Paul Smith, tenor; Basil M. Ray and Owen Seitz, trombone; Roy Britton and Charles Magurean, cornet; and Lawrence Russell and Margaret Britton, saxophone.

Joyce's Widow Tells About Mystery Calls at Inquest

State Senator John T. Joyce died of poisoning under mysterious circumstances Saturday, but an inquest yesterday into his death did not disclose if he had been murdered or was the victim of tainted food or beverages. This cannot be determined, Coroner Bundesen said, until a chemical analysis of the body contents is complete—perhaps in a week's time.

The inquest, however, did reveal that on Friday afternoon and early Saturday, before the senator's death, Mrs. Joyce received several telephone calls which indicated a knowledge on the part of the callers that Joyce had not long to live.

Coroner Tracing Calls.

The coroner is now tracing these calls, he said last night, particularly one received about 10:30 a. m. Saturday, shortly before Joyce cried out from his bed and died.

In her testimony at Shute's undertaking rooms, 716 North State street, scene of the inquest, Mrs. Joyce described the call as follows: "A voice asked if the senator was there," she said, "and I said he had just stepped out, not wishing to wake him. The voice said: 'Are you sure he stepped out?' and hung up."

"Perhaps fifteen minutes later, my husband cried out from his bedroom. I rushed to him but he was dying then, he couldn't talk. He just looked at me a moment—then he died." The witness broke down at that point and could not continue her testimony.

When she regained her composure, she described three phone calls Friday afternoon when different voices, all male, asked her if she knew that her husband was dead. Each hung up after refusing to tell her their names, she said.

Mention Assistant Prosecutor.

Another witness, Mike Dooman, 1039 North Clark street, a friend of Senator Joyce, said he was standing with Joyce at Chicago avenue and Clark street Friday evening about 9 o'clock. "A big Cadillac drove west on Chicago avenue and slowed as it passed us," Dooman said. "Joyce said, 'There goes Assistant State's Attorney Harry Busch.'"

After the inquest, which was continued indefinitely to give time for the analysis, Busch denied that he had been in the neighborhood Friday night.

Funeral services for Senator Joyce will be conducted tomorrow morning at Holy Name cathedral with burial at All Saints cemetery.

Dixie Mob Lynches Negro Accused of Raping Girls

Tarboro, N. C., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Sheriff W. E. Bardin said today that Oliver Moore, Negro charged with raping two young white girls, was taken from the Edgecombe county jail by a mob of 200 masked men and lynched.

300 WEST POINT CADETS JOIN HUNT FOR N. Y. RAPIST

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—More than three hundred and fifty policemen, deputy sheriffs, marines, and West Point cadets searched the woods through the Interstate park today in a man hunt that tonight had lasted more than twelve hours with the quarry still eluding the posse.

The searchers were concentrating on the section of densely wooded land where Harriman park and Bear mountain meet, as the probable hiding place of a man who kidnaped a girl from a tent in a girl's camp early today, raped her, but later allowed her to return.

The fugitive, described as William Horner of the Bronx, escaped from police headquarters at Stony Point at 4 a. m. today after being captured by state troopers.

Maj. William E. Welsh, commanding the Interstate park police, called upon the police of Haverstraw, Central Valley, Highland Falls, the state troopers and the sheriffs of Rockland and Orange counties for aid, and a cordon was thrown around the parks while posses took up the search through the woods.

The plebe class of 300 cadets from West Point, arriving under Col. R. C. Richardson to camp at the northern end of the Interstate park, shortly before noon was notified and agreed to cooperate in the hunt. They carry infantry equipment including Springfield rifles. A detachment of marines from Ionia island naval arsenal also joined in the search.

COUPLE ROBBED OF $1,600.

Jack Parvin, owner of the Admiral Cleaners and Dyers plant at 4053 Broadway and his wife were held up and robbed of $1,600 in cash and jewelry early yesterday at Magnolia avenue and Argyle street while they were on their way to their home at 4900 Janssen avenue.

Second Robber Shot by Cop in Cafe Holdup Dies

Lester Burnett, 21 years old, 1745 North Artesian avenue, who was shot by Detective Edward Lynn when Burnett with two others attempted a holdup of a restaurant at 509 North Franklin street last Friday night, died of his wounds yesterday at the Bridewell hospital. A companion, Louis Kainz, 19 years old, 1743 North Artesian avenue, was killed outright by a bullett from Lynn's gun. A third member of the gang escaped.

Confesses Faking Story of Torture by Bandits

Andrew Yarc of North Chicago, who reported on Saturday that he had been kidnaped, tortured, and robbed of $750 he had saved for his honeymoon, confessed yesterday to Chief of Police Frank Tiffany of North Chicago that he had fabricated the story as an alibi. "I told my girl I had it, and I was afraid she wouldn't marry me if she learned I was lying," he said. The girl is Anna Koniecna of North Chicago. She had nothing to say last night.

OLE MAN RIVER'S NAME IS MUD IN QUINCY REGION

Mighty Mississippi Is on the Shrink.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Ole Man River is dawdling along, leaving a dusty trail of sandbars. Levees are high and dry, boat landings are three jumps from the water, the shore lines have receded until on the Missouri side the dry land in spots extends half a mile into the bed of the river.

At Quincy the Mississippi is only 1.7 feet above the official low water mark and packets of light draft, almost "light enough to sail over a cornfield on the dew," scrape and bump as they make their occasional way along the river.

Creeks have run dry, in places highway fords across rivulets are dusty and the automobilist rattles over many bridges that span nothing but dried mud, sand, and rocks.

"Swamp Farmers" Happy.

One result of the drought seems to have been a reversal of status between the corn growers on the low lands and those on the high lands. Farmers in the river bottoms, who in other years have been "caught between hell and high water," appear to have pretty good corn crop prospects, generally speaking, but on the higher ground the drought worked damage. Flood sufferers of a few years ago are in better shape than farmers who never had a field washed out by high water.

This expedition in the last two days has followed the water courses down the Des Plaines and Illinois river valley from Joliet to Beardstown, then across to the Mississippi at Quincy and southward. Towns on the Illinois river from Joliet to La Salle, the route of the Illinois waterway, where low water and reduced diversion from Lake Michigan created a sewage nuisance that threatened health, talked of the improvement looked for from the increase in diversion from Lake Michigan from 6,000 to 12,000 cubic second feet.

Forgotten Snags Reappear.

The river is so low at Peoria that the steamer Idlewild was recently stranded on Towhead island opposite the Ivy club, and three hundred couples, out for an excursion, had to be taken off in boats.

The Duck Island Hunting club, the oldest near Peoria—it dates back to 1885—has had its own drought and hot weather problem. Pond Lily lake, down the river, which is part of the club's preserve, shrank to about one-tenth its normal size. Mud flats dried on the shore, with cracks a foot or two deep, and a half a million pounds of fish were at the last gasp. Some of them were caked in the mud. About 200 yards of dry land cut the lake off from the river, and the club, to save the fish, dug a ditch and put in two gasoline pumps which have been throwing 1,500 gallons of water a minute at the dying fish.

Fish Become Fertilizer.

In some sections farmers are reported to have been gathering dead carp from the sun caked shoals and throwing them on the land for fertilizer.

Around Peoria the corn crop has suffered about a 50 per cent depreciation, according to the report to President Hoover. Farmers along the route said the wheat was better than average, also oats. Much pasturage has dried, and many a clover field appears to have been sun cured in the heat wave.

Houseboats are high on stilts at Pekin, and grass is growing in spaces in the river bed which have not been uncovered for years. In the river bottoms, which run wide between the bluffs, corn is growing lush and green, with here and there a skimpy field burned up to its hips. The drought has been so prolonged that even in the bottoms the pasturage is yellow in many spots. The fishing is good, and Sunday brought out automobile loads along the river.

Peoria Dry Since April.

Copperas Creek, near Banner, is almost dry, and at Lewistown and Peoria the last good rain was April 20, and they speak of it almost as Noah's deluge. Since Jan. 1 the rainfall has been 8 inches below normal, while the drought turned on the heat to the total tune of 575 degrees above normal.

Havana, one of the river towns usually in the public prints in flood times, now looks out over a stream studded with islands and sand flats that perhaps were unknown to the mound builders when they did their stuff between Lewistown and Havana to give tourists of 1930 an archæological thrill. Everybody speaks of the fishing, which they say is unusually good—croppie, carp, channel cat, and now and then a bass.

At the fish market, which is now far below normal water line, an old riverman, however, complained: "The fish taste muddy. Not enough water to keep them good—but anyhow the consumers don't know the difference."

At Beardstown, where a few years ago in flood times the first stories of buildings were under water and rowboats and launches plied the streets, ferrying business men from home to office, expanses of dried mud and sand greet the eyes where once was river.

Farmers sat on the new concrete seawall yesterday and spoke of the corn. Men with bottom lands, which in flood years had been drowned out, now speak of the prospects of crops that may run 60 per cent higher than the expected yield. In some of the far bottom lands, reclaimed by drainage, early prospects were for 90 bushels and more an acre. With the advance in prices, some of the raisers said they stand to more than offset the deterioration by drought.

The general attitude is that the river counties are not so hard hit as central Illinois and Egypt. Little complaining is heard as one talks with the farmers along the route.

ILLINOIS DROUGHT SUFFERERS WILL GET STATE AID

Governor Asks Traylor, Hurley to Assist.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Drought stricken farmers of Illinois were promised the aid of the state government by Gov. Louis L. Emmerson and other state officers and department directors at a conference today.

Acting on suggestions of President Hoover for the relief of middle west farmers, Gov. Emmerson appointed a commission to determine just how far and in what manner the state can aid agriculture in getting back to a firm basis. The group also will coöperate with federal relief efforts.

State Director of Agriculture Stuart E. Pierson, who was appointed to the commission, will be the official link between the group and the state government.

Members on Commission.

Melvin A. Traylor, 38 South Dearborn street, Chicago.

E. N. Hurley, former chairman of the United States shipping board, Chicago;

L. A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central railroad, Chicago;

Harvey J. Sconce, Sidell, farmer;

Julius Postel, Mascoutah, miller and farmer, and John M. Grebs, Champaign farmer, banker, and representative of the Red Cross.

Form General Plans.

This committee soon will hold a meeting at which subcommittees will be named. General plans for drought relief also will be formed by the commission.

At the conference this morning, Director of Public Works and Buildings H. H. Cleaveland reported $6,000,000 of road work is already under contract in the drought areas. An emergency road building program of $4,000,000 more for these areas will be awarded on Sept. 10.

Director Cleaveland said all contractors have been advised to draw their laborers from the sections in which the construction work is being done. The state highway department also has directed the contractors to make allowances for an adequate wage scale in all bids.

New York Girl Is Found Poisoned in Hotel Room

Miss Margie Augermier, 20 years old, 39 East 85th street, New York, was ill last night in the Illinois Central hospital, after she had taken poison in a room at the Stevens hotel. Miss Augermier, who was said to be a social secretary in New York, had not regained consciousness last night.

Hotel attendants said the girl with two men companions came to the hotel early in the morning and was escorted to her room by them. State street police started a search for the two men.

Weather Man Beats Government Relief to Drought District; U. S. Plans Go Ahead

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Prospects for the relief of farmers in the drought stricken areas appeared brighter today.

Following a conference with President Hoover this afternoon, Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde declared that "the weather man has come through in fine shape and we have now turned the corner so far as continuance of the drought is concerned." At the same time he said that the federal relief committee will be organized before the end of the week and ready to deal with the state committees, several of which already are in action.

John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, told the President that only fifty requests for aid had reached his organization so far, and that but thirty of these involved actual human suffering.

Food Profiteering Denied.

Other developments during the day of importance in the drought situation included a report by the department of agriculture showing that there is little evidence to bear out charges of profiteering on foodstuffs in the cities and another indicating that shipments of produce are almost normal. The department of agriculture announced that it had forwarded to the American Railway association a list of counties in Illinois, Missouri, and Arkansas in which special half freight rates on feed and live stock would be put into effect.

Returning from a week-end trip to his Rapidan camp, President Hoover continued to keep in close touch with the drought program. In addition to seeing Mr. Payne and Secretary Hyde he went over messages from governors who are coöperating in the program. The President was said to have been particularly pleased with the weather reports, showing continued rains over wide areas in the last twenty-four hours.

Forecasts predicted rain tonight or tomorrow for the eastern and central portions of Kansas, Nebraska, and Oklahoma, northern Arkansas, south and west portions of Minnesota, all of North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, and Missouri, and in portions of Kentucky and Tennessee.

Coöperate with States.

The President indicated that Secretary Hyde would be chairman of the federal relief committee, which also will probably include Mr. Payne, Chairman Alexander Legge of the federal farm board, and Paul Bestor, commissioner of the farm loan board.

Virginia was the first state with a committee actively operating. The Virginia committee, comprising former Gov. Harry F. Byrd, chairman; Frederick W. Scott, Richmond banker, and John R. Hutcheson of the Virginia Polytechnic institute, visited Washington today, conferring with both Mr. Hyde and Mr. Legge. Mr. Byrd estimated the drought damage in his state at close to 100 million dollars, adding that 600,000 tons of hay and 85 million bushels of corn have been lost.

One of the Virginia proposals was that seed and feed loans be made by the government to farmers in need. This plan was vetoed by Secretary Hyde, however, who said such loans would require a congressional appropriation. The Virginians were advised to set about establishing a credit corporation through which the federal intermediate credit banks might advance funds.

The department of agriculture's reports today did much to dissipate the belief that wholesale foodstuffs profiteering followed the drought. Retail prices of fresh product in larger cities markets "have not been seriously affected by the drought, because the shortage in local produce has been met by shipments from a distance," one report stated, while the other asserted that rail shipments of leading fruits and vegetables were "well sustained," throughout the country over the week-end and "showed only seasonal fluctuations in shipments of individual products."

Counties in Illinois certified by the department for special drought freight rates were Alexander, Clay, Crawford, Edwards, Fayette, Franklin, Gallatin, Hamilton, Hardin, Jackson, Jefferson, Jersey, Johnson, Lawrence, Madison, Marion, Massac, Monroe, Perry, Pope, Pulaski, Randolph, Richland, St. Clair, Saline, Union, Wabash, Washington, Wayne, White, and Williamson.

MARSHALL FIELD WEDS MRS. COATS, LONDON HEIRESS

Bridal Couple Eludes Crowd in Chase.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—Marshall Field III., 26 years old, grandson of the famous Chicago merchant, and Mrs. Dudley Coats, 28, beautiful London social leader, were married here today. An escape up an alley from a crowd of society acquaintances and a cropped ring as the vicar was about to pronounce the blessing were the chief incidents of the wedding.

The young Chicagoan, heir to the Marshall Field millions, and his bride, popular friend of the prince of Wales and heiress through her soldier-husband's death to one of many fortunes built up by the English thread manufacturing firm of that name, motored to the Marylebone registry at 8:30 a. m.

Friends Pursue Bridal Couple.

There were several chases up and down London streets with Mr. Field and Mrs. Coats at the head of a parade of automobiles before the legal formalities and the church benediction was pronounced at the ancient church of St. Ethelburga shortly after noon.

Both ceremonies, featured by their brevity, together lasted only twenty minutes. The registry ceremony was the simplest. Accompanied by only a small group of friends, the couple slipped in through a side door, which was locked behind them. The sidewalk was soon packed and the pair left by the rear, fleeing through alleys until a taxicab whisked them off to a wedding breakfast.

The wedding in the Gothic church attracted a second throng. The church entrance was banked with flowers and a truck load was hauled away to allow the wedding principals to enter. Dr. Oelke-Cobb, the vicar, had completed his questions and Capt. Edmondson, the best man, stepped up with the ring, when it dropped to the floor in the exchange. Mr. Field picked it up and placed it on the finger of the bride.

"Bobbies" Hold Crowd Back.

A line of London "bobbies" held the crowd back at the sidewalk, while Mr. and Mrs. Field sped away in an automobile.

The new Mrs. Field wore a blue crepe de chine coat and skirt, white slippers and stockings, and a white tam o'shanter for the civil ceremony. She changed to a costume of blue georgette with blue hat and navy blue suede shoes for the church services. Mr. Field was clad in a blue lounge suit and soft hat.

Only a half dozen friends were present. Among them were William Rollo, Mrs. Alexander Faucus, Mrs. Margaret Brassey, and Edward F. James, youngest brother of the bride, who before her first marriage was Audrey James, daughter of Mrs. William James, prominent London hostess.

Plan Aerial Honeymoon.

The couple will leave on an aerial honeymoon in Mr. Field's amphibian airplane. A hunting trip to Africa is planned. There is a possibility they may take up their residence in Chicago in midwinter.

Marshall Field arrived in England last Thursday and was met by his fiancée, Mrs. Evelyn Marshall Field, daughter of Mrs. Charles H. Marshall of New York and London, divorced her husband in Reno on Aug. 4. They were married Feb. 6, 1915.

The new Mrs. Field was married to Capt. Coats, an officer of the Scots Guards, in 1922. He was 29 years old when he died in Cannes, France, in 1927.

The fact that the religious ceremony in a Church of England was performed despite the recent recommendation of the Lambeth conference in session here that marriage of a divorced person should not be celebrated according to the rites of the church, caused considerable speculation here tonight as to whether the vicar would be rebuked by higher church officials. Mr. Field's mother was a Roman Catholic and he was reared in that church.

GEORGE E. COLE, VOTERS' LEAGUE LEADER, IS DEAD

Civic Campaign Chieftain Passes at 85.

George E. Cole died yesterday at the age of 85 after 40 years of leadership in Chicago in the fight for the betterment of city, county and state governments, and of constant attack on corrupt politicians. He began his career as a fighter by enlisting in the 10th Michigan volunteers in 1863 and carrying a musket as Private Cole until the end of the civil war.

Mr. Cole was known in Chicago as the first president and one of the organizers of the Municipal Voters' league, through which he waged war on the "gray wolves" of the city council, then as president of the Citizens' association, and later as president of the Legislative Voters' league. In private business he was a stationer and printer, head of George E. Cole & Co., which upon his retirement became Horder & Co.

Named Head of M. V. L.

He was elected president of the M. V. L. in 1896 and a few years later a biography of him said:

"When the famous citizens' committee completed plans for making the league a power for civic honor they sought a leader, a man of superb courage, one that could not be contaminated, primed with fearless loyalty to the cause of the people. George E. Cole was selected. He proved true. In the hearts of honest men he is endeared for the good work he has accomplished. They love him for the enemies he has made.

"Boodlers and bribers fear this little giant of reform. He is an organizer. The people are with him. He was not a dress parade soldier in the war, and he is now fighting under the flag of municipal honor and the memory of his deeds will be imperishable in the history of Chicago."

Declines Prohibition Nomination.

Mr. Cole never ceased his activities in behalf of honest government. Less than six months ago he urged the calling of a constitutional convention to modernize the tax laws, reapportion the state, adopt a short ballot, unify local governments in Cook county, consolidate the courts and bring about many other changes.

In 1910 the prohibition party nominated him for state treasurer and he declined, saying: "I have never been a prohibitionist and never intend to be."

He lived at the Union League club until a month ago when he was taken ill and since then he has been at the North Shore health resort at Winnetka. He is survived by a son, Monroe Cole, and a grandson, George E. Cole, who live in Winnetka. Plans for the funeral are to be announced later.

SUICIDE TO END SUFFERING WINS DEAN INGE'S O. K.

Would Permit Criminals to Take Own Lives.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—"I would not censure a man, who, knowing he was dying slowly of an agonizing disease, wishes to shorten his life sufferings."

This was the answer to the condemnation of suicide by traditional Christian ethics delivered by Dean Ralph Inge of St. Paul's, known as London's "gloomy dean," in his presidential address at the modern churchmen's conference at Oxford tonight. Ethics of birth control, sexual morality, and the present day revolt against "Mrs. Grundy" were some of the current problems dealt with by the dean outspokenly and provocatively.

"Let Criminal Decide Own Death."

"Every criminal condemned to death ought to be allowed to carry out the sentence upon himself in his own way," Dean Inge said in referring to pardonable suicide.

Contrasting the Victorian age with today the churchman declared that the present generation had revolted against the rule of "Mrs. Grundy," particularly since the war.

"It is realized that the facts today are very different from the Victorian conventions, which were only kept up with the help of a vast amount of hypocrisy," he said. "Many people of the present day do not admit there is anything necessarily contaminating in uncontrolled union. They attempt to dignify lust by calling it love, arguing that, if a married man or woman feels a physical attraction to a person other than his or her legal mate, 'love' should rule and give dispensation to all earlier vows."

Attacks Illicit Relations.

Dean Inge characterized this as repulsive, declaring: "The true Christian idea is that for a man or woman to break this most solemn contract is an exceptionally disgraceful act, which no decent person should seriously attempt to commit."

"We cannot prevent new knowledge from being used by unmarried persons and selfish couples, who do not wish to have children. Some method of checking the natural growth of numbers beyond a means of subsistence has nearly always been practiced everywhere. It is useless to discuss morality and birth control apart from these considerations."

New York Takes Whistles from Traffic Policemen

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Hereafter signal lights alone will keep New York's traffic moving. Police Commissioner Mulrooney today silenced the traffic patrolman's whistle for good.

Following suggestions that they were noisy and unnecessary, the commissioner ordered the whistles silenced for a week's experiment.

The letters of appreciation he received from pedestrians and motorists, coupled with the fact that traffic kept moving, made him decide today to abandon the whistle altogether.

COUNTY BOARD LETS HIGHWAY CONTRACTS TOTALING $281,967

Contracts for four highway projects calling for 7.8 miles of pavement at a total cost of $281,967 were awarded yesterday by the county board. Bids on seven new projects were ordered and will be opened next Monday.

Jobs on which contracts were awarded follow:

POTTER ROAD, Busse highway to Ballard road, 1.1 miles.

SOUTHWEST HIGHWAY, 111th street to Ridgeland avenue, 2.1 miles.

Bids for the paving of Touhy avenue from Lincoln avenue to McCormick road and Madison street from the Des Plaines river to Lathrop avenue in River Forest were rejected and will be readvertised. The county will open bids on Monday on the following projects:

BURNHAM AVENUE AND AVENUE O, 130th street to Chicago Terminal railroad tracks, 1.1 miles.

Commissioner Busse, chairman of the road and bridge committee, submitted a report purporting to show that the county's paving work is being done at less cost than that of the state highway department, despite the fact that the latter's projects are of greater mileage.

POLICE CAPTURE KILLER WITH AID OF TEAR BOMBS

A waiter in a restaurant at 569 West Madison street was shot to death yesterday by a rum crazed patron after an argument over the amount of his check. The slayer was captured by the use of tear gas bombs after fifty policemen, summoned by radio, surrounded the place.

The slain victim was Isadore Brotkin, 43 years old, 3350 Evergreen avenue. The slayer gave his name as George Hoffmann, 39 years old, of Eagle River, Wis.

Detectives Thomas McLaughlin and John Kucifer of the Des Plaines street station heard the shots and guarded the front and rear entrances of the restaurant. A crowd gathered as police squads began to arrive with tear bombs and machine guns. After the restaurant was filled with the gas, police entered and found Hoffmann slumped in a corner.

$25,000 Blaze Sweeps Milwaukee Ave. Block

Fire of undetermined origin swept the triangular business block at 3007-11 Milwaukee avenue at the corner of Ridgeway avenue early this morning, damaging the interior of a dance hall and offices of professional men on the second floor. The blaze, for which a 3-11 alarm was sounded, attracted about 2,500 spectators. The loss was estimated at $25,000.

BRITISH LINER SINKS; AMERICAN SHIP SAVES 317

All Picked Up at Sea Without Accident.

BULLETIN.

PAGOPAGO, Tutuila, Aug. 19 [Tuesday]. —(AP)— The Matson liner Ventura arrived here at 1 p. m. today [5 p. m. Monday, Chicago daylight savings time] with all passengers and crew of the sunken steamship Tahiti. One hundred and sixty-five of the 317 persons rescued will disembark. The remainder will continue to San Francisco. Those landing here are the 149 members of the crew, including four stewardesses, and sixteen passengers, including eight women and one child.

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The British steamer Tahiti, which had been in distress three days, went down in the south Pacific today after her 317 occupants—passengers and crew—were safely aboard the American steamer Ventura.

The Ventura immediately headed for Pago Pago, the American naval base in Samoa, to discharge its island passengers. Then it will go to San Francisco to land the Americans and Europeans.

After leaving Wellington for San Francisco, due there Aug. 29, the Tahiti lost its starboard propeller and sprank a leak about 460 miles east of Rarotonga, Cook islands. While the wireless sent out calls for aid and ships in those waters raced to the position, the large vessel drifted about 60 miles with a strong current before other ships came up.

Passengers Take to Boats.

The Penybryn, a Norwegian freighter, was the first to reach the disabled vessel, but passengers were not evacuated to it because of the limited accommodations, while no immediate danger threatened.

Today the Ventura, which had raced hundreds of miles to aid the Tahiti, arrived alongside at 9:30 a. m. (local time) or 6:30 p. m. Sunday (Chicago daylight time) just as a bulkhead gave way and the passengers began taking to lifeboats.

The 175 passengers first were launched upon the heaving ocean, and although they were endangered in the heavy swell and by an approaching storm they were picked up by the Ventura without accident.

Meanwhile, the ship was listing badly, but the 142 officers and men remained aboard, pumping desperately to keep her afloat. Eventually they were forced to launch boats and go to the Ventura.

Six Bags of Mail Lost.

The mails aboard the Tahiti suffered somewhat. Six bags of letters were lost during the transfer to the Ventura and all newspapers and parcels went down. About 50 other bags were water soaked, but were saved.

When the Tahiti called for assistance, ships over the south seas sped in her direction. The Penybryn was the first to arrive, and, although the Tahiti's officers preferred to wait for the more commodious Ventura, the freighter stood valiantly by all night. Among others which headed for the stricken ship was the Antinous of the United States shipping board.

BLOT OUT WAR, J. J. DAVIS TELLS VETERANS OF '98

Addresses Thousands at Encampment.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis told the delegates to the 32d annual encampment of the United Spanish war veterans today that if the decision was left to the men who had been on the firing line there would never again be an armed conflict.

Mr. Davis spoke at a union patriotic meeting at Independence hall, a feature of the opening day of the encampment. He urged the veterans and members of two score other patriotic organizations to exert their influence for peace.

Preach Doctrine of Peace.

Several thousand veterans from all sections of the country and members of auxiliary organizations heard the addresses from seats under the trees around the historic shrine.

"I never met a man who had faced death on the battlefield," Secretary Davis said, "who was not in favor of wiping out war forever. War veterans are a powerful force among us and I hope you preach the doctrine of peace wherever you are.

"We are never going to allow our country to be invaded or conquered. Depend upon the American people to see to that by adequate preparation for any emergency. But our business should be to wipe out these emergencies, and we can do so by pursuing the old American doctrine of going our way without harm to any one. When the peoples of the world are filled with the same spirit, we shall have peace. And I believe we are headed in that direction."

Coöperation of Business.

Mr. Davis, the Republican nominee for United States senator from Pennsylvania, who was a volunteer when the war with Spain started said that peace was made more certain by the "bonds of trade which are riveting the nations tighter together in the common coöperation of business."

UTAH EGG MEN SAY NEW YORK BOYCOTTS THEM

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—State officials investigating rising food prices were told today that because the "regular setup" in the egg market was threatened when the Utah Poultry Producers' association began selling to retailers, thus passing the jobbers' profit along to the consumer, the Utah organization has been picketed and boycotted.

Benjamin Brown, director of markets for the Utah association, testified that after he contracted with the Jewish Grocers' association to furnish a carload of Utah eggs a day representatives of a jobbers' association warned him he was spoiling the "regular setup" and jobbers' truckmen began picketing his place of business.

This picketing, it was said, took the form of threatening other truckmen who wanted to deal with the Utah association and one truckman, Anthony Protano, told of his tires being punctured with an ice pick while he was getting a load of Utah eggs.

The World's Busiest Corner Will Be Busier Than Ever Now!

It was inevitable! The world's busiest corner demanded one of the world's best lunch rooms. So now, Pixley and Ehlers open their twelfth Chicago restaurant at 33 WEST MADISON STREET, bringing to the busiest business district the famous Boston baked beans, flaky-crust, juicy pies, the original P. & E. 20c breakfast Special, besides many other favorites.

For 30 years Pixley and Ehlers have offered "a few things served well" . . . and quickly! Yet when we look back through the years to that first tiny place on West Madison Street, the only change is in the luxury of the surroundings—special dining room for the ladies, modern soda fountain, a cooling system which washes and chills the air to 70°. Despite these elaborate additions, the slogan that built this business is still its keynote. Pedigreed products, the finest money can buy—cleanliness—quick, courteous service—moderate prices—"a lot for a little"—brings over 10 million Chicagoans through our doors yearly. Truly, now, the world's busiest corner will be busier than ever!

REOPENS SWIFT DEATH QUIZ IN N. Y. TOMORROW

Medical Examiner Hints at Accident.

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Apparent discrepancies in accounts of the death by a gunshot wound of William E. Swift, son of Louis F. Swift, Chicago packer, in the sanitarium of Dr. Edward S. Cowles, 591 Park avenue, Saturday night, caused Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, to reopen the investigation today.

A hearing will be conducted in Dr. Norris' office Wednesday. He issued subpoenas for Dr. Cowles, Rudolph Heitmanek, the nurse who was attending Mr. Swift, and detectives who investigated the case.

Dr. Norris' first step was to perform a second and more complete autopsy on the body as it lay in the funeral chapel just before it was taken to Chicago for burial. He said he was not inclined to differ with the judgment of suicide, but wanted a thorough investigation made and all points cleared up.

Brother Comes for Body.

Alden Swift, a brother, arrived to take the body to Chicago, and it was dressed in readiness for the funeral. Meanwhile, Dr. Norris went to the chapel and performed an autopsy. Then the body was again prepared for burial and was taken west on the Twentieth Century.

The brain and other organs were removed and turned over to the city toxicologist for chemical examination. This will be to determine whether there were any drugs or poisons in the system.

A previous autopsy was performed by Dr. Robert C. Fisher, assistant medical examiner. In this Dr. Fisher removed only the liver and examined it for traces of alcohol. He found no trace of alcohol. Dr. Norris expressed surprise at this, in view of reports that Mr. Swift had been suffering from alcoholism.

Reports of Struggle.

Dr. Norris intimated he might inquire into the possibility that Mr. Swift might have been shot accidentally in the course of a struggle to take away the pistol with which it has been testified he had armed himself well in advance of his death.

The medical examiner particularly was concerned about the haziness of the available information on events at the sanitarium immediately preceding Swift's death. There appeared to be two versions of Heitmanek's whereabouts at the time of the death, he said. One was that Heitmanek was in the room when the shot was fired; the other was that Heitmanek had left the room momentarily and that Swift shot himself with the gun, which was concealed under the bedclothing during this brief absence.

"I want to know just what happened," he said, "and I'd like to know why Swift was allowed to wander about and have a pistol. I thought it was much better to have a complete autopsy.

"The wound was a contact wound, and that ordinarily denotes a suicide. I want to know about the pistol being discharged during an attempt to disarm him, if that happened."

Dr. Norris also was interested in the following sentence in the report of Dr. Fisher:

Nurse Tells His Story.

This statement is at variance with the account credited to Heitmanek that Swift had shot himself with a gun hidden under the bed clothing while Heitmanek himself had been sitting in a chair in the room. Heitmanek had told them, according to the police, that Swift had tried to jump out of the window a short time before the shot was fired, and that he had grappled with him, pulled him back, and put him to bed.

PRIVATE FUNERAL.

Private services at Westleigh, the Lake Forest home of the Louis F. Swifts, have been arranged for this afternoon for the funeral of William E. Swift.

Dr. Edward Zelle, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Lake Forest, will officiate. The services will be at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Graceland cemetery in Lake Forest. The pall bearers were chosen from among the men on the Swift estate.

Accompanied by his brother, Alden Swift, the body of William will arrive today.

COURT CHANGES URGED ON COUNTY TO STOP WASTE

Judges Want Five Public Defenders Named.

A saving of $150,000 to $250,000 a year in public funds may be effected by the appointment of five public defenders to represent moneyless defendants in criminal cases, and by making a change in the criminal jury system, the county commissioners were told yesterday by Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan and Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher.

The two judges appeared before the commissioners as representatives of the judiciary advisory council which recently adopted proposals to make the courts more efficient.

The public defender and jury proposals will be considered by a subcommittee of the county board which will work in coöperation with the judges and State's Attorney John A. Swanson.

Would Prevent Delays.

"We believe that if we had public defenders there would be fewer delays, and need for fewer judges," Judge Fisher told the board. "A bulk jury could hear cases for every judge, instead of summoning a jury for each case, as under the present system.

"More than forty per cent of the felony cases are delayed by defending lawyers in indigent cases to make the cases appear important and thus increase their fees."

Under present practice the trial judge appoints attorneys to represent defendants who have no money to employ counsel.

Judge Fisher asked that the county board allow the judges to appoint the public defenders and that their salaries be set at approximately $3,000 a year. Under a recent ruling of the state Supreme court, he explained, the defendant in all criminal cases, including felonies, may waive trial by jury. This permits trials to be speeded, he said, and most cases could be tried within 15 days of their inception, while not more than seven or eight criminal judges would be needed as compared to the present requirement of twelve judges.

Sees End of Abuses.

Asked whether the proposed plan would not open the door to abuses, Judge Fisher replied that inasmuch as the public defender's fee would be a salary, there would be practically no opportunity for such abuses as exist now.

President Cermak said that although the appropriation for payment of attorneys in indigent cases had already been exhausted, money would be made available, if the advisory council's plan is adopted, through a saving in future cases.

Members of the subcommittee, which will meet before the end of the week, are Commissioners Harry A. Newby, William Busse, Emmett Whealan and Maurice F. Kavanagh.

PAROLE SYSTEM IS DEFENDED AS BAR GROUPS MEET

"Hard Boiled" Official "Changes Attitude."

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Three sections of the American Bar association met in Chicago yesterday in conference preliminary to the general council sessions which will begin in the Stevens hotel on Wednesday morning.

The conference of attorney generals, the public utility law section, and a general conference of delegates which discussed the progress of bar associations and kindred subjects, were the activities of the day. These will be broadened today, when special topics will be discussed in ten different sectional gatherings, including the criminal law section and the national conference of judicial councils.

Changes Attitude on Pardons.

Attorney General Percy Saint discussed law enforcement before his group yesterday. He is a member of the board of pardons of Louisana and for the first two years of his service there he was known as the most "hard boiled" member of the board.

"My ideas about criminals have been modified by that experience," he said. "I still believe that hardened criminals should be segregated, kept at hard labor in prison, but there are others who had to be sentenced according to law who could be released with benefit to society. I believe that with investigation and coöperation that our penal population could be reduced under the parole law from 25 to 30 per cent, and that it would be for the good of society."

Praises Chicago Coöperation.

Attorney General Saint took occasion to compliment Chicago on the coöperation of the citizens' committees with the law officers in work against crime.

"Each citizen should be a unit in crime preventive work," he said. "It is too much to expect a small force of policemen who are underpaid to keep down the criminal element. They should have help and money from citizens."

The committee on bar reorganization reported to the conference of delegates that there is a growing feeling for some plan that will coördinate the bar associations so that the American Bar association may more fully represent and make effective the sentiment of the profession.

"There have been nineteen centuries of constant criticism of our profession," said Justice Royal A. Stone of the Minnesota Supreme court. "There has been no real effort at counter propaganda. And isn't this criticism and continued nagging now being capitalized by agencies seeking to usurp our functions? Bankers and trust officers are seeking to take over as much of our business as they can. The answer is intensive, efficient, local bar associations."

The committee on coöperation between the press and bar reported progress during the year. Contact with the American Society of Newspaper Editors was commented upon, and the committee stated:

"In the opinion of this committee it is of importance to the courts, and to the public at large that all court opinions as are desired for review by the press should be accurately abstracted and reported, and to this end the committee recommends that all reasonable facilities and conveniences be afforded to the representatives of the press by courtesy of the several courts and their clerks.

"Up to Judges," View.

"We believe that the process of adjustment and development of proper and desirable relations between the press and the courts rests to a great extent with the control of the presiding judges in each of the courts; that the matter is of great importance in its bearing on public opinion, on the status of the judiciary in public esteem, and therefore on the preservation of the judicial authority as an instrument of the government; and consequently we recommend that the subject should have the serious consideration and all advisable action of the judicial section of the American Bar association."

One of the delegates to the convention who attracted attention was Miss Mary Lathrop of Denver, the first woman to be accepted as a member. This was in 1917.

"Women have gained rights," she said, "but they have lost privileges. They receive no more courtesy and chivalry. Personally, I'm rather tired of rights. I'd love to have a few privileges.

"In all, I would say that women have lost a great deal in the process of becoming emancipated. And men have lost something—their egos suffer. If I had a daughter I would bring her up to be a clinging vine.

"The law is a man's field and will remain so. It will always be a battle for women. I advise any girl who contemplates entering law to stay away from marriage."

PATIENT MAY LIVE AFTER 11 DAYS OF RESPIRATION HELP

Stromsburg, Neb., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A 11 day fight to keep Miss Anita Hollister alive by forced respiration today apparently was nearing success.

A victim of infantile paralysis, she was unable at first to breathe at all. Three nurses and two men, her brothers-in-law, were at the bedside of the 26 year old woman day and night to do the work her diaphragm refused to do.

Dr. C. L. Anderson reported his patient today was able to breathe without tiring for as long as three-quarters of a minute. She probably would recover, he added, though she migh always be paralyzed to a certain extent.

An 11 year old boy who contracted the malady died yesterday and a man in a nearby town is ill. Dr. Anderson said no other cases had been reported, however, and quarantine recently established, may soon be lifted.

MANY PARTIES TO BE HELD FOR BAR DELEGATES

Foreign Visitors Will Be Guests at Homes.

Many luncheons, dinners, teas and suppers are being planned by Chicagoans to entertain visitors from England, France, Scotland, the Irish Free State, and Canada, who will arrive Thursday to attend the convention of the American Bar association.

Preceding the official welcome, to be at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night in the Civic Opera house, a tea will be held at the Art institute from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Plan Numerous Dinners.

Numerous dinners will be given that night. Among those entertaining will be Mr. and Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Col. and Mrs. Noble Brandon Judah, who will entertain at the Blackstone hotel; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Brown, at the Tavern club; Charles Hamill and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Miller, at the Tavern club; Mr. and Mrs. John Black, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Gorham, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Loesch, at the Drake hotel; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan W. MacChesney, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Sidley, Col. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne, Maj. and Mrs. Edgar Tolman, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Freund.

Mrs. Strawn is chairman of the entertainment committee, assisted by Mrs. Judah.

A luncheon in honor of Capt. Fergus Dunlop Morton of England will be given Thursday at the Stevens hotel by the alumni association of the Northwestern university school of law.

Wives to Be Entertained.

Mrs. Henry Upson Sims of Birmingham, Ala., wife of the president of the bar association, will entertain wives of members at a luncheon Friday.

Miss Mary Lathrop of Denver, who was the first woman member of the association, will entertain Wednesday night at dinner in the Stevens hotel.

Among the Lake Forest residents who will entertain foreign visitors and others as week-end guests are: Col. and Mrs. Judah, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pirie, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Swift, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson.

In Winnetka, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hale, and Mr. and Mrs. Rush Butler will entertain week-end guests. Various luncheons and teas are being planned in each home in honor of the foreign visitors and prominent American jurists and their wives.

British to Be Guests.

The English Speaking union will give a Sunday night supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hale for all the British guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Sims will entertain more than 100 American lawyers and their wives at a dinner dance in the Woman's Athletic club tonight.

A garden party and tea will be given Friday at the South Shore Country club by the association. The visitors will attend the Chicagoland music festival, sponsored by THE TRIBUNE, at Soldiers' field on Saturday night. A special performance at Ravinia will be given in their honor Sunday night.

SEIZE SWINDLE SUSPECT NAMED BY COAST WIDOW

Mrs. Elizabeth Crowe Stergeon, 50 years old, a Los Angeles widow, yesterday ended her search for a confidence man with whom she entrusted $8,650 in cash, United States Steel corporation bonds worth $20,000, and $7,000 in jewelry when she came to the detective bureau from Los Angeles yesterday. On Mrs. Stergeon's description of the swindler, Detectives William Balzano and Rocco Filletto arrested Alexander Sloane, who gave his address as 1309 Milwaukee avenue, when he called for mail at the Morrison hotel.

Mrs. Stergeon, widow of Dr. John Thomas Stergeon, a wealthy Los Angeles physician, said she met Sloane in Chicago. He made love to her and offered to keep her valuables in "his private vault." She agreed and later he disappeared.

INCORRIGIBLE EUROPE.

Twelve years after the last guns on the western front were fired the state of Europe offers as sardonic a comment on the ingenuous hopes which inspired our first crusade to the old world as history discloses. We were summoned to make the world safe for democracy. Two of the greatest powers of the world have brought forth forms of government as a result of the war which defy every principle of democracy. No more ruthless tyranny ever existed than that of bolshevism in Russia, and in Italy a rather inefficient parliamentarism has been replaced by a thoroughgoing autocracy which is not likely to be overthrown, at least in the present international situation. It gives Italy a concentrated power in an unstable world in which concentrated power is essential to survival.

As for ending war, there has seldom been a time in European history when new wars seemed less obviously in the making. Behind the thin façade of the league, Locarno, the Kellogg-Briand treaty, the naval limitation conferences, the peoples of Europe, or at any rate their governments, are engaged in precisely the same processes that brought forth the vast disaster of 1914. Armies are training, new implements of destruction are being devised, new fortresses are building, new fighting ships are preparing. France and Italy have been on the ragged edge of open war for months. The Germans took the occasion of the evacuation of the Rhineland to stage provocative celebrations, and her popular press is full of inflammatory cartoons and articles. Her government at such a moment announces that it intends to raise the difficult and dangerous question of boundaries, though accompanying the announcement by the assertion that her effort will be diplomatic and not military. Briand's idealistic attempt to initiate a united states of Europe has dismally failed. France declares she will not accept the German plan for reuniting Prussia by removing the Polish corridor to the east, and the German effort to shorten the French régime in the Saar has come to nothing. The former states of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy are divided into two camps, each the object of diplomatic intrigue of the greater powers. The whole European caldron is seething with the old brew. It is impossible to see any material change from the conditions which have made the almost perennial wars of the old world since the end of the Roman peace.

We in America are not given to pessimism, but it is hard to be optimistic in the face of Europe's incurable rancors and delusions. Woodrow Wilson wisely said the hopes that sprang for a moment from the ashes of the great conflagration could not be realized unless there was a new mind and spirit in Europe. That was his generous dream, but it has not been realized. His own device, as he knew, could not produce it. He hoped it would come from the bitter lesson of 1914. It has not come. We have in the experience of these first years following the war not only new proof of the unwisdom with which mankind is governed by its statesmen but also and chiefly of how little wisdom there is in mankind. One would assume that at least for the generation which passed through the agony of the late war there would be no passion strong enough to withstand the passion for peace, no illusion strong enough to stand forth against the stern realities of that frightful catastrophe. One would assume that at least the peoples among whose millions of homes there are few that have not their empty chairs, their newly marked graves, would make their horror of conflict so plain that no government could resist it. But the people respond to every inflammation of the demagogues and every gesture of the politicians.

We do not think any government in Europe wants war, except perhaps the soviet. Bolshevism alone may hope to profit by a renewal of destruction in civilized Europe. But, in spite of this, mutual distrust, jealousy, and national ambition seem to preoccupy the European mind and more attention is given to the complicated intrigues of competing nations, to the redemption of lost territories, to new experiments in alliances, and new efforts at building up power than to the development of the conditions upon which peace must be founded.

The peoples of Europe need peace infinitely more than anything life can give them. At least it seems so to us in America. But if they realize this overshadowing need, they show little sign of it. The problem of European peace is their problem. It cannot be solved by America, as some of our dreamers have imagined, by example which we have offered them for more than a century, or by that involvement which European nations invite only when it promises selfish advantage for themselves and otherwise bitterly resent. Peace is their problem and they will not solve it with armies and hostile alliances, with balances of power which a pistol shot can overthrow, but by a change of mind and spirit placing peace and cooperation before every other consideration. Unhappily, after a thousand years and more of the European mind and spirit it is slow to change.

Meanwhile, we who have a different mind and spirit cannot hope to be free from the consequences toward which the old world seems again to be moving incorrigibly. What we can do consistently with our own right of self-preservation we are doing and will do, but that we preserve ourselves as far as it is possible from the effects of a disaster we cannot prevent is not only our first duty but one of the most difficult our statesmanship has ever faced. We are not isolated and cannot be, if we would. But we can retain our independence of judgment and action, and this it has been the wise instinct of our people always to preserve.

DESTROYING THE WATERWAYS.

The interstate commerce commission laid down the principle in a recent decision that rail and water rates should be fixed at 90 per cent of all rail rates. In recent articles, Scrutator has shown that, in effect, this ruling may give the ship and barge lines more than they need to earn a fair return on their investment and more than they want. Under the new ruling, he says, the cost of shipping by rail all the way from New York to Chicago will be only from 80 cents to $1.20 a ton higher than if the shipment were transferred to a lake vessel at Buffalo. The difference is not large enough, in the opinion of experienced traffic men, to attract business to the lakes.

It follows that the new rates are not calculated to arouse the enthusiasm of owners of lake vessels. Rates which are fixed so high that they cut off business are not and cannot be advantageous.

The action of the commission is in opposition to the action of congress which has appropriated millions for the improvement of the inland waterways. The absurdity is heightened when it is remembered that the commission is the arm of congress created to carry out the congressional mandate. In this matter there is no doubt of what congress intended. The interstate commerce act specifically charges the commission to foster water transport. It is apparent that the commission has neglected to do so.

A SOUND IMMIGRATION POLICY.

The Canadian government has announced that immigration from the European continent is to be discontinued during the period of unemployment. The only immigrants who will be allowed to enter are the wives and children of persons already established in Canada and experienced farmers with capital. Neither of these classes is likely to add materially to the number of unemployed and to the competition for any jobs which are available.

This policy ought to be followed by our government. As long as jobs are scarce and millions of men and women are out of work, it is preposterous to permit more job hunters, accustomed to a lower standard of living than ours, to complicate and aggravate the situation. The only provision of the Canadian regulation which is not applicable to our situation is that permitting farmers to enter. We do not need or want any more farmers in this country than we already have here.

Immigration into this country has been greatly reduced since 1914, when the total exceeded 1,200,000. In 1929 we admitted less than 300,000 under the quota system. Even that number is too large by 300,000 in times such as the country is now passing through. The least that the federal government could do for the benefit of the unemployed is to cut off the competition provided by immigrant labor.

WASTING OUR WIDENED ROADS.

County Commissioner Boutell has been struck with the fact that the widened motor roads around Chicago are not fulfilling their mission in relieving traffic congestion. This is not because they have been improperly designed, but because many motorists have not learned to use them properly. Roads designed to carry four lanes of traffic carry only three because of careless and ignorant driving.

The forty foot roads are regarded by many motorists as esplanades designed for leisurely travel. In fact they are commercial highways, built for the service of persons who are in a hurry to get themselves or their merchandise from one place to another. There are plenty of well paved auxiliary roads around Chicago for the pleasure seekers. The driver who loafs along at fifteen miles an hour on a main road is making a nuisance of himself and ought to speed up or take a road where his slow pace will not bother others.

Mr. Boutell proposes, also, that all cars follow the outer lanes and move into the inner ones only when passing another vehicle. The trouble with the eighteen foot roads was that there was only one lane in the middle which could be used in passing a slower car. Because the center lane had to be used by cars moving in opposite directions a good deal of delay and danger resulted. The widened roads have space for two center lanes, but careless drivers who wander all over the pavement have done what they can to minimize the value of the improvement.

Mr. Boutell's two suggestions are sound and they should be enforced by the county's highway police.

Editorial of the Day

THE STATE WITHOUT A CROP FAILURE.

[Minneapolis Tribune].

Minnesota never has a complete crop failure. Bear that in mind when the news is filled with reports of crop failures elsewhere.

Paul F. Kirk, federal agricultural statistician, in his latest bulletin points to the fact that the present prospect is for a yield of potatoes, rye and flax greater than in 1929, something of a contrast in the general tone of the country's crop news.

The small grain yield is fair. A good rain will improve the condition of corn. Most sections of the state have a hay crop. There is no prospect of an acute feed problem for the dairy farmer and stock grower. That is good news when compared with that coming from the Ohio valley, where all crops are burned up and newspapers declare there is a prospect that dairy farmers will be forced to sell breeding stock they cannot feed.

It has long been the boast of Minnesota's older residents that this is the state that never has a crop failure. It is a claim fully warranted by the facts. It has been a long time since in the matter of crops Minnesota carried all its eggs in one basket. Its diversification program results show up splendidly in the current year. They are worth all the time and all the money that has been spent in getting them under way.

DRINKING WATER.

WHILE there are many who do not drink enough water and are harmed in health by their shortcoming, there are also many who suffer from drinking too much water. This last is especially true during very hot weather.

Excessive sweating reduces the water content of the tissues. At first there is some thickening of the blood due to obstruction of water, but in a few minutes the blood has drawn on the tissues for enough to bring it back to normal. The undue dryness is, therefore, in the tissues. Thirst is the next step, and excessive water drinking. Drinking a glass or more of water on a hot day shortly causes an outpouring of sweat. Thus the vicious circle is established.

Let us interrupt long enough to say that sweat which runs off or is mopped off does not cool the skin. That function is limited to the sweat which evaporates. In fact, the sweat that runs off may make undergarments soppy and thus somewhat hinder heat loss.

Most of the drinking waters are low in minerals—lower than the cells of the stomach. Therefore they are irritating to those cells. The best water to relieve thirst is one that contains a faint trace of salt, or enough mineral matter of other kinds to make it neutral to the cells of the mouth and stomach. Rain water, distilled water, sugared waters, flavored waters, and most ades fall in this class because they contain either too little or too much mineral matter. Water containing 10 grains of salt to the gallon is just a little below the optimum level. Excessive sweating, relieved by excessive drinking of water very low in salt may cause heat cramps. A method of prevention consists in supplying drinking water that has been very faintly salted. It is permissible to flavor the water with fruit juice provided the taste is faint.

Again, drinking of very large quantities of water tends to destroy the body balance between acids and alkalis. A good illustration, though somewhat different, is the disturbance of balance of water and of acids and alkalis which follows prolonged vomiting.

In the old days of excessive beer drinking there was considerable evidence of harm done by taking in excessive amounts of fluids. In time, drinkers learned that they could offset some of the harm by eating salted crackers with their drinking and by salting their beer.

PEARLS IN GARBAGE CANS.

H. L. S. writes: We hear so much now that is supposed to be new about maggots in bone surgery. Let's see.

The winter of 1890-'91, Dr. Edmund Andrews lecturing at the Chicago Medical college drew our attention to several cases where maggots had infested bone wounds of soldiers of the civil war without sepsis and with speedy recovery, while those not so infested were septic and more difficult to heal. I do not remember whether he or some other surgeon told me of the case of a bad skull injury, the man lying in the sun, flies swarming around the wound, and some one trying to keep the flies away. A doctor appearing on the scene ordered the person to let the flies alone to deposit their larvæ, and said that after three days the maggots were to be gently brushed off and the wound cleansed; that then healing would be rapid as the maggots would have destroyed the dead bone tissue by that time, giving the live tissue a chance. Healing was uninterrupted in this case after the maggots had got in their work. It is evident that the surgeons of that day who had discovered this were afraid to advocate it, as this was the time that Dr. Nicholas Senn was making such remarkable researches in aseptic surgery.

All honor to both surgeons mentioned above, and to all others who have so nobly assisted mankind.

FIGHTING PELLAGRA.

T. O. writes:

REPLY.

Pellagra is a vitamin deficiency disease. It can be prevented by a diet rich in vitamin B complex, the particular part of B that Goldberger called P-p. The foods which prevent pellagra are yeast, yeast extracts, wheat germ or embryo, whole wheat grains, other whole grain cereals, salmon, and various vegetables. The problem of preventing pellagra is solved so far as knowing the facts solves any problem. The question now is how to get the people to prevent the disorder.

Here's Another, Believe It or Don't, as You Please.

Old Cliff Raymond says a friend of his was driving along the Boul Mich the other day at the height of the traffic and stopped for a red light. The car behind him, driven by a gay looking young flapper, promptly gave him a good bump. At the next red light he stopped, and again he got a resounding bump. Same car did it, same girl. At the third red light it happened again. Somewhat annoyed by this time, the man got out of his machine and walked back to the offending car and gave the flapper a dirty look. "What do you mean by continually bumping into my car?" he demanded. "Why are you stopping all the time?" pouted the flapper. "What's the big idea anyhow?" "Damn it!" said he, "can't you see those red lights? I've got to stop for them, haven't I?" "Oh, don't be silly," said the flapper, "if you stop for those idiotic things all the time you'll never get anywhere." The man was so dumfounded that he couldn't say a word. He simply got back in his car, and at the first opportunity let the flapper pass, and she continued down the Boul Mich, merrily bumping every car in front of her that stopped for a red light.

No, we will not fight Mr. Stevens with his own weapons. But we will play him chess, concede him the king, queen, one knight, one castle, one bishop, and five pawns. LONDON.—Conflicting reports leave the situation in Belgium in doubt, but most messages are not of a nature encouraging to the allies. Persistent rumors here that the allies have met disaster brought no further denials from the war office than that there had been no casualities "in the British army." Artillery bombardment and furious infantry attacks were made by the Germans on Louvain, headquarters of the Belgian army, 15 miles east of Brussels. The attacks are said to have been successful and the Germans now say they will be in the Belgian capital within three days.

BERLIN, via Copenhagen. — The Wolff bureau, semi-official German news agency, admits reverses to the German arms in Alsace-Lorraine and says: "An investigation has been begun to ascertain if any treachery exists among the local population."

LONDON.—The war bureau announces that the British expeditionary forces, supposed to number 150,000 men, have landed on the French shore.

LONDON.—Lord Kitchener, British secretary of state for war, issued a proclamation calling for 100,000 men to serve three years or until the close of the war.

WASHINGTON.—Miss Helen Scott Hay of Chicago, formerly superintendent of the Illinois Training School for Nurses, will be directing head of the Red Cross nurses who will sail within ten days on the ship chartered by the American Red Cross for its European relief expedition.

TOKIO. — Gen. Yamagushi wires from Peking under the date of Aug. 16 as follows: "The allies attacked Peking early yesterday, opening with artillery on the eastern side. The wall was obstinately held by the enemy. The Japanese and Russians were on the northward of the Tungchow canal. The Americans and British were on the south side. At nightfall the Japanese blew up the two eastern gates of the Tatar city and entered. In the meantime the Americans and British entered the Chinese city by the Tung Plen gates. The parties met near the legations. All the ministers and their staffs were found safe. The Japanese loss was over 100 killed, including three officers. The losses of the allies have not been ascertained."

GEORGETOWN, Ky.—The jury trying Caleb Powers, former secretary of state, for participation in the murder of William Goebel found him guilty and fixed his punishment at imprisonment for life.

MILWAUKEE.—John Kunze, supposed driver of the famous white horse which cut such a figure in the Cronin murder trial, is serving a term in the house of correction here for swindling.

GALENA, Ill.—Galena is in its glory today. Gen. Grant has come back home. He arrived here after a triumphant journey from Chicago during which he was given ovations at every station and hamlet along the route. Minute guns were fired as the train passed. On arrival here Gen. Grant was met at the station by fully 10,000 persons. He and his party went to the De Soto house, where 36 beautiful young ladies, dressed in white, formally greeted him. The Hon. E. B. Washburne delivered the address of welcome, after which Gen. Grant went to his new home, presented by the citizens of Galena at a cost of $15,000, including the furnishings.

WASHINGTON. — President Johnson, in replying to a letter of a northern congressman asking for the appointment of one of his constituents to an internal revenue collectorship in South Carolina, said that he means to go on the theory that there are enough loyal and capable men in that and every other of the late rebel states to fill the offices and reorganize the state governments.

NEW YORK.—A Washington special says that Maj. Gen. Lew Wallace will be president of the military court which will try Werz, the rebel commandant at Andersonville prison, where so many Union men were tortured during the war.

THE GENTLER SEX.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—I have attended a few Ladies' day ball games at Cubs' park this season. They shriek and they holler and yell. They don't know or see whether the batter struck out, if the runner was safe, or what inning is being played. They throw pop bottles at the umpires. If the opposite side makes a good play and you cheer them a little they start to razz you, call you a hick, and are ready to mob you. I don't see why a fan can't give the other boys a hand once in a while. A good play is a good play to me, whether it is made by Hack Wilson of the Cubs or Babe Herman of Brooklyn, and is to any one who has any sportsmanship at all.

And cheap! They get free admission and then they have the nerve to bring regular picnic lunches and eat in the grandstand and throw the garbage all around you. I thought you were supposed to buy your refreshments from the venders that go around selling stuff out of baskets that they nearly knock your head off with. Thanks very kindly to the management of the Chicago Cubs for Ladies' day.

E. M. ANDERSON.

A NORTHERN MOB.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 15.—Just a few lines to call your attention to the lynching of two Negroes in Marion, Ind., on Aug. 7, and to suggest that in the interest of fair play you do not neglect to pour forth your venom and vituperations upon the people of the city of Marion and of the state of Indiana, as you did so promptly upon the people of Sherman and of the state of Texas a few months ago. May I note in passing that the shocking affair in Indiana proves that mob spirit is not a matter of geography, nor mob violence and evil peculiar to the south!

MRS. LOUIS G. HESTER.

THE LYNCHING.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—I wonder how Indiana will explain the lynching at Marion. Could it be possible that any of the fine old American stock, the 100 per cent kind, of which she boasts such a large percentage, participated?

W. H. GLEASON.

A BOY AND HIS JOB.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Three weeks ago my boy, aged 16, obtained a nice position for vacation. He had to go before the lady doctor at the board of education, who asked him how much rent we paid, had we an automobile, had we boarders. Then she turned him down because his tonsils needed attention. We took him to our own doctor, who said he certainly could work, but that only made matters worse, as she told me I went over her head and it was her word that went. So the boy did not get the position, but he can work in a grocery store for hours upon hours on Saturdays from 8 a. m. until 10 p. m. for $3 per week, where the other position paid $12 and would be an education in itself. The father of this family was not working at the time.

M. BROWN.

RADIO NUISANCES.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 14.—Much has been said, written, and done about automobile traffic and its dangers. Almost entirely neglected because silently suffered by an inarticulate majority, the effects of radio development have been devastating.

Apartment house dwellers are at once the most reckless offenders and the most oppressed victims. The hazards of downtown traffic are kindergarten play compared to the chaos of five or six radios running at top strength from early morning till late at night, apartment No. 1 trying to drown out apartment No. 2, and apartments five, six, and seven going neck and neck to drown out all others.

Anti-noise and anti-nuisance statutes probably cannot be stretched to reach into a man's private home so long as radio music is considered legitimate entertainment. Still, it is hardly hopeful to enfore laws against other disturbances and permit these offenses to go unchallenged because they come from within private homes.

If unnecessary automobile horn tooting makes one subject to arrest in Milwaukee, why should unnecessary radio hooting be exempt?

At least radio speedsters might respect their neighbors and confine their entertainment to their own rooms, instead of blanketing the whole neighborhood with noise.

K. S.

VAGRANCY LAWS.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The new vagrancy law that it is proposed should be passed by the state legislature is still another example of the futile American practice of dealing with a social problem by simply passing a law against it. The gangsters practice murder, extortion, and other criminal activities, but the police, it seems, are unable to prove anything against them except that they don't work. If such a law were passed a gangster could easily secure artificial occupation and the law would develop into a means of police tyranny, used against innocent men who might be temporarily out of a job. Not new laws, but intelligent enforcement of those already on the statute books is what the bullet riddled city needs.

JOHN WARREN JR.

LIFE GUARDS.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—On several occasions while swimming at the Jackson park beach I have seen people come very close to drowning. On each of these occasions it was a bather who rescued these persons. All the time this was going on the life guards were performing the very important duty of keeping the small children away from a rowboat that was drawn up on the beach. But as soon as these persons were pulled out of the water, the so-called life guards dashed up to them and, throwing out their manly chests, dragged them up to the emergency hospital.

SEEK TO ABOLISH DEATH PENALTY IN MEXICAN LAW

White Rule Fails to Alter Indian Feud Code.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 18.—Capital punishment will be abolished in the federal district and states of Mexico if a bill now under consideration is passed. This bill, for the reform of the constitution and the criminal laws, substitutes 30 years' imprisonment for the death penalty. Thereby hangs a tale of centuries of government and misgovernment reaching back beyond the Spanish conquest in 1521.

With the fall of Tenochtitlan, now Mexico City, the whole system of Indian government went by the board, and there was little or no justice for the Indians, especially when their interests ran counter to those of the Spanish conquerors. All over the vast empire of the Moctezumas and other former Indian nationalities the natives clung to their old modes of government. But in the course of a century Spanish arms and government were so extended that the ancient laws ceased to govern except in the remote mountainous districts.

Avoided White Courts.

From this time on there gradually grew up a series of customs among the Indian and mestizo masses which neither law nor military imposition was able to overcome. The Indians looked with distrust and hatred upon the whites as their oppressors, and had an inviolable code that no information should be given to the government against any Indian accused of any crime.

The creed of the Indian was that the Indian must attend to his own affairs. The police courts and the law courts were avoided by them, as they still are in many of the more remote communities of Mexico, and almost invariably by the four million or more Mexican Indians who still speak the Indian tongues.

Except in the Indian pueblos, where Indian law and customs still prevail and Indian councils administer government, the Indian and mestizo of the lower and lower middle classes attend to their own personal quarrels without recourse to the law of the land.

Personal Settlement Rules.

This attitude of fully 70 per cent of the Mexican population to look after their own quarrels and differences without the intervention of the law has always proven a snag in making Mexican criminal law fit into the mold of Spanish legal procedure.

Mexican law makers have contended for the last century that a quarrel between two persons of the lower classes resulting in serious injuries or death should be looked at in the light in which the jousts and tournaments of the Middle Ages were regarded.

For the above reasons there has been, for years, a strong party opposed to capital punishment in Mexico; and this has finally apparently come on top.

SWINDLER OF BANKS CAUGHT; CONFESSES GETTING ABOUT $5,000

What police describe as an audacious scheme to defraud banks was disclosed yesterday with the capture of Joseph Kalasinski, 35 years old, 5326 Merrimac avenue, who is charged with operating a confidence game and swindling at least twenty Chicago banks out of more than $15,000.

Kalasinski was captured after a street pursuit by Theodore Zahlocki and Joseph Scroggins of the Noel State bank, 1601 Milwaukee avenue, where he tried to cash a check for $225. He was turned over to West North avenue police and will be arraigned in Felony court today.

Kalasinski's alleged method consisted of making $1 or $2 savings deposits in various banks, then raising the amounts in the pass book to $211 or a similar amount by adding digits. Once a pass bpok was obtained, he would make his own entries in substantial amounts, it is charged.

According to Patrick Sherwood, of the Wisconsin Bankers' association, to whom Kalasinski made a confession, the latter was caught because he attempted to dupe the Noel State bank a third time. By raising the amounts in his pass books, he is said to have cashed checks for $245 and $98 at this bank two or three years ago.

STATE LAUNCHES GRAFT EXPOSE IN CALUMET AREA

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Ten field examiners for the state board of accounts are now investigating official records in Lake county.

One investigation concerns the Hobart Water and Light plant, sold by the city last fall for $100,000. Examiners find that at one time $500,000 was offered for the plant.

Records of between 200 and 300 accounts due the company are missing; others were found buried in the basement. The superintendent in charge when the plant was owned by the city cannot be found.

Twenty justices of the peace in Lake county are to come under observation of examiners. At present the books of four justices in Calumet township [Gary] are being examined following reports that they have failed to remit fines to the state. It is charged W. C. Heuston, Negro justice of the peace in Calumet township, resigned without having made a settlement of fees collected the last three years. Heuston now has a government position in Washington.

Assessors in North and Calumet townships also are under investigation for padded pay rolls. It is charged one Charles L. Korst was paid as a deputy assessor in Calumet township while employed by the federal internal revenue department.

BEGIN AUDIT OF TWO GARY BANKS AFTER CLOSING

Indiana state examiners yesterday began an audit of the accounts of the Mid-City bank, 1300 Broadway, and the Fifth Avenue bank, 115 West Fifth avenue, Gary, which voluntarily closed their doors in the morning. They are headed by Louis H. Glueck and their directorate is interlocking.

A study of their resources will be conducted by a committee from the Gary Clearing House association. In the meantime both institutions are in charge of S. P. Good, state bank examiner from Indianapolis.

Three Gary banks have now suspended within a week. The first one was the American State bank, closed Tuesday following the suicide of Albert De Fries, its president. Thomas D. Barf, deputy bank commissioner, has declared it to be sound and it will be reopened again Friday.

ETTELSON PUTS RESERVATIONS IN HIS SUBWAY O. K.

Gives Faherty Board Veto Power on Plans.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Corporation Counsel Ettelson decided yesterday that money may be paid out for the preparation of subway plans on the orders and resolutions heretofore passed by the city council, subject to certain amendatory proceedure.

The city council decided some time back that subway plans should be prepared by engineers employed by its local transportation committee. Walter L. Fisher and Allan T. Gilbert, attorneys for the committee, wrote an opinion that the council action was binding and legal. Assistant Corporation Counsels Carl J. Appell and Samuel Golan wrote another opinion saying the council action was illegal. They contended that the engineers should be appointed by the board of local improvements. These attorneys and Mr. Ettelson discussed the subject all yesterday afternoon.

Ettelson to Give Opinion.

The net result was that Mr. Ettelson said he will deliver an opinion to City Controller Schmidt saying that it is safe for him to pay out money for salaries and bills if the appointment of the engineers is ratified by the board of local improvements and the pay rolls and vouchers are signed by President Faherty of that board and Ald. McDonough, chairman of the local transportation committee.

This appears to give the board of local improvements a joint control or a veto control over jobs and expenditures, while it has been reported heretofore that the city council would have exclusive control over subway planning.

Seeks to Avoid Delay.

Near the end of the discussion Attorney Fisher said to Mr. Ettelson: "The whole question is whether you will delay construction of subways on account of a purely theoretical or wholly unsound position. I do not care whether the board of local improvements builds or who builds, so that building starts."

Mr. Ettelson said that he is anxious to build and does not want to interfere with building or pass upon the engineers employed.

It was admitted by Mr. Ettelson that if the subways are not built by special assessment then the council has authority to employ its own engineers, and there has been no formal decision to build by special assessment. Fisher contended that the work of the engineers is a necessary prerequisite to determine whether the building shall be by special assessment. If that process is used, Mr. Ettelson holds that the council action "is premature."

"Satisfactory, if Sufficient."

Regarding Ettelson's decision, Fisher said: "It is satisfactory, if sufficient."

The hearing of the petition to build several south side surface extensions will be resumed before the Illinois commerce commission this morning. It is expected that the necessary permits will be approved or denied next Thursday.

The committees appointed to obtain deposit of Rapid Transit securities sent letters yesterday to all known holders. This is part of the consolidation plan with the surface lines. These letters say that there is little hope of an adequate return to the "L" lines without consolidation, but if it is effected it is probable that the proportionate earnings of the elevated will be increased materially."

SHIP LINE WINS ON IMMIGRATION TEST SUIT AGAINST U. S.

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—A test suit, one of sixty or more pending, which involve the right of the United States government to fine a steamship company $250 and transportation costs in the case of an immigrant brought to this country on a properly visaed passport and who is refused admittance on arrival by the department of labor, was decided in favor of the steamship companies today by Federal Judge John M. Woolsey.

The action was brought by the North German Lloyd Line against Philip Elting, collector of the port of New York, for $2,177.50, that amount representing fines and transportation costs for immigrants refused admittance to this country on arrival from March 16, 1925, to Feb. 16, 1926.

The judge held that an ocean carrier is "entitled to rely on American visas for its right to carry an alien to our ports."

APPROVE UNIFIED TRAFFIC LIGHTS IN MICHIGAN AVE.

City and Park Officials Attend Meeting.

A unified system of traffic control on Michigan boulevard designed to speed up traffic between 22d street and North avenue was approved yesterday by representatives of the Lincoln park and south park commissions and the city traffic department at a luncheon at the Palmer house sponsored by the Chicago Motor club.

Under the proposed unification, the Lincoln park system will be connected with the city and south park system by a cable under the Michigan avenue link bridge, doing away with the present system which has tended to create a jam at the bridge, where the Lincoln park system ends.

Part of Money Raised.

R. W. Weir, chief engineer for the Lincoln park board, said the board already has appropriated $1,000 as its share of the $3,000 estimated cost of unification. R. F. Shobe, assistant city traffic engineer, said his department was prepared to pay its share, and the South park commission is expected to approve the payment of its share at its meeting on Wednesday.

The unification at first will serve only as a means of connecting Michigan avenue traffic under a single control system, but later it may be developed into a progressive traffic light arrangement which will enable motorists to travel from 22d street north to Lincoln park, or south the same distance, without halting for stoplights. Such a plan will have to be worked out later, engineers agreed.

Officials at Luncheon.

Among those at the luncheon were Michael L. Igoe, south park commissioner; George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks; Mr. Weir, W. I. Bell, chief engineer of the south parks; T. J. Howard, captain of the south park police; R. F. Shobe, assistant city traffic engineer, and Charles M. Hayes, president of the motor club.

PLAN WELCOME FOR AIR HEROES COMING TO RACES

Brownsville-Chicago Derby Will Start Today.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

With the men's Pacific air Derby due to start this morning from Brownsville, Tex., and a second Derby well on its way to Chicago, officials of the 1930 national air races yesterday perfected plans for the reception of nationally known pilots and their planes here Saturday, the opening day of the ten day race meet.

Plans for the inaugural parade Friday were altered to include a squadron of 80 planes bringing flyers and air enthusiasts from the south and southwest. The planes will gather at Parks airport in St. Louis Friday morning and fly to Chicago in formation, arriving over the loop at noon to join army, navy, and marine corps planes in a huge aerial parade circling overhead while bands, marchers, and the Black Horse troop will lead a parade of famous flyers down Michigan avenue and through the loop.

Planes to Arrive Tomorrow.

The crated planes of the famous foreign flyers brought to America by Lieut. Al Williams for participation in the races, will arrive here by rail tomorrow, race officials announced. Mechanics will reassemble the planes and have them ready for their pilots when they arrive in Chicago by air from New York on Thursday. Members of the international flying team which will perform at Curtiss-Reynolds field during the races are Flying Officer R. L. Atcherly, British Schneider cup racer; Lieut. Robert Preston of the Coldstream Guards; Pierto Colombo of Italy's first pursuit squadron; Marcel Doret of France, and Capt. Fritz Loose of Germany.

Capt. Arthur H. Page's navy plane, which will be entered in the Thompson Trophy race, a free-for-all contest for land planes, yesterday completed its tests at Long Island, according to word from New York. The plane is said to be capable of attaining a speed of more than 200 miles an hour. Last year's winning plane in this class triumphed with a speed of 194 miles an hour. The motor of Page's plane has been replaced with a 600 horse power twelve cylinder water-cooled engine.

Build Rail Station.

Workmen yesterday completed the construction of a temporary railroad station at the southeast corner of the Curtiss airport to accommodate passengers on the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, which will run half-hourly service from the Union station directly to the air races beginning next Saturday. The direct rail service is expected to relieve automobile congestion on the roads leading to the race field.

A resolution authorizing the superintendent of the county highway department and the sheriff to close such roads as they deem advisable in the vicinity of the air field during the races was adopted yesterday afternoon by the board of county commissioners.

PUNISH 19 JEWS, 421 ARABS FOR HOLY LAND RIOTS

JERUSALEM, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The record of legal proceedings in connection with last August's riots shows that action has been taken against 724 Arabs and 161 Jews, as a result of which 421 Arabs and 19 Jews have been convicted.

One hundred and twenty-four Arabs were tried for murder and 55 convicted of this charge, 50 more Arabs had to answer a charge of attempted murder and 17 were found guilty. Of the remainder, 130 were convicted for robbery and incitement.

Collective punishment to the amount of $70,000 was imposed on the destroyers of three Jewish agricultural settlements and of the Jewish communities of Hebron and Safed.

First U. S. Flyers Start West Today.

tional air races which begin there Saturday. Reduced rates for those connected with the flying industry were announced today by the New York Central and Pensylvania railroads and commercial and private plane owners began tuning their motors for the trip.

New York City will have a delegation of several hundred; Philadelphia will be equally well represented; Boston expects to send at least a hundred, and the smaller New England cities will swell the total past the thousand mark. The special railroad rates apply only to these accredited delegates.

Springfield, Mass., will have one of the largest delegations from the east, as that city is making a bid for the 1931 air show.

New Yorkers to Fly Here.

Among the pleasure plane owners who will fly to the races are Roger Wolf Kahn and party of three; C. Deeds, treasurer of the United Aircraft and Transport, with party of five; Col. Peter J. Brady, chairman of the mayor's committee of aviation, with several friends, and representatives from each of the trade and craft magazines.

Casey Jones, president of the Curtiss Wright corporation, will arrive in Chicago Thursday, going to Cleveland by train and flying his own racing plane from that city.

Frank Hawks, who recently established a new trans-continential record, will return tomorrow from a rest in the White mountains and head for Chicago, where he is to take part in the races.

Lieut. "Al" Williams and his five European flyers, Marcel Dorat of France, Marshal Pietro Colombo of Italy, Capt. Frederick Lohse of Germany, and Lieut. R. R. Atcherly and George R. Armour of England will fly to Chicago Wednesday or Thursday.

Court Holds Dyer Act Covers Airplane Thefts

Denver, Colo., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today held interstate transportation of a stolen airplane constitutes violation of the Dyer act, hitherto applied only to automobile thefts. The decision upheld the western Oklahoma federal District court in the case of William McBoyle, sentenced to three years imprisonment and fined $2,000.

Konjola

. . . can anyone wonder why she is enthusiastic about Konjola?

MRS. W. O. SMITH
5626 South La Salle St.

Surely there can be no wiser course, for those who seek the medicine they need, than to profit by experiences like that of Mrs. W. O. Smith, a lifelong resident of Chicago, who says of this new and different medicine:

"I enjoyed perfect health up to five years ago, and then I was operated on for bowel trouble. I had suffered with chronic constipation, indigestion and constant headaches. The operation was far from successful, and for the past five years I was miserable. My sister had such good results from Konjola that I decided to try it. I have taken eight bottles, and I can say truthfully that constipation is ended; my stomach functions perfectly and I do not have those awful headaches. Konjola is a wonderful medicine and I endorse it to all in the condition that I was in."

WOMAN DERBY FLYER MISSING HOURS; FOUND

Miss Barron Was Feared Lost in Desert.

Phoenix, Ariz., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Ruth Barron, Hollywood High school girl and one of six contestants in the Women's National Air Derby now in flight to Chicago, tonight was forced down at Heber, Arizona.

After she had been missing several hours, airplanes and posses started search of the desert west of here. Then word came she had made a forced landing in a cornfield. A clogged gasoline line was the cause. She was not hurt and her plane was undamaged.

Difficulty with Motor.

Miss Barron landed her Buhl Sesquiplane ship at Calexico, Cal., at noon. At 2:30 p. m., the starting time at that control point, she was delayed five minutes by a balky motor, but seemingly had no trouble after climbing aloft.

Leaders on the third lap ending here this evening were Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Cal., and Margery Doig of Danbury, Conn., who came in separated by less than five minutes of elapsed time.

Mrs. O'Donnell's time from Calexico was 1 hour 24 minutes. Twenty seconds after she brought her plane down Miss Doig came in, having gained 40 seconds on her rival during the lap.

New Mexico Today.

Half an hour after Mrs. O'Donnell arrived, Jean La Rene, Kansas City, set her plane down. She was followed by Mildred Morgan, Beverly Hills, Cal. Ruth Stewart of St. Louis swooped down at the airport fifteen minutes later.

The flyers took off from San Diego, Cal., this morning, stopping at Calexico, 120 miles west, at noon. Tomorrow's night halt will be made at Roswell, N. M.

Boy Flyer Breaks Record.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Eddie Schneider, 18, Jersey City, N. J., brought his plane down at the municipal airport at 7:13 o'clock [P. s. t.] tonight to finish his transcontinental flight and establish a new junior record of 29 hours 41 minutes' flying time.

The youth left Westfield, N. J., Aug. 14, stopping frequently en route for fuel and flying only in daylight. He bettered by more than three hours the junior record established several months ago by Frank Goldsborough of New York, since killed in an airplane accident.

Finds Her Husband Shot; Evidence Shows Suicide

Jonas W. Heller, 25 years old, a clerk, was found by his wife shot to death last night in their apartment at 415 Fullerton parkway. A pistol lay near at hand, indicating, the police said, that he had committed suicide.

COLLISION IN AIR KILLS 2 AT ARMY AVIATION SCHOOL

Crash During Attack Maneuvers.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Two students of the Advanced Flying school, Kelly Field, were killed in an aerial collision at an altitude of 200 feet during attack maneuvers near Von Ormy today.

They were: Donald De Witt Campbell, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Campbell of Anadarko, Okla., and Cadet Robert Lee Scott, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Scott of Bethany, Ill.

Two Dead in Freak Crash.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Roy B. Kuteman, 31, of Dallas, died in a hospital here today from injuries suffered when he averted a crash between his airplane, which was alighting, and another just taking off at Grand Saline.

Jewell Phillips, 21, of Grand Saline, one of two passengers with Kuteman, died soon after the accident. Polk Dickerson, 19, also of Grand Saline, was in a critical condition in a hospital.

Instructor and Student Hurt.

Wichita Falls, Tex., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Burton L. Walker, 28, instructor, was injured, probably fatally, and Leo Voss, 18, a student, was slightly injured today when the biplane in which Voss was receiving instructions crashed at the municipal airport.

Army Flyer Killed.

HONOLULU, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Lieut. Maurice M. Works was killed today in the fall of an army pursuit plane he was piloting. When trouble developed, Works attempted an emergency landing but the plane was wrecked and the pilot's neck broken. He was 29 years old.

UNIFORM LAWS ON PLANES URGED BY MAC CRACKEN

Uniformity in national and international air laws was urged yesterday by Maj. William P. MacCracken Jr., former assistant secretary of commerce for aeronautics, in an address before delegates to the first national air conference, which opened yesterday in Lincoln hall, on the McKinlock campus of Northwestern university. The meeting will continue through tomorrow.

"One set of air traffic laws and one standard for personnel and planes is all we have room for in any effective program for the promotion of safety and efficiency in air transportation," said Maj. McCracken.

Delegates from each state legislature, pilots, air transport operators, and legal experts will be heard at the conference, the aim of which is to formulate standard air laws for the nation. The meeting was opened by Maj. Reed G. Landis, chairman of the Illinois aerial navigation commission.

MRS. OESTERREICH MAY TELL OWN STORY TOMORROW

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—After an impassioned but futile argument in which Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich's attorneys pleaded for a directed verdict acquitting her of murder in order that the woman "might not be found guilty of immoral conduct by a jury which would return a verdict of murder," it was indicated tonight that the woman would take the stand in her own defense on Wednesday.

Jerry Geisler, head counsel for the wealthy widow who is accused of complicity in murdering Fred Oesterreich, Milwaukee manufacturer, in 1922, brought tears in the courtroom as he addressed Judge Carlos Hardy.

Geisler said: "There is no legal evidence connecting this woman with actual commission of the crime, though she may be guilty of immoral conduct, or even being an accessory after the fact."

Race Drivers DEMAND the TIRES WE SELL!

THE Indianapolis 500 Mile Endurance Race is famous as an endurance test and battle of tires for no driver can win this race who has tire trouble. He races over a hot brick track at a speed of 100 or more miles per hour. For eleven consecutive years Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires have been on the winning cars.

FOR years the winner of the hazardous race of Pike's Peak climb — where a slip meant death — used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires.

1. THESE men buy Firestone Tires. They are not paid to use them. The Pike's Peak racers buy the Firestone Super High Speed Gum-Dipped Balloon Tires from local dealers — the world's premier tire which every Firestone Dealer sells. The race track drivers use the same tire, except for the racing tread.

2. THESE drivers do not simply choose Firestone Tires. They demand them. They know by experience that this tire never fails. It never fails because it is built not to fail by the special Firestone processes of tire building.

   (a) Every fibre of cotton thread going into the making of the cord fabric, which is the foundation of the tire, is coated and cushioned in rubber by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process.

   (b) Under the tread is the Firestone patented Gum-Dipped Double Cord Breaker—which means not only two extra plies where most needed, but also sets the Firestone Tire apart as an all cord tire, while others are woven fabric and cord.

   (c) Firestone Super High Speed Tires now have 32% more rubber in the tread, giving deeper grooves that will give you over 50% more non-skid wear before the tire is smooth.

3. THESE are not just features. They are basic differences in tire building proved by service on every kind of road and track.

4. YOU may never intend to race. You may never intend even to speed. You may never climb Pike's Peak. But, every day—whether you know it or not—your life depends upon your tires.

5. WE HAVE these Super High Speed Gum-Dipped Balloons for sale today. They are the same tires that the racing drivers demand — the premier tires of the world. Their first cost is low. Their cost per mile of service makes them cheaper today than even cheap tires. They are inexpensive, not only because the price of rubber is low, but because we have joined with Firestone to bring into the sale of tires the same degree of efficiency which goes into their manufacture. The benefit of all this is in the price to you.

6. DRIVE in today. We will examine your tires and make you an allowance for your unused mileage. We can equip your car with new Firestone Super High Speed Tires at a much lower cost than you ever expected. They will give you unequalled service and satisfaction.

This Man Knows How to Grow Hair

HE is a trained Thomas' scalp specialist. He knows the symptoms of the fourteen external causes of baldness and he knows specificilly how each should be treated. He knows exactly how to end the various forms of dandruff; how to stop falling hair; and how to rejuvenate your scalp to a normal, healthy condition conducive to the growth of strong new hair.

Your particular scalp disorder should be treated by this trained Thomas' specialist who does nothing but examine and treat the various forms of hair and scalp troubles. In growing hair and preventing baldness he replaces guesswork and general "cure-all" remedies with scientific treatment designed to meet your own particular needs.

You, Too, Can Have a Good Head of Hair!

Thomas' treatment grows hair, stops falling hair, ends dandruff, and makes the scalp healthy. What they have done for others, including well-known actors, musicians, and business men with their fifteen-year proved treatment they can do for you. Call for a complete examination by a Thomas' specialist — there is no charge or obligation.

The Semi-Annual Sale of CURTAINS and DRAPERIES Is Held in a Recreated Section

The Drapery Section itself has gone in for the refreshing tonic of rearrangement. It feels so much better for the change that it recommends the same treatment to summer-weary homes.

New curtains and draperies bring that "freshness of viewpoint" that every home needs before it comes in contact with a new season. And now the most fashion-favored styles are to be had at low Semi-Annual Sale prices.

Cretonne and Chintz 50c Yard

French modern cretonnes, flower-patterned cretonnes, handsome chintz prints—something suitable for every room scheme for draperies, slip-covers, cushions. All strikingly reduced to 50c yard.

Linens, Cretonnes 95c Yard

Reassembled from much higher priced collections and grouped at this low price for the Sale. Included are pure linens from England, imported and domestic cretonnes. All are fine quality at 95c yd.

Grenadine Curtains $1.95 Pair

All ready to hang, with a cornice top and tie-backs. Point d'Esprit dots on white, ivory or ecru. Just the thing for the more informal room. $1.95 complete.

Filet Net Curtaining, 60c Yard

A material whose smartness for curtains is newly realized may be chosen in orange, rust, green, blue, or suntan. It is of a fine quality mercerized cotton yarn and is 40 inches wide. During the Sale, 60c yard.

Sixth Floor, North, State.

Extended Payment Plan

We shall be glad to tell you about the terms of this convenient plan—which enables you to pay gradually for purchases in any of the Household Sections.

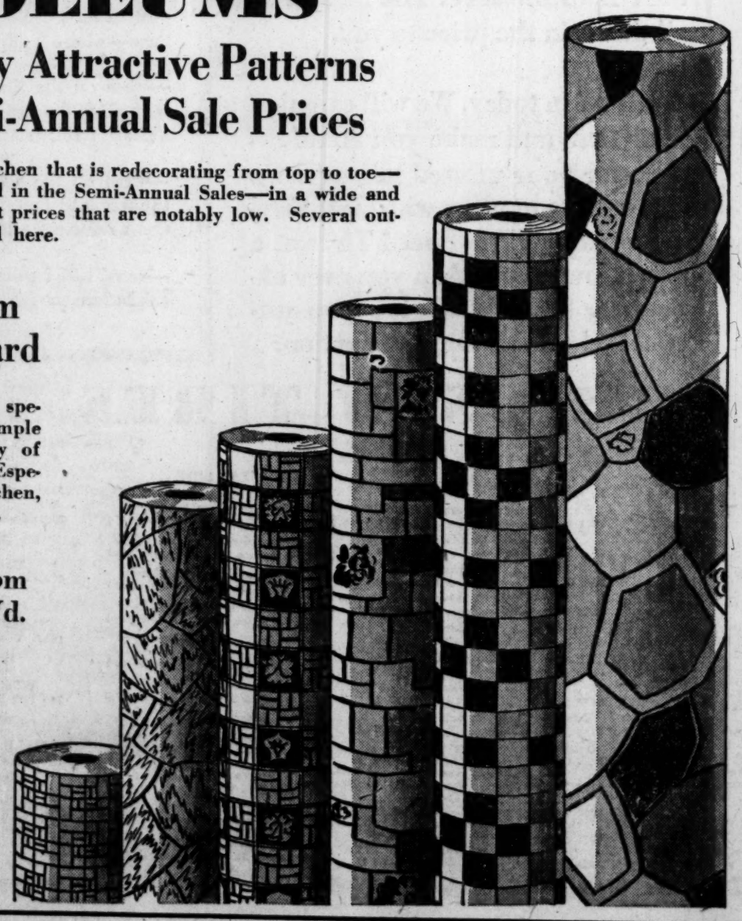
LINOLEUMS

Feature Many Attractive Patterns At Low Semi-Annual Sale Prices

Fortunately for the kitchen that is redecorating from top to toe—inlaid linoleums are included in the Semi-Annual Sales—in a wide and varied choice of patterns—at prices that are notably low. Several outstanding groups are stressed here.



Inlaid Linoleum $1.15 Square Yard

The patterns in this very specially priced group are simple and attractive—in a variety of pleasing color schemes. Especially appropriate for kitchen, pantry, and breakfast room.

Other Patterns from $1.65 to $2.95 Sq. Yd.

Unusual designs and attractive colorings in both straightline and embossed linoleums. Some show the popular tile effects, the luxurious hand-made "marble" type is included, and the 3-16 inch embossed inlaid, so much in demand now.

Ninth Floor, South, State.

CHICAGO, 20 TO 1 SHOT, WINS IN FINAL STRIDE

Beats Golden Prince When Jockey Dozes.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Every other horse was turning form flip flops at Hawthorne yesterday, so why not old Chicago?

The 7 year old hero of many stake races of bygone days turned out to be the champion acrobat of the day and got a thrilling nose decision from Golden Prince in the Lake Bluff purse. It was almost a crime for him to take the money, for Golden Prince had him beaten ten strides from the line of finish.

Jockey R. Ayraud, who may not be keeping late hours, but at least rides like he isn't getting "beauty" sleep, found the finish too strenuous. He dozed off and during his brief nap the alert J. Marcum got Chicago into motion again and won by a whisker in the last stride.

Bettors Desert Chicago.

For three years Chicago, either in defeat or victory, has been a hero with Chicago crowds. But after he had lost ten straight races this year and was badly beaten in most of them his public naturally deserted him.

So when he got the eye lash decision over Golden Prince he didn't have many supporters, and those few loyal native sons who wagered on him collected $43.86 to win, $17.46 to place, and $8.52 to show. Golden Prince paid $4.77 to place and $3.52 to show. Black Diamond was at $5.08 to show.

Chicago was right up there all the way, but River Forest, an outsider, outran him down the back stretch. Then Black Diamond moved on to hold the lead for an instant. Chicago always was running second, but while River Forest was dropping back and Black Diamond was moving up, so was Golden Prince. The latter headed into the stretch a length back of Black Diamond and a head back of Chicago.

Fast Time for Race.

In mid-stretch Chicago and Golden Prince were running head and head. A few strides more and Golden Prince went to the front. Then came Ayraud's nap. It caused Golden Prince to lose in the last jump. The time for the mile and 70 yards was 1:42 4-5, a second off the record.

It is beginning to look as if Chicago racegoers have lost confidence in the horses owned by Charles W. Bidwill, secretary of the Illinois Turf association. Mr. Bidwill was represented in the mile and 70 yard third race yesterday by Ripfield, a son of Master Charley-Bright Leaf, which was entered to be claimed for $1,500.

Ripfield was on his bad behavior at the post and delayed the start for five minutes. Going to the clubhouse turn Ripfield was wabbling, but he found his racing legs as the field headed into the back stretch. He let Battling On and Ellen N. lead him to the lower bend. Then Jockey Gianelloni moved him up with a fine rally. He romped to the lead like a stake horse and went on to beat Ellen N. by three lengths. Battling On finished third.

Hot Shot Scores in Dash.

Because Mr. Bidwill's horses have not been running lately, Ripfield returned $54.18 to all of those who backed him to win. He was at $24.80 to place and $13.02 to show.

Hot Shot, the in and outer from the Hal Price Headley stable of Kentucky, won the six furlong dash which was fourth on the program. Those Headley horses seem to win when least expected. Gracious Gift was the odds on favorite and got up to be within a nose of Hot Shot at the finish. Morsun was third, but far back of the two leaders.

Hot Shot was in front all the way and paid $13.50 to win. Gracious Gift seemed ready to take the lead at any stage in the stretch run, but Jockey Hanford did not let him move until it was too late. Gracious Gift's defeat was just as much of an upset as Hot Shot's good effort.

The sleepy Mr. Ayraud climbed into the saddle on Dacite in the last race. It soured the public on Dacite.

But with the approach of darkness Mr. Ayraud began to awaken. He blinked his eyes and then rode Dacite so energetically that the son of Sweep-Billie Dove grabbed a long early lead. Dacite continued to lead and got the decision from Applaud, another long shot. Come On was third. Dacite paid $39.40.

The form players in the crowd groaned. The long shot players cheered.

CADDIES BECOME TOURNEY STARS—JUST FOR A DAY

De May Shoots 116 for 27 Holes at Olympia.

One hundred and eighty boys who make a living carrying somebody else's golf clubs got a chance to swing their own yesterday in the Chicago District association's annual caddie tournament at Olympia Fields.

Harry De May of the Oak Park Country club took first prize with a total of 116 for 27 holes. At the end of 18 holes the field was cut to the five low contestants and these played an additional 9 holes to determine the winner.

How Other Leaders Placed.

The other four in the playoff were John Gostisha, Knollwood, 120; Alfred Favelli, Lake Shore, 120; Ned Glader, Bob O' Link, 121; and Frank Dallawalla, Bob O' Link, 130.

Victor Ralph of Lake Shore qualified for the final 9 holes with a 78, but as he has an evening job in addition to his caddying, he was forced to withdraw.

The team championship was won by four boys from Bob O' Link who totaled 334. Edgewood Valley was second with 341 and Illinois third with 348.

Caddy Masters Hold Meet.

The caddie masters also had a tournament, which was won by Charley Farrell of Illinois, 38—38—76. The other leaders were W. Lasdo of Ravisloe, 78; T. Notarnicola, Flossmoor, 81; and J. Ryerson, Indian Hill, 84.

GEHRIG AGAIN LEADS BIG SIX BATTING PARADE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Pounding out three hits, including his thirty-fifth home run of the season, Lou Gehrig again led the batting parade of baseball's big six yesterday. The second successive day of hard hitting by the Yankee's first baseman boosted his batting average to .391.

Two hits in four times at the plate sent Babe Herman's average up one point to .402, but it was 13 points short of the mark of the leader, Bill Terry, who was idle. As Gehrig tacked on three points he moved into a tie for third place with Chuck Klein, who went hitless and fell to .391. Simmons' average remained at .380 while Ruth added a point with one hit in two times at bat. The standing:

Texan Ousts Hopping from Polo Quartet

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Herbert W. [Rube] Williams, a Texas cowpuncher, today galloped into the midst of the battle for positions on the Big Four of American polo being groomed to meet the British for the international cup this September.

As a result of Williams' performance as a substitute, Capt. Tommy Hitchcock today announced a shakeup in the Whites or first string combination by which Williams replaces Earle A. S. Hopping at No. 2 for the next test match Wednesday afternoon at the Piping Rock club.

Breaks Up Old Guard.

The entry of Williams to first string company for the first time since the American test matches started marks the break up of the quartet that has ridden successfully together for the last two weeks.

In this lineup, hitherto regarded by polo critics as the one likely to oppose the British, Hopping had teamed with Eric Pedley, Capt. Hitchcock, and Winston Guest. The latter trio will retain their positions at No. 1, No. 3, and back, respectively, for the next test match. Hopping will ride at No. 2 with the Reds with Pete Bostwick at No. 1, Cecil Smith, another Texan, at No. 3, and Elmer Boeseke of California, at back.

Rated at 6 Goals.

Although rated only at 6 goals in the official handicap list, Williams' play has stamped him as the equal so far of such 8 goal performers as Hopping, Pedley, and Boeseke. Hitchcock is a 10 goal man and the only one in the world at this maximum figure.

TROEH BREAKS 200 TARGETS TO WIN U. S. TITLE

Dayton, O., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Frank M. Troeh of Portland, Ore., won the class AA championship of the 31st grand American handicap trapshoot tournament at Vandalia field, near here, today. He had a perfect score of 200.

More than 500 gunners took part in the class events, all of which called for 200 targets. The class A shoot ended in a tie between Ralph Jenkins, Orleans, Ind., and D. W. Callwell, Amarillo, Tex., who had scores of 196. Three shootoffs at 25 targets were required before Jenkins took the title.

B. L. Montague, Camden Point, Mo., won the class B title after a three way shootoff with M. C. Roberts, Littletown, Conn., and William Drake, Chicago, who tied him at 195 in the [illegible] shoot.

KANE, MANDELL SPLIT; SAMMY TO BE OWN MANAGER

Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion of the world, last night confirmed reports that he had ended his nine year partnership with his manager, Eddie Kane. Sammy announced that he will manage his own affairs with the assistance of Teddy Bodkin of Chicago, an old friend who has advised him through his ring career.

The Rockford fighter's announcement followed a statement by Kane to the effect that, although he would no longer act as Mandell's manager, he would take steps to enforce his contract which does not expire until July 6, 1931. Kane declared Mandell made $400,000 during their association.

"Kane is just having one of his usual dreams about money," Mandell said. "I made less money with Kane as my manager than I should have made as a champion. We'll see that he doesn't collect on his contract between now and its expiration."

He refused to discuss his affairs further, taking the same attitude he assumed when questioned about rumors that he had been drugged before his fight with Al Singer to whom he lost his lightweight crown in New York last month.

YANKS HIT FOR PENNOCK; BEAT WHITE SOX, 11-4

Reynolds Gets 3 Singles and a Double.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 18.—The Yankees and the White Sox today indulged in one of those free hitting contests for which the Yankees are famous and as the New York nine hit more frequently, the result was a defeat for the White Sox. The score was 11 to 4.

The Yankees won largely because they bunched their hits off Garland Braxton while Herb Pennock was keeping the Chicagoans' slugging activities in check until he had a comfortable lead.

The willowy left hander has been around so many seasons that old age is bound to catch up with him ere long, but today he bore all the earmarks of a sprightly colt. Until the verdict was safe in his grasp he was practically invincible and then he slowed down a bit to let the Sox enjoy a few moments of scoring exercise. Only one of his opponents was able to annoy him consistently. He was Carl Reynolds, who turned up with three single and a double.

Bush Chased from Park.

Manager Bush of the Sox was chased from the park by Umpire Moriarty after arguing a questionable hit by Byrd in the first inning.

The outcome of Braxton's effort to silence the Yankee bats is shown by the total in the Yankee hit column. They piled up thirteen safeties against him before he could escape at the end of the sixth. One of these taps was Lou Gehrig's 35th homer, which accounted for three-quarters of a four run rally in the sixth.

Caraway and Ruffing are due to start in the final tomorrow.

Braxton handed a pass to Cooke with one out in the second inning and that's what started the four run rally. Chapman crashed a single into center. Bengough grounded to short and Mulleavy threw to Kerr for what looked like a forced out of Chapman at second but Umpire Geisel declared the runner safe. That filled the bases. When Pennock fanned for the second out it looked as if Braxton might emerge from the jam undamaged but he didn't. Byrd doubled to left, scoring Cooke and Chapman and planting Bengough on third. Then Lary singled, sending Bengough and Byrd home.

Cissell Disturbs Fothergill.

Braxton underwent another mauling in the fourth. However, it amounted to one run and wasn't entirely his fault. With one out Byrd dumped a safe bunt in front of the plate. He was forced by Lary. Ruth hoisted a fly to short left and it should have been caught without trouble but Cissell ran out and created such a disturbance around Fothergill that the latter muffed the ball. Lazzeri then singled and Lary crossed the plate.

Three hits produced only one run for the Sox in the sixth. After Kerr had been tossed aside, Cissell singled. Reynolds hit safely for the third straight time and Cissell hiked to third. He scored while Reynolds was being forced by Jolley.

Two were gone with nobody on bases before the Yanks began building their four run rally in the home sixth. First of all Lary singled and stole second. Ruth walked for the third time. Lazzeri singled and Lary scored. Then Gehrig cleared the situation up with homer No. 35, which he aimed into the right field seats.

Reynolds' Double Helps.

Three runs scored by the Sox in the seventh helped to make Reynolds a hero, but meant nothing so far as the Yanks were concerned. The latter still led by five runs. Reynolds stepped up with the bases filled and doubled to drive in Berg, Pinch Hitter Lyons and Cissell, all of whom had singled.

Ruth finally broke into the party with a hit in the seventh and two more Yank runs resulted. Walsh, who started to pitch in this inning, presented a pass to Byrd after two were out. Byrd raced to second when Walsh committed a bad throw to first base. Mulleavy booted Lary's roller. The Babe doubled to right and his two team mates dashed around to the plate with the last runs of the day.

A NEW CUB

GEORGE KELLY.

Kelly to Fill Grimm's Place at First Base

George Kelly, former New York Giant and Cincinnati first baseman, was acquired by the Cubs yesterday and is to report to Manager McCarthy before today's game. Kelly comes to the Cubs from the Minneapolis club of the American association where he has been playing for more than a month.

The Cubs gave Malcolm Moss, youthful lefthanded pitcher for Kelly and one other player to be named this week.

Lester Bell has been substituting for the crippled Charley Grimm so well that the Cub manager was undecided last night whether Long George will supplant him for today's game vith the Philadelphia club.

In 33 games with Minneapolis Kelly has rolled up a batting average of 352, including six home runs. He was with New York for eight seasons and later was with the Cincinnati Reds for three and a half seasons. Moss is to report to the Minneapolis team today.

GETZ PROPOSES GROUP TO BACK SPORTS EVENTS

"Chicago needs a group of men who are willing to back professional and amateur sports events," George Getz, member of the Illinois athletic commission, told members of the press and representatives of the committee promoting the United States-British empire track meet last night at the Illinois Athletic club.

"Chicago business men have underwritten the expenses of the international track meet, assuring the spectacle for our city although Boston, Philadelphia, and Los Angeles were bidders for the meet," Mr. Getz said.

"I hope to organize a group of men this fall who will be ready to sponsor civic promotions. When an opportunity is presented such as the match proposed recently between Primo Carnera and Jack Sharkey this organization will assure the finances and bring the match to Chicago."

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Pat Malone and Hack Wilson, those sterling exponents of physical culture, aided by Woody English, Kiki Cuyler, Danny Taylor, Lester Bell and Gabby Hartnett, put on some swell calisthenics at Wrigley field yesterday afternoon, amply rewarding those who had come to the Cubs' grounds expecting to see a ball game.

To keep the record clear, the score was set down as Cubs 17, Phillies 3, although the festivities were more in the nature of one of those picnics at which the employés of Ginsberg & Murphy, wholesale, race for merchandise prizes and other mementoes.

Malone, in addition to chalking up his 15th victory of the season, engaged in a little slugging as a side feature, propelling a homer and also contributing a single to a six run outburst in the eighth inning. No runs were earned off his delivery, all three of the enemy markers coming in on two errors.

Hack Refuses to Be Outmuscled.

It is a whimsy of Mr. Malone and Mr. Wilson to compare their muscles whenever opportunity offers, and Mr. Wilson was not willing yesterday to be outmuscled by his strong man rival. Hack's demonstration was no less than his 42d homer of the year. And besides Hack smacked out three singles which drove in three runs and otherwise contributed to the dashing hither and thither.

As per his custom when contemplating some special accomplishment, Hack last night issued another message to his brothers in the three lodges he loves so dearly. He told the brothers that today he will surpass the National league record for home run hitting. This means that he will have to knock two homers in the double header this afternoon. Phil Collins is going to pitch the first game and the last time Phil started a game against the Cubs, Hack socked homers in the first and second innings.

Other Pitchers for Twin Bill.

Other pitchers who will start in the double header today are Root and either Osborn or Teachout for the Cubs and Sweetland in the second game for the Phils.

Yesterday's victory, while the Robins were losing, and the Giants were idle, put the Cubs 3½ games ahead of the Flatbushers and four games ahead of the Giants, though the Robins now are only one percentage point ahead of the McGraw team. It also gave the Cubs a record of ten wins out of eleven games against the eastern invaders, throwing out the Saturday tie with the Phillies, which is of no significance in the standings.

But to get back to yesterday's entertainers. There was Woody English, who has been such a rough citizen against all the eastern visitors. Yesterday Woody put on an imitation of a mechanical rabbit at a whippet track. He whirled around the bases no fewer than five times. He started his first trip with a single and the other four runs were scored following passes.

Snipe Hansen Routed.

The crowd was the smallest that has attended a game since the Cubs returned home, only about 10,000 braving the chill breezes. It was estimated that about 25 per cent of these were friends and relatives of Snipe Hansen, the Phils' starting pitcher, who is a Chicago boy and used to train with the Cubs at Catalina each spring. It is a pathetic item, but Snipe was knocked out in the third inning.

As things turned out, the Cubs could have laid aside their bats at the end of the third inning and still would have won. In the first inning the Cubs scored two runs on hits by English, Wilson, and Bell, and passes to Cuyler and Taylor. And in the third passes to English and Taylor and hits by Bell and Hartnett accounted for three runs. The Cubs scored three in the fourth on Malone's homer, a walk, an error, and a single by Wilson; three in the sixth on a walk, a single, and two doubles, and six in the eighth on an uprising inspired by Wilson's homer.

The fifth was the only inning in which the Phils made two hits. These, with an error on the potential third out, gave the visitors two runs. They scored again in the ninth on a single, an infield out, and another error.

SYDKA DEFEATS BURGOO, JOANNE IN CONSOLATION

Elliott Horse Is Victor in Saratoga Feature.

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—John Speed Elliott's Sydka was the winner by a close margin of the Consolation purse here today. It was a stake for those two year olds which had been named for the United States Spinaway, Grand Union, or Hopeful stakes, but which did not get any share of the money in those juvenile specials.

The value of the purse was $2,430, and Sydka had to do her very best at the end of the five and a half furlongs to outlast E. R. Bradley's Burgoo, a colt that has shown flashes of speed in several races. Joanne E. was a distant third.

Eleven in all came out for the Consolation, which was having its tenth running. Joanne E. gained an early lead; but Sydka and Burgoo were close alongside and never let Joanne E. get very far away. On the bend both Sydka and Burgoo went past Joanne E., and the battle developed between them.

The stretch run was a close battle until the last 100 yards, when Jockey Renick got another notch out of Sydka to make the victory safe. The time was 1:06 3-5.

Mrs. John D. Hertz, who scored with Risque in the Spinaway last Saturday, again saw her silks in front, and again it was a filly which landed the purse. Valenciennes, a Stefan the Great filly, won from Sweep Out, heavily backed at 9 to 10.

Betty Nuthall Scores Victory in Tennis Meet

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Betty Nuthall today led a parade of favorites through the opening round of the forty-third national women's tennis championship on the turf of the west side stadium.

Playing her first match in the United States since she was upset by Mrs. Molla Mallory in the quarter-finals of this event last year the English challenger turned back Louise MacFarland of Pasadena, Cal., by scores of 6-0, 6-1.

Mrs. Anna Harper, the left-handed San Francisco veteran who was seeded first among the United States players, crushed Dorrance Chase of Boston, 6-0, 6-1, and Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, Mass., outplayed Laura Pittenger of Camden, N. J., 6-1, 6-0, despite numerous double faults.

The field was reduced from 57 to 32 and among the survivors were all ten members of the seeded group, all but two of whom advanced in straight sets.

Mary Greef of Kansas City, the principal standard bearer of the middle west, scored a creditable victory over Anne Page of Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-4, and Catherine Wolf of Indianapolis, the western champion, played good tennis to turn back Mrs. K. J. Sherber of England, 7-5, 6-4.

VETERAN ENTERS I. A. C. 3 MILE SWIM SEPT. 6

Joe Lima, a veteran with nearly ten years' experience in marathon swimming, is one of the early entrants in the twenty-second annual Illinois A. C. three mile swim Sept. 6. Lima was a contender in the 1922 race, swimming against Richard Howell and Norman Ross. Since then he has not placed outside the first half dozen.

In the first annual Lake Shore A. C. swim of two miles, last Saturday, Lima led until the last quarter mile. Then Cy Nelson of the Lake Shore Athletic club spurted to win by inches. Had Lima seen the challenge and started his sprint sooner there would have been a different result, his handlers believe.

Boats will be furnished all contestants in the I. A. C. swim. More than a hundred starters are expected.

SHIFT DATES OF LOUISVILLE AND LATONIA RACES

Latonia, Ky., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A change in Kentucky fall racing dates so that the Churchill Downs races at Louisville will be run prior to the Latonia meet was sanctioned by the state racing commission today.

Under the new schedule Churchill Downs will open Oct. 4 and close Oct. 16, having eleven days of racing. Latonia will open Oct. 18 and close Nov. 15, with 25 days of racing.

Jim Dandy and Fox? Never Again Twain Shall Meet

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Jim Dandy, the surprise winner of the Travers, and Gallant Fox, 3 year old champion which bowed to his first defeat in that race, probably never will meet again. The nominations for the Lawrence Realization show that Jim Dandy is not named, nor is he in the Jockey Club Gold cup race. These two races are Gallant Fox's only engagements in addition to that here in the Saratoga cup race. He is to be retired at the end of this season.

Jim Dandy had been named for neither cup race and it was, of course, known that he and Gallant Fox would not clash again at this meeting. Now the hoped for return engagement at Belmont park also is off. Jim Dandy has only one engagement at Belmont park, that in the Jerome handicap, a mile race for 3 year olds with $2,500 added for which Gallant Fox has not been named.

John P. Grier Colt Brings $18,000 at Saratoga Sale

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 19.—(AP)—The second division of yearlings sent up from the Claiborne, Ky., and Ellerslie, Va., stud farms belonging to Arthur B. Hancock and partners, went on the block at the Saratoga sales paddock here tonight.

A bay colt by John P. Grier out of Lucrative, she by Mordant, brought $18,000, passing into the hands of J. P. Jones. The colt is a half brother to the stake winner Kentucky Cardinal. The same buyer gave $15,000 for a chestnut son of John P. Grier-Mill Maid, a full brother to the stake winner The Spare.

Of the even sixty head which made up tonight's offering, eleven were the progeny of John P. Grier. The sons and daughters of that famous sire, who once nearly beat Man o' War, brought a total of $89,903 to average $8,173 per head. The entire sixty head totaled $168,120, averaging $2,802.

Pacers, Trotters Compete for $25,000 at Charter Oak

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The fastest pacers and trotters in the country are expected to compete for purses totaling $25,000 during the eastern loop of the Grand Circuit meeting which will get under way tomorrow at Charter Oak park. The program calls for four days of racing. The historic Charter Oak stake for a $5,000 purse is on the program for Thursday.

Field of 18 to Run in Derby at State Fair

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Gov. Emmerson will add a beautiful trophy to the $3,000 purse which goes to the winner of the Governor's Derby which features the state fair program here on next Saturday afternoon.

The Derby, a dash at a mile and a sixteenth for 3 year olds, has attracted 18 nominations and late mails may bring three or four others. It is expected a field of 10 or a dozen will go to the post and Jockeys Earl Sande, Earl Steffan, J. Marcum, E. Shropshire, and four or five other saddle stars will be among the pilots. The field for the Derby will be drawn from the following:

Horse.	Owner.
Reveille Boy	John A. Best
Blind Love	Edward R. Bradley
Calome	A. A. Baroni
Honey Locust	Johnson N. Camden
Easter Boy	Mrs. E. Denemarck
Marie Stevens	Brammer Stock Farm
Lady Sting	J. Isabell
Jean Laffite	Keeneland Stud
Morsel	Le Mar Farm
Stopgap	Otto W. Lehmann
Fetish	John Orans
Candy Rose	Three D Farm stable
Pansy Walker	Three D Farm stable
Dixie Dreamer	Three D Farm stable
Billy Champ	Warm stable
Laughing Laura	Warm stable
Silver Cord	Keeneland Stud
Maudlin	Le Mar Farm

John Hertz, chairman of the executive committee of the Arlington Park Jockey club, Otto W. Lehmann, president, Charles A. McCulloch, chairman of the board, and Albert D. Lasker, one of the directors, have been particularly active in promoting this day of racing at Springfield. So have John C. Schank and officials of the Hawthorne track. They will bring parties of friends down from Chicago Saturday and entertain them in the fa grounds club house.

Valentine Crane, who Saturday wa a renewal of the Beverwyck steeplechase, one of the oldest of Saratoga cross country specials, with the Illinois raised jumper Personality, a half brother of his handicap horse, Downgiac, will come west early this week for the Derby. Crane, whose Wild Rose farm is one of Illinois' up and coming thoroughbred nurseries, keenly regrets that he has no 3 year old good enough for the race.

Woodward Denies Fox Was Harmed Before Classic

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—William Woodward, owner of Gallant Fox, today took cognizance of reports that his champion three year old had been tampered with at Chicago. He denied emphatically that he had ever intimated or that it had crossed his mind that all was not well with his star prior to the running of the Arlington Park Classic.

Woodward, the vice president of the Jockey club, spoke for his trainer, James Fitzsimmons, as well as for the other employes of the stable. He said that such a thing was unthinkable and that the Arlington Park Jockey club had protected the horse at all times.

MOON MULLINS—A CASUAL INTRODUCTION

THE OLD GOAT'S NEST LOOKS PURTY GOOD AFTER BEIN' AWAY ALL THESE MONTHS AT THAT.
WELL, THERE DON'T SEEM TO BE NOBODY HOME SO I THINK I'LL JUST STOW SOME OF THIS CARGO IN THE SAFE AND GO OUT AND SHOW MYSELF A GOOD TIME.
AH-HA- IT LOOKS LIKE I CAME HOME JUST IN TIME— NOW IF I CAN LAND JUST ONE GOOD SOCK-HELP POLICE!
YOU BET YER LIFE I'M GONNA HELP 'EM. JUST AS SOON AS I CAN RUSTLE UP A SQUAD WITH A WAGON!

Macks Rally in 8th; Defeat St. Louis, 6-4

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A four run rally that drove Walter Stewart out of the box in the eighth inning gave the Athletics their second straight victory over the St. Louis Browns today by a score of 6 to 4.

George Earnshaw, who lasted the distance for the Mackmen, was credited with his nineteenth win of the season. Mickey Cochrane's eighth home run of the season started the winning rally in the eighth and was followed by three doubles and a single. Ralph Kress hit for the circuit in the sixth. Score:

GALLANT FOX'S DEFEAT.

DEFEAT of Gallant Fox, previously unbeaten this season, by the 100 to 1 shot, Jim Dandy, might well be considered by those horse players prone to view every form reversal with suspicion and to demand more strenuous action by stewards.

Here was a form reversal of the first magnitude. Jim Dandy, on previous performance, did not class with Gallant Fox and Whichone. Smart turfmen wondered just why he was started, even for third money.

Owners of Gallant Fox and Whichone, on the other hand, were most keen in their desire to take this stake, not alone because of its value, but also to prove the better horse and unquestioned 3 year old supremacy. In that desire of owners, trainers and jockeys, the Fox and Whichone raced each other to defeat and let the outsider come along to win.

So the result was a flagrant form reversal, yet none for a second question its integrity. Horses never have and never will always run true to form.

Did you dream in your youth a beautiful dream,
And believe that your dream would come true?
Did you hope through the years till hope seemed dead,
While life seemed weary and pleasures few?
And then when long dreary years had fled,
Did the dream of your youth come true?
And you had forgotten the tears you shed
Through the years you were wearing rue,
And you didn't care at all for the dream you once dreamed
When at last that dream had come true?

Pocket Hole in One.

243 ATTEND 1ST SESSION AT N. U. COACHES' SCHOOL

Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics of the Western conference, delivered the opening address at Northwestern university's summer coaching school at Patten gymnasium yesterday. The first day's enrollment reached 243, a new record.

Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern heads the football department of the school. He will be aided by Pop Warner of Stanford, who will arrive Thursday. Talks will also be delivered by Coach Arnold Horween of Harvard, Judge Walter Steffen, coach of Carnegie Tech, Jess Hawley, formerly of Dartmouth, and Duke Dunne, line coach at Harvard.

Coach Knute Rockne of Notre Dame will spend a day at the school on Aug. 27. He is scheduled to talk on recent rule changes in football and what new developments may be expected in the game this fall.

Fish Driven to Lower Deck by Drought

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kenora, Lake of the Woods, Ont., Aug. 18.—Pity the poor black bass and muskies up here in this great body of water. They have been forced down to the second deck by the drought, and although we have been here but a few hours, the situation is quite evident.

Due to lack of rain up here, where there are so many lakes and rivers that the country is really more aquatic than terrestrial, the Lake of the Woods is down fully four feet. Gone are the favorite rocky reefs, shoreline pockets, and other hangouts of the fish. All the "upper deck" playgrounds of the finny tribes have been wiped out. Today, with rock shorelines standing high above the water line the poor fish are down on the second deck, and tomorrow, when we go well down the lake to fish a secluded bay or pocket, we expect to be on that deck with 'em.

Apparently low water in this great lake, which produces some whopping big 'lunge, has affected the finny tribes in several ways. At least, such is the story of the old timers and the guides with whom we have talked. This morning while making arrangements to travel down the lake tomorrow to explore some good fishing holes, one of the old timers said that the muskies had moved out of the weed beds and had taken up strategic positions on the reefs, ready to repel invaders. They ascribed this move by the fish to the low water and extremely hot weather, because not even this vacationland has escaped the effects of the summer sun's scorching rays.

If the 'lunge have checked out of the weed beds on account of 1930 weather conditions, it's going to be worth looking into. Moreover, it will be the first time in our fishing experiences that old Esox immaculatus has done such a thing in waters that we have fished. The 'lunge naturally takes to the weeds like a duck to a rice bed. He likes to lurk in a weed pocket and then pounce on his food.

However, if it is true that old Esox has moved into the open it will be that much easier to handle him. A fight with a muskie in open water is much easier than wrestling in thick weeds.

Bartell's Hit in 9th Helps Bucs Beat Robins, 4-3

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Dick Bartell's double to deep left in the ninth with the bases loaded sent Paul Waner and Adam Comorosky scampering across the plate with the runs that gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4 to 3 decision over the Brooklyn Robins today. As a result of the defeat, the Robins' lead over the third place Giants, who were idle, was reduced to one-half a game.

Preceding Bartell's hit, Glenn Wright had sent Brooklyn out in front by one run when he hit a homer in the first half of the ninth. Clark, who gave Ervin Brame a great mound battle, weakened in the ninth, as P. Waner singled and Comorosky and Bool walked. Luque relieved Clark and was greeted by Bartell's double that won the game. Injured Tilden Defeats Vines in Hard Battle

Newport, R. I., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden, suffering from injuries that made every step a painful one, today called upon his tennis experience to turn back Ellsworth Vines, young Californian, in the veteran's first match in defense of his Newport casino invitations singles championship.

The small opening day gallery saw Tilden limp through a fierce 24 game battle before overcoming Vines by margins of 9-7, 6-2.

All of the other seeded players on the American list were able to survive their opening matches and the only setback that was unexpected came when John S. Millen of New York, a newcomer to major tennis tournaments, defeated Keith Werner of Los Angeles in a gruelling extra set match, 3-6, 6-4, 9-7.

Francis T. Hunter, seeded fourth, had an easy session, defeating Elliot Hobbs, Newport, 6-2, 6-0.

MRS. ZECH'S 86 WINS MEDAL IN STATE TOURNEY

1929 Golf Champ Leads Field of 75.

Mrs. Lillian Zech, defending champion, led a field of seventy-five women golfers in the qualifying round of the women's state championship tournament yesterday at Lincoln park.

Mrs. Zech's score of 86 was six over par but five under that of Mrs. Rose Marshall, who placed second. Mrs. Zech's remarkable driving and iron shots placed her far in the lead of Mrs. Rese Long of Jackson park, her most formidable opponent last year, who came home with a score of 93.

Among the others in the championship flight were Mary Sager of Lincoln park, 93; Mrs. A. Demaree of Lincoln park, 106; Mrs. T. Langer, last year's first flight winner, and Miss Margaret Rosslein, 99, winner of THE TRIBUNE driving contest.

Pairings for today have been arranged according to qualifying score and W. G. A. club handicap. The first foursome in each play will tee off at 9 o'clock. Pairings follow:

CHICAGO MARKET FINISHES WEAK; VOLUME IS LIGHT

Merger Reported Near of Natural Gas Firms.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Business on the Chicago stock exchange was almost entirely a professional affair yesterday. It was a traders' market from the outset and one of the quietest days on the exchange floor in two years or more, with the transactions aggregating 85,000 shares.

Price movements were narrow and net changes unimportant. Opening slightly lower the market firmed up moderately and then dragged on to finish the day in about the same position it was at the end of last week.

Moderate activity appeared in a few spots, notably Bendix Aviation, which after an early dip closed up to 32, and Twin States Natural Gas which pushed ahead a fraction on a fair sales volume. The interest in Twin States followed the announcement by Edward R. Berry, vice president of the firm, that preliminary steps have been completed toward the acquisition of control in the Midland Natural Gas company.

Will Link 2 Concerns.

The merger if consummated will link (the two natural gas companies which operate extensive properties in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Kentucky. The properties of the Midland organization are in excess of 38,000 acres, with 350 wells with a daily production of about 13,000,000 cubic feet.

Twin States contemplates the issuance of short term debentures and additional class "A" stock to finance the merger and additional acquisitions which it plans.

A break of 4 points in General Theaters Equipment occurred when the drive against Fox Film was made on the New York exchange. The issue retrieved nearly all its loss and finished only slightly lower for the day. Control of the company rests with the group headed by Harley L. Clarke which bought control of the Fox properties several months ago.

Majestic Loses Point.

Majestic Household followed the general trend and sold off a point or so on a turnover of 13,350 shares, the largest volume of the day for a single stock. Actual deliveries, by the company which only recently started production, are scheduled to begin some time this week, Grigsby-Grunow stock received less attention than that of its affiliate and eased off a fraction on dull trade.

Chicago Corporation was conspicuous among the investment trust shares on comparatively heavy sales and ended the day with a modest gain.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Hudson Dividend Action.

Hudson Motors directors are scheduled to meet Wednesday for dividend action. The stock now pays $5 annually, to yield well over 16 per cent. In other words the stock market says "dividend reduction." Altogether six motor companies have cut or passed dividends this year. They are Nash, Marmon, Studebaker, Willys Overland, Hupp and Brockway. Even General Motors has not been able to pay extras. Hudson earned $2.12 in the first six months, against $6.65 last year.

Standard of Indiana.

Early improvement in the market position of Standard Oil of Indiana was forecast yesterday in oil circles. The expected improvement is based on the fact that the time limit for exchange of Pan-American stock for Standard of Indiana has expired. In addition to which earnings of the company for the present quarter of the year are understood to have shown an increase beyond expectations, with the likelihood that earnings for the full year will at least equal those of 1929.

Schulte-United Sales.

Currently selling around $3 a share, Schulte-United showed a sales gain of 39.6 per cent in July and 83.5 per cent in the seven month period ended July 31. The improvement was mainly secured through the addition of new stores to the chain, however, rather than through increasing sales in the older units. The action of the stock in declining from a high of 26 before this year, with a range of approximately two points in 1930, reflects the lack of earnings.

American Austin Reception.

Keen disappointment is understood to be felt by sponsors of American Austin, which recently was introduced to curb traders because of the lack of interest taken in the stock. American Austin manufactures the English type of midget car, which was heralded as a strong competitor of the Ford car among American automobile owners. While the company is reported to have made some headway in its sales department, its reception from a stock trading standpoint by the investing public has been disappointing.

ASSETS OF WORLD BANK INCREASED BY ONE-FOURTH

BASEL, Aug. 18.—An increase of one-fourth is shown in the assets of the bank for international settlements in its second monthly report, giving a balance sheet as of July 31, 1930. Central banks of the various European countries increased heavily their deposits, both for themselves and for accounts they handle.

Cash and securities amounted to 1,303,653,650.25 Swiss francs (about $248,000,000), almost all of this being out at interest in other banks.

The second monthly balance sheet was simplified further to show exactly the source of funds and how they are employed. The "other assets" item is only one-fifth of one per cent of the total.

HOBBS FIELD OIL STORAGE.

On Aug. 1 the total amount of crude oil in storage in the Hobbs field of New Mexico was only 183,060 barrels, leaving an unfilled tankage of 212,040 barrels. There are fifteen storage tanks in the field, ranging in capacity from 5,000 barrels to 64,000 barrels.

Ontario Power Service.

Some maturing bonds have left me with funds that I would like to reinvest. Among others I am interested in Ontario Power Service corporation first 5½s, due July 1, 1950. Please give me some information about this company and your opinion of the bonds.—W. B. I.

Ontario Power Service corporation, Ltd., is a wholly owned subsidiary of Abitibi Power and Paper company, Ltd. It is an Ontario corporation holding under lease from the province of Ontario a water power site on the Abitibi river, which is estimated to be capable of producing 275,000 horse power. The lease extends to Oct. 1, 1955, with rights of renewals extending to 1982.

The proceeds of this bond issue are to be used to meet construction costs as the work proceeds. The site of the proposed power development is about 64 miles north of Cochrane, Ont., and is served by Temiskaming and Northern Ontario railway.

The corporation has entered into 40 year contracts under which all of its output of electrical energy is to be sold to the hydro-electric power commission of Ontario and to the Abitibi Power and Paper company, Ltd.

The corporation estimates that, upon completion of construction, its annual net earnings, available for bond interest and reserves, will run from $2,172,000 in the year 1932-'33 upward to $2,868,500 in the year 1938-'39. Annual interest requirements on the first mortgage bonds will be $1,100,000.

The bonds will be secured by a trust deed constituting a first specific mortgage and charge on all the fixed assets of the corporation and on the lease from the provincial government of Ontario. The power contracts will be assigned to the trustee as additional security.

Ontario Power Service corporation first 5½ per cent bonds are considered a business man's investment.

Simmons Co.

Will you kindly supply information as to dividends paid on Simmons company common? What is par? What has been the rate of earnings for the last few years? Is it a sound investment at present market quotations?—W. F. P.

Dividends have been omitted on Simmons company common since May 1, 1930, when a 75 cent payment was made. This is a no par stock.

Earnings in the fiscal year ended Nov. 30, 1929, were $4.15 per common share, against $3.89 in 1928 and $3.86 per share in the 13 months ended Dec. 31, 1927.

This stock is a speculation.

ADDRESS

To the Holders of Chicago Rapid Transit Company

Prior Preferred Stock

(SERIES A and B)

The holders of a large amount of the stock above mentioned have requested the undersigned to act as a Committee to represent the interests of the holders of said stock in connection with the consolidation of the properties of Chicago Rapid Transit Company, Chicago Railways Company, Chicago City Railway Company, The Southern Street Railway Company, and Calumet and South Chicago Railway Company, to accomplish which consolidation or unification a plan of financial reorganization is being prepared. The Chicago Rapid Transit Company for many years has been unable to earn an adequate return upon its investment due to the excessive cost of financing improvements and extensions and to competition with the Surface Lines for both long and short haul business. In the opinion of the undersigned, the proposed consolidation will provide for a better and more economic division of this business, enabling both Elevated and Surface Lines to supply improved service in their respective fields. The concentration of the facilities of the Elevated Lines on long haul and of the Surface Lines on short haul service will undoubtedly be reflected in the earnings of the consolidated company, and it will, therefore, be placed in a position to compete successfully for new capital on favorable terms.

Holders of Prior Preferred Stock (Series A and B) are therefore requested to deposit their certificates with the Depositary named below, on the terms and conditions set forth in a Deposit Agreement dated August 15, 1930, a copy of which is on file with the Depositary. Depositors will be entitled to receive certificates of deposit as provided in the Deposit Agreement. The prompt deposit of such stock is absolutely essential to a successful completion of the unification or consolidation of these properties.

When a financial plan has been perfected, and, if it is then approved by the Committee, notice will be given by advertisement and mailed to all registered holders of certificates of deposit, and depositors will then have the right to inspect the plan and to withdraw their stock, if they so desire, within thirty days, in accordance with the terms of the Deposit Agreement.

CROP SITUATION DOESN'T APPEAR SO DRY, HUNGRY

Says Drought Tales Exaggerated.

BY O. A. MATHER.

They're not going broke out in the country where the tall corn grows—and also wheat, oats, barley, hogs, cattle, and chickens. In fact, they're not even going to go hungry, cold or ragged. They've still got money out there and they're going to spend it about as usual.

I've just put in two weeks driving through Iowa and rambling around in Nebraska and, as a result, come to the conclusion that conditions are not nearly as bad as recently have been painted by eastern politicians and swivel chair economists. In fact, it is my suspicion that quite a bit of false sympathy has been wasted on those Iowa and Nebraska farmers. Furthermore, they are a pretty independent lot and don't exactly relish tears for their plight. My observations, of course, are largely confined to those two states of Iowa and Nebraska.

Pretty Fair Corn Harvest.

The corn crop hasn't gone all to pot in Iowa and Nebraska. It should prove a pretty fair harvest in Nebraska and probably better than recently forecast in Iowa. Two weeks ago the corn loked pretty sick in Iowa and slightly hurt in Nebraska, but since then Mother Nature has intervened. When there is drought in those two states it's about as hot and dry as anywhere this side of the Sahara desert. But when it rains it surely does rain! I saw it rain two inches in two hours one day last week.

"I've lived in this country for nearly fifty years and I think I've seen about everything it can produce," a Nebraska farmer told me. "Of course, I've seen crop failures and both lean and fat years. This year is neither, but just an average year. Lots of years we've worried about the crops, but lots of times the rain came in time. It came this month just in time

Large Steel Merger Trial Is Resumed

Youngstown, O., Aug. 18. — (AP) — Hearing of the injunction suit to prevent the Youngstown Sheet and Tube-Bethlehem Steel corporation merger went forward today after another week's delay with the court's conditional acceptance of three executors of the estate of Myron C. Wick Jr. to substitute as co-plaintiffs for Wick.

Attorneys defending the merger showed unexpected opposition to the plaintiff counsel's action in substituting the Wick executors. The objection of Attorney Newton D. Baker of defense counsel was conditionally overruled by Common Pleas Judge David Jenkins, so the trial might proceed. The objection will be passed upon at the conclusion of the testimony.

Wick, who protested the merger as an individual stockholder and filed the injunction suit with International Shares corporation, died Aug. 8, and his death delayed resumption of the trial until today.

New Plaintiffs.

The new plaintiffs are Mrs. Frances Wick, widow of the original co-plaintiff, his brother, Philip Wick, and W. B. Todd of New Jersey, brother of Mrs. Wick.

The fourth executor, the Dollar Savings and Trust company, Youngstown, declined to join the plaintiff's side. According to law the trust company then automatically became a defendant, but will take no part in the action.

Attorney Baker's objection was based on a contention that the executors cannot legally revive Wick's interest in the case. He declared that such interest died with Wick's passing and that International Shares, in which Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier, is the guiding spirit, could be the only remaining plaintiff.

Lapses Back.

When this question was disposed by conditional overruling the hearing lapsed back into a technical state where it was ten days ago, with Hassell Tippit, auditor for the plaintiffs, on the stand for cross-examination. Interest shifted to the defense counsel table, directly back of which sat Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem; Henry G. Dalton, vice president of Sheet and Tube and director of Bethlehem, and John L. Severance, Cleveland, Sheet and Tube director.

In comparing the two concerns Tippit rewrote Bethlehem's depreciation account, by placing it on a 4 per cent basis, the same as Youngstown's, and thereby reducing Bethlehem's quoted earning for 1929 by $7,645,000.

In an effort to discredit this computation Attorney Wood attempted to pin Tippit down to a definite statement whether he would have refused to certify Bethlehem's 1929 report except with qualifications as to the depreciation account. Bethlehem used a depreciation rate of little more than 2 per cent. Tippit's answer was that he had boosted the depreciation rate only to make it comparable with Youngstown's and was not in a position to say whether he would have certified Bethlehem's report.

Banker Says Rails to Lack 5¾% Return

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 18.—Railroads of the United States will fail to earn the statutory return of 5¾ per cent on their valuation by nearly $500,000,000 during 1930, F. J. Lisman, railroad banker, said today. He believes the best that can "reasonably be looked for by way of railroad earnings for 1931 is recovery of one-half the loss of 1930 compared with 1929.

Cites Weakness.

Mr. Lisman cited the following elements of weakness and strength in the railroad picture today:

Constant whittling of the rate structure; further loss of passenger business; loss of l. c. l. and carload freight to highway competition, and the continuing consolidation and coordination of various industries which will gradually eliminate wasteful competition among themselves and thus reduce the amount of competitive cross shipments.

"Coal traffic," he said, "is likely to decrease further with the growing competition from hydro-electric development, oil and natural gas.

Have Not Learned.

"With very few exceptions," he continued, "railroads have not learned to 'merchandise' transportation. The railroads have 'solicitors' or what in mercantile parlance are designated as 'order takers.' They do not have salesmen.

"Elements of strength in the situation are operating efficiently and realization on part of the interstate commerce commission of the need for increased revenue as evidenced by the recent advances in class rates in the east and middle west and in many other ways."

WHEAT PRICES DECLINE DUE TO FOREIGN OFFERS

Corn Also Breaks as Drought Ends.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain values were on the downgrade yesterday from the start, selling of wheat being based on increased pressure of offerings of Canadian and Russian grain abroad, while more favorable weather for the new corn crop caused unloading by local and commission house holders.

Wheat dropped as much as 3c and corn 3¼c from Saturday's finish with stop loss orders uncovered on the way down. Buying against bids was the main influence in checking the decline, but the close was about the bottom with wheat showing net losses of 2½@2⅞c. September finished at 87⅛@87¼c; December, 92@92⅛c; March, 96⅝@96¾c, and May, 99⅝@99¾c.

Wheat prices have declined to a point where they are within striking distance of the lowest figures of the crop, and sentiment which was so bullish a while ago has changed materially. December touched 91⅜c on the break, or 1½c above the season's low, and there was little foreign de-

July Runs Up Gain in Bank Acceptances

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Bankers' dollar acceptances increased $44,864,084 in July to a total of $1,349,695,306 on July 31, the American Acceptance council reported today.

The July 31 total was $222,996,501 more than the total for the same date year ago.

The report showed that the volume of dollar acceptances began the normal seasonal increase last month, but the increase was wholly due to the gain of $53,000,000 in the volume of acceptances financing goods stored abroad or shipped between foreign countries.

This was to a large extent, the report said, a movement of financing away from London banks, accounted for partly because of lower American rates and partly to a disinclination of British institutions to add to their bill total at the present time. The total of dollar acceptances used to finance these foreign transactions now amount to $495,041,888, the greatest amount ever used for such purposes.

The acceptance council survey said the gain was less encouraging than was expected, as it was anticipated that new cotton and wheat bills would come into the market in substantial volume by July 31.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 18.—Business was as slow as cold molasses on the New York Stock exchange today. The chaps who make or break a market exercised their intellects with long thin fishing yarns and week-end golf tales and steadfastly refused to get overheated about anything with share price movements.

A rather sorry spectacle it all made, at best. Dealings fell off to a mere 1,413,610 shares, the smallest turnover in a fortnight, and the day's changes were very largely in fractions. In general the market movement was downward during the forenoon and up again toward the last. The close found the leaders mainly on the "off"

19 Seconds

This bank has originated and introduced a new plan for the making of commercial bank deposits that has simplified and "speeded-up" the age-old system of depositing money. Waiting in line is now eliminated.

It is the fastest and simplest bank-deposit plan ever devised and has already proved its practicability. You step up to the window, hand in your deposit, receive an "Identification Coupon", and walk out. That's all there is to it. It is so simple that it—

Makes Depositing
Just As Easy As Checking Your Hat!

Come in and see this plan in operation or write for descriptive folder explaining it in detail. It will save time for you, for your bank messenger, and for your bookkeeping department. Let us explain how.

The National Bank of the REPUBLIC OF CHICAGO

What follows is in all its essential facts a true experience. Because of the confidential nature of The Northern Trust Company's relationships, identities and personal details have been disguised

The legacy a father left to his motherless lad of twelve

HE was very much alone in the world—this motherless boy of twelve years . . .

When sudden illness took his father's life, a modest amount—scarcely adequate—was available to see the boy through.

There was no close relative, nobody to look after him, but the father had placed all that he owned with The Northern Trust Company for his son's education.

To give a lonely boy the care of a parent, so far as lay within their power, was the aim of the trust officers when they took over the estate.

They went over with the boy the ambitions and plans which he and his father had discussed together. With his approval they chose for him a school, and later a college. They watched and guided every step he made—in those difficult years.

More and more frequently he consulted with his trust officers. He graduated from secondary school, won honors at college. His trust funds, carefully handled, provided his sole means of support.

Today could the father return he would find a son of sterling character, with the confidence of success at his back—and with funds and counsel for still greater success at his command.

The father's legacy, poor in material funds, proved precious in its provision for the care a boy must have. And a father's wish was fulfilled because his trustee accepted, in its tradition of forty years, the human spirit of the trust obligation.

What are your plans for your Estate?

You may write into your Will the purposes you wish your estate to accomplish. But you depend upon others to carry out the spirit of the Will, to uphold impartially the interests of your heirs, to guard against estate shrinkage, and the costly liquidation of valuable assets.

To do these tasks as though you yourself were here to supervise them has been the tradition of The Northern Trust Company for more than forty years.

The Northern Trust Plan

From a rich trust experience certain money-saving pre-administrative practices have been developed. Their purpose is to conserve net values against the serious shrinkages that usually occur. They are embodied in The Northern Trust Plan.

What this plan will save your estate a discussion with a trust officer will speedily disclose. At its home on the northwest corner of La Salle and Monroe Streets an officer of The Northern Trust Company will be glad to confer with you.

IN COMMERCIAL BANKING

The Northern Trust Company offers the same careful attention to your banking business as it does to your affairs of trust. Sound banking as practiced here leaves ample room for an energetic and resultful effort to serve. You will find the bank officers easily accessible, and familiar with the problems of your type of business. Won't you come in for a visit?

FOREIGN OFFERS PUT WHEAT PRICE ON THE TOBOGGAN

Corn Market Also Breaks as Drought Ends.

Report Better Weather.

Better weather conditions on the continent and withdrawal of millers as buyers were responsible for a break of 1⅞@2¼d in Liverpool wheat, and cables from abroad told of increased offers of Russian grain at lower prices. Harvesting in Canada is well under way and hedging pressure is becoming a factor in the Winnipeg market which has gradually lost ground as compared with Chicago. October at Winnipeg was only 3⅝c over Chicago September at the last compared with 8c recently.

Buying of September wheat against sales of December, credited to changing over hedges by cash interest, narrowed the difference fractionally, the spread at the last being around 5c. Many speculators who bought on the recent upturn in the market have become discouraged of late and have sold out.

Northwestern hedging pressure is increasing, and with a light speculative trade the market is easily influenced. Failure to make a definite statement as to how the Canadian wheat crop will be financed this season, is regarded in some quarters as causing European buyers to hold off.

An increase of 8,519,000 bu in the domestic visible supply was about as expected by wheat traders, with the total now 174,020,000 bu against 169,368,000 bu last year.

Rains Cause Break in Corn.

A practical breaking of the prolonged drought over part of the corn belt and the belief that some improvement would be shown in the crop led local longs to take the selling side of corn at the start, but around 90c for December there was a good class of support. On all rallies long grain came out, and the finish was about the bottom with net loses of 2¼@3⅛c. September being 95@95⅛c; December, 90@90⅛c; March, 91¾@92c, and May, 94¼@94⅝c.

Many traders expressed a belief that no matter how much rain was received it would have little effect on the corn crop, calling attention to the fact that the pollinization stage has long since been passed and the grain has set on the cob. Numerous reports to J. E. Bennett & Co. covering Illinois and Iowa showed a very spotted condition with many barren stalks in some sections.

September Corn Strong.

September corn showed the most strength, and according to the gossip of the trade there is a fairly liberal short interest in that delivery as a hedge against purchases of September rye. With liberal stocks of the latter grain available for delivery and very little corn, it makes an interesting situation as the trade sees it. Country offerings of corn to arrive were light and shipping demand good, sales being 145,000 bu. A decrease of 393,000 bu was shown in the visible supply, making the total 2,653,000 bu against 7,105,000 bu last year.

Action of the corn market of late has caused some operators to turn to the selling side of futures in the belief that the government reports claiming that there was a prospective shortage of feed grains would result in great economies in feeding operations. December corn at the low point yesterday, 89¾c, was the lowest at which it sold since Aug. 5.

Oats Finish at Low Point.

Weakness in other grains had a depressing effect on oats and the finish was at the bottom, with net losses of 1¼@1¾c, September being 38½@38⅝c, and December, 41⅝@41¾c at the last. Commission houses were on both sides of the market. Country offerings to arrive were small, but the visible supply increased 3,830,000 bu for the week.

Northwestern hedging pressure and scattered liquidation caused a break of 3@3¾c in rye, with September closing at 55⅝c and December 60⅞@61c. Minneapolis, however, lost only 1½@1¾c for the day.

BUTTER AND EGGS

Butter futures eased fractionally yesterday on the Chicago mercantile exchange, reports of rain over the production area causing nervousness. A few holders of recently accumulated lines unloaded and the November futures dropped, closing at 41¾c, off ⅝c from Friday. Egg futures displayed strength and gained ⅝c.

There was a tendency on the part of a few traders to discount the reports of rain, these holding that pastures were too badly damaged by the drought for rain to bring immediate relief. However, the weather reports caused considerable profit taking, the market dropping to 41c during the day. The storage report showing 416,000 lbs more removed from storage than was taken out a year ago, coupled with a fair amount of buying, aided in keeping the break within a narrow range. Sales: Butter, 241 cars; eggs, 53 cars. Receipts: Butter, 12,248 tubs; eggs, 12,500 cases. Prices follow:

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

Foreign buyers of cash wheat showed a decided disposition to go slow. Pressure of Canadian and Russian grain was reported abroad and messages from the seaboard indicated that only 2000,000 bu North American wheat had been sold for export during the day. German cable said sale of cargo of Canadian wheat to Vladivostock last week was for seed purposes.

Little change was noted in the basis on cash wheat in the local sample market with No. 1 red and hard, September price to ⅛c over; No. 1 northern, September to ⅛c under; No. 2 red, September to ¼c under; No. 2 hard, ⅛@½c under and No. 2 northern, ½@¾c under September. At this time a year ago No. 1 and No. 2 grades of winter was selling at 2@5c under September.

Outside markets secured a good part of the cash corn offered by the country overnight, local handlers booking only 40,000 bu, mainly at 2½c over September for 5 to 10 day shipment. Shipping sales aggregated 145,000 bu with charters made for 100,000 bu to Buffalo. Argentine cleared 272,000 bu corn for Canada last week.

Local cash corn basis was steady to ⅛c lower. Premiums as compared with September follows: No. 1 mixed and yellow, 3@3¼c; white, 5¼@5½c; No. 2 mixed and yellow, 3@3¼c; white, 5@5¼c. Monticello, Ill., reported the bulk of the old corn in that territory had now been moved, or would be held for feeding purposes.

Cash oats sold fairly with the basis steady to ⅛c lower. No. 2 white sold at September price to ⅛c under and No. 3 white at ⅛@1⅛c under the future. Shipping sales were 35,000 bu with charters made for 100,000 bu to Buffalo. Omaha reported a good demand for cash barley from feeders.

PIT NOTES

All grains were regarded as having a heavy undertone last night, although the sharp decline was said to have partially corrected an overbought situation. Lack of confidence among holders of corn owing to scattered rains, it was said, deterred large locals from buying on the breaks, but commission houses had a fair run of orders. The markets are regarded as two sided, particularly on corn, while wheat men argued that should corn prices fail to advance there is nothing prices fail to advance there is nothing at the moment in the wheat situation to warrant expectations of a big advance.

One of the Chicago crop experts expresses the belief that corn has suffered its worst damage for the time being, and there can be no recovery in many instances. Corn not too badly injured is said to have promise of improvement. A review of the corn market for a series of years during crop scares shows that bulges early in the season do not always last, but the real bull movement comes after the turn of the year. An impression also prevails that prices have been forced up rather too rapidly, considering the uncertainty as to extent of the crop damage.

S. C. Harris, who has been on an extended vacation, was back in the market yesterday. Discussing the recent buying and advance in grains, he said: "Technically, the advance resulted in serious reduction in the short interest and a weakened bull position. That is now being corrected and prices are getting down to a level where we would not care to sell on breaks. We think a trading market is the best that can be anticipated." As to corn he said: "We imagine the result will be sufficient corn to go around by the use of enforced economies and it seems to us that corn prices are selling quite high enough to discount all crop deterioration."

JULY DATA ON SHEET STEEL IS REPORTED

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Sheet steel production for the month of July totaled 186,206 tons, or 50.4 per cent of rated capacity, and unfilled orders as of Aug. 1 totaled 432,298 tons, the National Association of Flat Rolled Steel Manufacturers reported. Sales for the month totaled 207,400 tons and total shipments 194,767 tons. Approximate unsold stock on hand Aug. 1 was 82,708 tons.

Iron ore shipments from Lake Erie docks to interior furnaces during the first half of August totaled 1,915,217 tons, compared with 2,525,095 in the corresponding period last year.

COTTONSEED OIL.

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Was fairly active today, with the tone easier most of the time, closing barely steady at net losses of 10 to 25 points on old contracts and 10 to 18 points on the new. Locals, refiners, brokers, and commission houses, were on both sides of the market, with indications of considerable exchanging of interest from September to March. Sales were 6,500 barrels in the old contracts and 7,950 in the new. Prime crude, 6.75c. Prime summer yellow old: Spot, 8.20c; September, 8.22c; December, 8.10c. DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—COTTON—prices somewhat easier. Wide sheeting. Goods were quiet today, with gray cloth sheet and pillow casg reductions continued, leading lines being priced 6c a yard lower on a basis of 10-bleached. Raw silk was unchanged and the demand light. Wool goods are being bought in small lots, chiefly for nearby cutting.

CORN AND EGG PRODUCTS FIRM.

Corn products continued to point higher last week, due to the scarcity of the raw material, while a turn for the better was witnessed in Chinese egg products, according to the Oil, Paint, and Drug Reporter, which, in its review of dyestuffs and tanstuffs, noted declines of 50c per ton in mangrove bark and $1 per ton in valonia.

Receipts at Chicago today, 6,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs, and 18,000 sheep.

All classes of live stock were strong to higher prices yesterday. Top cattle passed the $11.00 line for the first time this month, fancy highlings selling at $11.15. Hogs sold up to $10.95, highest since March 31, $1.85 above the low spot eight days ago.

Six of the 11 leading outside markets reported hogs at $11.00 and over, the peak reaching $11.50 at one of the far eastern markets. More than 100 lambs reached $10.00, equaling the highest price paid for lambs since July 18.

Hogs Sell Freely.

Hogs sold freely at most all higher prices soon after a steady to strong opening yesterday, with the bulk prices highest of the day when the bulk of the shipping orders were filled. The clearance was the best for the day in some time. Only 3,000 head holders and inferior grades remained at the close.

Fancy 180@195 lb averages sold at $10.95, while the general market moved up to $9.90, comparing with the top of $10.00 and average of $9.85 the previous Monday.

Prevailing hog prices are around 60c below a year ago. The high point of Monday's average was $1.85 lower than a year earlier, while a month ago prices were averaging $2.00 lower than in 1929. Many in the trade attribute the advance in prices to the fact that receipts have failed to reflect this expected increase since the end of the heat wave ended.

November Hogs, $9.00.

Although several of the large packing interests showed slight price declines, the futures market yesterday, as a whole, was active, with the volume the largest in two weeks. Six carloads of November sold at $10.50, 10 loads of December light sold at $10.40, and one load of mediums brought $10.30. Two carloads of November 250 lb butchers sold at $9.00 on the "specials" list, which is 50c above the last sale of November contracts. Feeding hogs in August and September delivery sold at $9.00@9.25, while steady bids at $8.25@8.50 were refused.

Cattle receipts were small and met brisk demand at mostly higher prices, some of the gains on neglected medium and weighty steers showing even more gain, although best demand centered on light steers and yearlings. The latter topped the market at $11.15, averaging 1,000 lbs.

Nearly 200 cattle sold at $11.00 or above. Prime 1,588 lb averages brought $10.65. Butcher stock met broad demand, but at stronger prices, a strong lot of heifers averaging 826 lbs reaching $10.75. Calves sold steady, while stockers and feeders sold readily at steady to higher prices.

Lambs Sell Stronger.

Although a larger proportion of yesterday's lamb offerings represented top prices, the market was generally strong, considering the better quality offered. Sorting was liberal for some time. About 2,400 westerns and native lambs topped the list at $10.00, with best natives sold at $9.75@9.90. Fat sheep and yearlings were steady to unchanged. Country demand was usually brisk and feeder prices were 25c to 25c higher. Several cars of feeders sold at $6.50@6.75, while a few of the best selections at $7.00.

Receipts at Chicago for the week are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs and 18,000 sheep, against 7,000 cattle, 20,558 hogs, and 14,063 sheep the previous Tuesday and 8,422 cattle, 18,891 hogs, and 18,891 sheep a year ago.

British Combine Puts Off Plan to Send Cocoa Futures Here

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

New York, Aug. 18.—Even though the British combine was buying heavily in the spot cocoa market, thereby giving consistent support to the December position, has sent cocoa futures up sharply on the New York exchange. The sudden exit of the combine last week, after having withdrawn its support for futures, puzzled the cocoa trade, for the combine in control of the bulk of visible cocoa supplies of the world, including about four-fifths of the New York supply, its activities have been the most important influence on prices.

American Commonwealth Electric, Gas Output Gains

American Commonwealth Power corporation reported yesterday that electric output for the first six months of this year showed an increase of 7 per cent, and gas sales an increase of 11 per cent. The increase in total electric and gas sales was greater than the increase during the 1929 period of 1929 over the corresponding 1928 period.

Top yesterday, $10.00; average, $9.15.
Receipts at Chicago today, 6,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs, and 18,000 sheep.

All classes of live stock sold at strong to higher prices yesterday. Top cattle passed the $11.00 line for the first time this month, fancy light yearlings selling at $11.15. Hogs soared to $10.95, highest since March 14 and $1.85 above the low spot eight weeks ago.

Six of the 11 leading outside points reported hogs at $11.00 and above, the peak reaching $11.50 at one of the far eastern markets. More than 2,000 lambs reached $10.00, equal to the highest price paid for lambs since July 18.

Hogs Sell Freely.

Hogs sold freely at mostly 25c higher prices soon after a steady to strong opening yesterday, with closing prices highest of the day when several of the shipping orders were unfilled. The clearance was the best for Monday in some time. Only 3,000 pen holders and inferior grades remained at the close.

Fancy 180@195 lb averages brought $10.95, while the general average moved up to $9.90, comparing with a top of $10.00 and average of $9.05 the previous Monday.

Prevailing hog prices are averaging 60c below a year ago. The previous Monday's average was $1.95 lower than a year earlier, while a month ago prices were averaging $2.60 lower than in 1929. Many in the trade attribute the advance in prices to the fact that receipts have failed to show the expected increase since the recent heat wave ended.

November Hogs, $9.00.

Although several of the larger contracts showed slight price declines on the futures market yesterday, trading was active, with the volume largest in two weeks. Six carloads of September light sold at $10.50. A load of December light sold at $9.00 and one load of mediums brought $8.85. Two carloads of November mediums sold at $9.00 on the "specials" board, which is 50c above the last sale of November contracts. Feeding lambs for August and September delivery carried steady bids at $6.25@6.50.

Cattle receipts were smaller and met brisk demand at mostly 25c higher prices, some of the recently neglected medium and weighty steers showing even more gain, although the best demand centered on light weighs and yearlings. The latter topped the market at $11.15, averaging 1,072 lbs.

Nearly 200 cattle sold at $11.00. Prime 1,588 lb averages reached $10.65. Butcher stock met better outlet at stronger prices, a string of 53 heifers averaging 826 lbs bringing $10.75. Calves sold steady. Stockers and feeders sold readily at strong to higher prices.

Lambs Sell Stronger.

Although a larger proportion of yesterday's lamb offerings reached the top prices, the market was steady to strong, considering the better quality offered. Sorting was lightest in some time. About 2,400 western range lambs topped the list at $10.00, while best natives sold at $9.75@9.85. Aged sheep and yearlings were scarce and unchanged. Country demand was unusually brisk and feeder prices strong to 25c higher. Several carloads of feeders sold at $6.50@6.75, with a few of the best selections at $7.00@7.10.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,000 cattle, 19,000 hogs, and 18,000 sheep, against 7,240 cattle, 20,553 hogs, and 14,063 sheep, the previous Tuesday and 8,422 cattle, 23,620 hogs, and 18,891 sheep a year ago.

British Combine Purchases Send Cocoa Futures Up

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 18.—Evidence that the British combine was buying steadily in the spot cocoa market, thus offering consistent support to the September position, has sent cocoa futures up sharply on the New York cocoa exchange. The sudden entrance of the combine last week, after it had withdrawn its support for two weeks, puzzled the cocoa trade, for, with the combine in control of the bulk of the visible cocoa supplies of the world, including about four-fifths of the New York supply, its activities constitute the most important influence to cocoa prices.

American Commonwealths Electric, Gas Output Up

American Commonwealths Power corporation reported yesterday its electric output for the first six months of this year showed an increase of 16 per cent, and gas sales an increase of 11 per cent. The increase both in electric and gas sales was greater than the increase during the similar period of 1929 over the corresponding 1928 period.

CROP SITUATION DOESN'T APPEAR SO DRY, HUNGRY

Says Tales of Drought, Heat Are Exaggerated.

to save the corn crop and we already have harvested a good wheat crop.

Not Much Wheat Money.

"There isn't much money in raising wheat to sell at 60 or 70 cents a bushel, although the heavier yield this year will help out. And every year we are harvesting more wheat by the combine machine, which results in lower costs. Many of us didn't expect any great things from the government's experiment in fixing grain prices, so we are not particularly disappointed. You see, quite a few of us have witnessed various political experiments since the free silver days of Bryan and Populist movement.

"But there'll be money in the corn crop this year. See that lot of hogs and steers over there? I can make money feeding 70 cent corn to $7 hogs and cattle, and they're selling higher than that now and probably will keep up."

What this farmer meant was that he could make a good profit feeding corn worth 70 cents a bushel to live stock worth more than $7 a hundredweight. Furthermore, another farmer told me that he could make money raising chickens even with eggs at 12 cents a dozen and poultry at 12 cents a pound.

Matter of Cynicism.

Just as the government's excursion into the grain market is a matter of some cynical comment among farmers who really work the land, so there isn't a great deal of sympathy with pleas to curtail wheat raising.

In the great wheat country in western Nebraska I saw the grain being steadily hauled to market although the price was only around 60 cents a bushel.

"Wheat is practically our only crop, although we are experimenting with a species of corn that will stand our August hot weather," a land owner whose tenants farm nearly 5,000 acres, said: "At present, wheat is our main crop and it is a ready money crop. Just as long as we can make any profit raising wheat, we'll raise about as much of it as we can. We can't raise wheat on the land every year. It has to lie fallow to recuperate. And even in the growing years hail or weather may cause heavy loss. So about all we can do is raise all the wheat we can when we can and hope for a fair price."

Those farmers are a pretty independent lot. They're willing to "it their own experience and the general average of results year in and year out against all the advice and projects of politicians and officials. They'll work their land about as they always have done. And when they have spare time they'll go to town, buy what they need in the stores—and attend the "movies."

SHEEP RANCHERS OF TEXAS WANT FREIGHT CUTS

San Angelo, Tex., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Five railways operating in Texas were asked today by the Sheep and Goat Raisers' association to reduce by 50 per cent freight charges on the movement of Texas sheep and lambs to interstate and intrastate points from Aug. 25 to Nov. 1.

The railways petitioned were the Santa Fe, Rock Island, Missouri Pacific, Southern Pacific and Frisco.

Telegrams sent by T. A. Kincaid of Ozona, president of the association, and A. H. Priest of Fort Worth, manager of the Livestock Traffic association of Fort Worth, set forth that severe drought exists in parts of west Texas, that prices on lambs are half what they were last year and that because feeders do not have the money to buy lambs, the ranchman must ship his lambs to the feed and perhaps feed them on a share basis with the owner of the feed.

Building Permits Make July Gain in Leading Cities

S. W. Straus & Co. reported building permits taken out in the leading cities of the nation for July showed an increase of 13.5 per cent over June, as contrasted to a normal seasonal reduction of 13 per cent from June to July, but the July total was about 36 per cent under July, 1929, and last year was a slack year in building.

PNEUMATIC CASINGS.

According to statistics issued by the Rubber Manufacturers association, inventories of pneumatic casings on hand June 30, amounting to 14,162,170, were 1.2 per cent under May 31 and 19.5 per cent below June 30 a year ago. Production of pneumatic casings for the first six months of 1930 exceeded shipments by less than 5 per cent, as compared with 9 per cent for the same period a year ago and 7 per cent in 1928.

Duquesne Gas Corporation

Valuable Properties

This Corporation owns 155 gas wells situated in the great natural gas fields of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Gas rights are controlled through lease, or owned in fee, in over 40,000 acres of land located in the densely populated and highly industrialized section of the country around Pittsburgh.

In the opinion of many industrialists and engineers, our country is entering upon a "natural gas age." Send for circular describing the activities of this Corporation.

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

SYNOPSIS.

Mr. Clement, vicar of a country village in England, at luncheon tells his wife, Griselda, and young nephew, Dennis, who lives with them, that any one who murdered Colonel Protheroe would be doing the world at large a service. The colonel enjoys making life miserable for his daughter, Lettice, and his second wife, and fusses about the running of the parish. He suspects that there are defalcations in the church accounts and is coming over the next evening to go over them with the vicar. Griselda, nearly twenty years younger than her husband, refuses to take anything, including the parish, seriously.

INSTALLMENT II.

TEA AND SCANDAL.

Griselda is a very irritating woman. On leaving the luncheon table, I had hit myself to be in a good mood for preparing a really forceful address for the Church of England Men's society. Now I felt restless and disturbed.

Just when I was really settling down to it, Lettice Protheroe drifted in. I use the word drifted advisedly. I have read novels in which young people are described as bursting with energy—joie de vivre—the magnificent vitality of youth. . . . Personally, all the young people I come across have the air of amiable wraiths.

Lettice was particularly wraithlike this afternoon. She is a pretty girl, very tall and fair and completely vague. She drifted through the French window, absently pulled off the yellow beret she was wearing and murmured vaguely with a kind of faraway surprise.

"O, it's you."

There is a path from Old Hall through the woods which comes out by our garden gate, so that most people coming from there come in at that gate and up to the study window instead of going a long way 'round by the road and coming to the front door. I was not surprised at Lettice coming in this way, but I did a little resent her attitude.

If you come to a vicarage, you ought to be prepared to find a vicar.

She came in and collapsed in a heap in one of my big arm chairs.

"Is Dennis any where about?"

"I haven't seen him since lunch. I understand he was going to play tennis at your place."

"O!" said Lettice. "I hope he isn't. He won't find anybody there."

"He said you'd asked him."

"I believe I did. Only that was Friday. And today's Tuesday."

"It's Wednesday," I said.

"O, how dreadful," said Lettice. "That means that I've forgotten to go to lunch with some people for the third time."

Fortunately, it didn't seem to worry her much.

"Is Griselda anywhere about?"

"There's been quite a shemozzle about him," said Lettice, "about his painting me. Father found out about it. Why shouldn't I be painted in my bathing dress? If I go on a beach in it, why shouldn't I be painted in it?"

Lettice paused and then went on.

"It's really absurd—father forbidding a young man the house. Of course, Lawrence and I simply shriek about it. If only I had some money I'd go away, but without it I can't. If only father would be decent and die, I should be all right."

"You must not say things like that, Lettice."

"Well, if he doesn't want me to want him to die, he shouldn't be so horrible over money. I don't wonder mother left him. Do you know for years I believed she was dead. What sort of a young man did she run away with? Was he nice?"

"It was before your father came to live here."

"I wonder what's become of her. I expect Anne will have an affair with some one soon. Anne hates me—she's quite decent to me—but she hates me. She's getting old and she doesn't like it. That's the age you break out, you know."

I wondered if Lettice was going to spend the entire afternoon in my study.

"You haven't seen my gramophone records, have you?" she asked.

"No."

"How tiresome. I know I've left them somewhere. And I've lost the dog. And my wrist watch is somewhere, only it doesn't much matter because it won't go. O dear, I must go. I'm going to see Dr. Stone's barrow at three o'clock."

I glanced at the clock and remarked that it was now five and twenty to four.

"O is it? How dreadful. I wonder if they've waited or if they've gone without me."

"You'll tell Dennis, won't you?"

I said "yes" mechanically, only realizing too late that I had no idea what it was I was to tell Dennis. But I reflected that in all probability it did not matter. I fell to cogitating on the subject of Dr. Stone, a well known archæologist who had recently come to stay at the Blue Boar, while he superintended the excavation of a barrow situated on Col. Protheroe's property. There had already been several disputes between him and the colonel. I was amused at his appointment to take Lettice to see the operations.

I wondered how Lettice would get on with the archæologist's secretary, Miss Cram. Miss Cram is a healthy young woman of twenty-five, noisy in manner, with a high color, fine animal spirits and a mouth that always seems to have more than its full share of teeth.

Village opinion is divided as to whether she is no better than she should be, or else a young woman of iron virtue who proposes to become Mrs. Stone at an early opportunity. She is in every way a great contrast to Lettice.

I could imagine that the state of things at Old Hall might not be too happy. Col. Protheroe had married again some five years previously. The second Mrs. Protheroe was a remarkably handsome woman in a rather unusual style. I had always guessed that the relations between her and her stepdaughter were not too happy.

I had one more interruption. This time it was my curate, Hawes. He wanted to know the details of my interview with Protheroe. I told him that the colonel had deplored his "Romish tendencies," but that the real purpose of his visit had been on quite another matter. At the same time I entered a protest of my own and told him plainly that he must conform to my ruling. On the whole, he took my remarks very well.

I felt rather remorseful when he had gone for not liking him better. These irrational likes and dislikes that one takes to people are, I am sure, very unchristian.

With a sigh, I realized that the hands of the clock on my writing table pointed to a quarter to five, a sign that it was really half past four, and I made my way to the drawing room.

Four of my parishioners were assembled there with teacups. Griselda sat behind the tea table trying to look natural in her environment, but only succeeding in looking more out of place than usual.

I shook hands all 'round and sat down between Miss Marple and Miss Wetherby.

"We were just talking," said Griselda, in a honey sweet voice, "about Dr. Stone and Miss Cram."

"Do what?" I inquired.

"O, my dear," said Miss Marple, "I think married ones are the worst. Remember poor Mollie Carter?"

"But surely," I said, "in these days a girl can take a post in just the same way as a man does."

"To come away to the country? And stay at the same hotel?" said Mrs. Price Ridley, in a severe voice.

"Don't you think," said my wife, "that Miss Cram may just like having an interesting job? And that she considers Dr. Stone just as an employer?"

Good Morning!

"Bright Lights" is a blend of melodrama and revue, gorgeously done up in technicolor. Its pièces de résistance are Miss Dorothy Mackaill—O, so beautiful this trip!—and becoming more and more an actress to reckon with, and Frank Fay, who delivers marvelously in a duo-role of master of ceremonies and self-effacing lover. As the former he is a smooth article. As the latter he is also that, smoke screening an aching heart with persiflage and light, fantastic manner calculated to deceive none more than the girl he loves.

The story told is of a revue star engaged to marry a gilded aristocrat whose family is finding her a bitter pill to swallow. Diligently coached by Wally, who has managed her for years, since hectic dance hall days in Africa, Louanne poses as a simple maid of English birth, whose life has been most singularly uneventful until, well, she met her fiancé, for whom she will, O so gladly, give up her stage career.

Miss Mackaill burlesques her interview with the press in which she details the above information and thus introduces a gauche note to an otherwise artistic performance. She passed up a great chance to put over some subtle and amusing satire.

This picture has much incident and several surprises. It packs a punch and some tuneful airs. Staging, costumes, lights, sound, and photography please. The dialogue, ordinary and forced in some spots, is, in others, delightful. Direction's good and the players in the cast all know their business.

The able players do the best they can to make "Ladies in Love" interesting. It is very little.

The tale unreeled is of a young composer who goes to New York to sell his song to the famous crooner, Brenda Lascelle. He meets her. Ah!! The boy's gold-digging village sweetheart and the crooner's rich society man admirer try their best to gum up true love, but, of course, fail ignobly.

Surely it is a shame to waste lovely Alice Day and nice, talented Johnnie Walker on this sort of claptrap!

See you soon.

Attorney Charles Goodman, whose offices are in the Conway building and who lives at 5453 Everett avenue, is not to be confused with Charles B. Goodman recently arrested in connection with certain mortgage transactions. The similarity of names has been annoying to Attorney Charles Goodman.

In a funeral notice in yesterday's TRIBUNE, a name should have read Charles William Praesent instead of Prasent. He was manager of the Lehmann estate and not the Otto H. Lehmann estate.

A New York dispatch printed on Aug. 17 referred to the death of Charles Frohman "on the Titanic." The correspondent was in error. Mr. Frohman was killed in the sinking of the Lusitania.

AMERICANS FIND BURIED TOWNS; AID BIBLE NARRATIVES

JERUSALEM, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Remains of ten cities have been unearthed at Tel Beit Mirsim by the joint expedition of Xenia seminary, St. Louis, and the American School of Oriental Research at Jerusalem, enabling a survey of Palestine culture, that permits chronological establishment of the period of Abraham, of the Exodus led by Moses, and of the occupation of Canaan.

Tel Beit Mirsim is the biblical Kirjath sefer, the southern limit of Joshua's campaign against the tribal kings, following his destruction of Jericho. The place also was known as Debir, and of Joshua's foray against it with the Israelite army the book of Joshua relates as follows:

"And he took it, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining. As he had done to Hebron, so he did to Debir, and to the king thereof; as he had done also to Libnah, and to her king."

Buys Famous Edition.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

VIENNA, Aug. 18.—One of the extremely rare so called forty-two line Gutenberg Bibles, printed on parchment and in three volume, has just been bought by Dr. Otto H. F. Vollbehr of Berlin from the monastery of St. Blase, in the village of St. Paul, province of Carinthia.

Negotiations of the sale of this book, which is one of the best preserved examples in the world, had been in progress for two years. Austria now possesses only two of these Gutenberg Bibles, having been forced by poverty to sell the balance of the seven left to her at the end of the war.

The price paid by Dr. Vollbehr is being kept secret, but it is said that he immediately resold the Bible, together with a valuable collection of incunabula, to the library of congress at Washington. The monastery has owned the Bible for more than 400 years.

The last session of the United States congress appropriated $1,500,000 for the acquisition by its library of the famous Vollbehr collection of incunabula.

Knights of Columbus Open Boston Convention Today

Special Tints Urged for Each Type of Face

After Complexions Are Vacuum Cleaned.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Cleopatra had to be satisfied with oils and unguents to keep her complexion clear. Grandmother favored soap and water for the skin you love to touch. Mother tried cold creams and even sour milk or oatmeal packs—but daughter was the one to introduce a facial vacuum cleaner to battle Chicago soot. Groups at the convention of the American Association of Cosmeticians and Hair Artists at the Hotel Sherman yesterday buzzed busily about the new electric apparatus.

Four glass cups or nozzles at the end of four rubber tubes are used at various times and with various lotions in the course of the "vacuum cleaning" of the face. The apparatus is credited with bringing to the surface more impurities which may be imbedded in the skin than any former type of cleansing agent. It also provides stimulation and massage by "cupping"—momentarily lifting a portion of the skin under one of the nozzles through air pressure.

As for the makeup edict for this fall, all you have to do, madame, advises Louis Clement of Chicago and Paris, is to achieve that natural effect. And if you do it successfully you will probably adopt a darker powder than you have, to be "tres chic," for most women wear too light a blend. An expert will mix your correct tint for you and advise about the shade of rouge. Your complexion, to be perfect, must be beautiful without being obvious. And be individual.

"American women have everything but individuality," believes M. Clement. "They have looks, money, style. But last year somebody pinned a flower to the back of her coat collar—then everybody else did the same thing. Terrible! No French woman wants to look like any one else—nor would they tell you the name of their dressmakers. They study their own types and follow them—and I am happy to say the American women are learning the trick. Then they will be quite perfect."

Name Advisory Group on Forest Way Memorial

Representatives of civic and veterans' organizations of Cook county have been named on an advisory commission created by the forest preserve board, it was announced yesterday by A. J. Cermak, chairman.

The advisory commission is to help guide the construction of the soldiers' section of the Forest way, dedicated last April to serve as a memorial highway and model of correct modern tree planting along a Cook county highway. The section extends from Roosevelt road, Maywood, to 31st street, along 1st avenue, just east of the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial Hospital for War Veterans.

Forty-two men and women constitute the advisory group, including Brig. Gen. Abel Davis, Maj. Gen. M. J. Foreman, Brig. Gen. John J. Garrity, Col. John A. Holabird, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Kellogg Jr., Commander Henry Cohen, Illinois department, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Col. Sam Lawton, Col. R. R. McCormick, Capt. Charles Sauers, Col. A. A. Sprague, Brig. Gen. Frank R. Schwengel, William A. Schlupp, Capt. James C. Russell, Joseph F. Novotny, William Wright, Lieut. Col. J. E. White, Mrs. Marie H. Suthers, and others.

Work will be started at once on improvements at Thatcher Woods, Swallow Cliff, and at 159th street and Torrence avenue, Chairman Cermak announced. The cost will be $227,500 and this money has been made available by savings in various departments, he said.

Foreign Language Groups' Insurance Assets $200,000,000

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The activities of foreign language fraternal orders in the United States, which have a membership of 3,000,000, were outlined at the opening session of the national fraternal congress here today by Thomas F. Cotton of New York.

Mr. Cotton, who is head of the division of foreign language organizations, said there were more than 200 such orders in the country maintaining about 40,000 branches with insurance assets exceeding $200,000,000 and nearly $2,000,000,000 of insurance in force.

Some of these groups, he said, have their own colleges, schools for adults and children, homes for the aged and orphanages. Cotton said that the principal objective of this form of society was to fuse the immigrant and American cultural heritages.

THE STAGE

If all of the plans of Arch Selwyn, theatrical producer, are realized the approaching season may earn the subtitle of "The Retreat from Hollywood." Broadway and the actual stage seems to have fascinated the cinema stars.

Mr. Selwyn announces that, in addition to Mary Pickford, Vilma Banky, Rod La Rocque, and Colleen Moore, he has engaged Basil Rathbone for appearances in drama. Mr. Rathbone has been active in the talking pictures for more than a year, but it is easy to remember when he acted here, season before last, in "The Command to Love." The play in which he will appear is called "A Paris Divorce." In its original French it was called "Monsieur St. Aubin" and was signed by Andre Picard and Tristan Bernard. Arthur Hornblow Jr. has made the adaptation.

And, Mr. Selwyn furthermore says, there is a possibility that he may be able to lure Gloria Swanson into a contract to co-star with Mr. Rathbone. Negotiations to that end are in progress.

Concerning Mary Pickford's play, Mr. Selwyn says that three manuscripts are under consideration. The most likely choice is "The Course of True Love," by Paul Kester and William Lewers. Charles Dillingham is a partner with Mr. Selwyn in this venture and has hopes of persuading Max Reinhardt to attend to its stage direction.

"The Last Mile," a grim drama of prison riots and capital punishment which was runner-up to "The Green Pastures" for the last Pulitzer prize, will not be in the line-up of Labor day premieres. Word of its cancellation was received at the Harris theater yesterday; and no substitute was announced. The withdrawal of this play, which had been definitely scheduled, makes the Labor day opening of the theatrical season decidedly subnormal in material.

For partial compensation, the date of the debut of "Lost Sheep" at the Selwyn was moved up to Labor day. Its original date of opening was Saturday, Aug. 30.

The Goodman theater announces the addition to its repertory company of Patricia O'Hearn, a young comedienne who was last seen here with Glenn Hunter in "Behold This Dreamer," two years ago at the Blackstone. Last season she played opposite Frank Craven in the New York engagement of his play, "Salt Water," and was highly praised. She has been on the stage since she was five years old, and had her first important part in Frank Craven's "The First Year." Incidentally, she was born and bred in Chicago, and is a redhead.

Barry O'Neill, who acted at the Studebaker last winter as leading man for Francine Larrimore in "Let Us Be Gay," will be the hero of "Sex," when Mae West discloses that play at the Garrick next Sunday night. There will be more than forty others in the cast, and Miss West says that most of them are veterans of the New York run, which was terminated by police action.

Rewriting and rehearsing are said to have made a marked improvement in "Love Technique," with which Lou Tellegen opened the season at the Studebaker. This cast contains an interesting personality in Brenda Lane, who plays the stage-struck flapper. At the age of nineteen, she has an impressive record; she has been featured in motion pictures; she has danced in George White's "Scandals"; she has had fiction and articles published in Harper's, Liberty, the American Mercury and the Woman's Home Companion; she has a book of short stories in process of publication by Horace Liveright, and a New York producer has paid advance royalty on a play of her authorship called "Off Color."

Men Less Active Than Women on Hot Days

Scientist Tells Result of His Tests.

Cold Spring Harbor, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Discovery that the feminine body stands high temperature better than the male has been made at Carnegie institution.

The finding is said by its author, Dr. Oscar Riddle, to be an important part of the processes of nature that determine sex.

He finds that high temperature slows down male metabolism more than female. Metabolism is the production of energy. Ordinarily from youth to old age male metabolism produces more energy than female, so the Carnegie discovery means that the male loses his margin of energy superiority when the temperature goes too high. It was disclosed in five years experimenting with ring doves and pigeons, but Dr. Riddle quotes experiments of several other scientists to show it probably applies also to humans.

"We are now able to report and fully to establish—for the first time in any animal," he says in a report written for the second international sex congress, "a differential response in the sexes to metabolism measurements at higher and lower temperatures."

At 68 degrees the males showed an energy production of 3,861 calories; the females, 3,749. When the temperature was raised to 86 Fahrenheit the male calory production dropped to 2,777, going lower than the female, which dropped only to 2,989. The decrease was 28.1 per cent for the males and 20.3 for the females.

Dr. Riddle says the male, including man, has more red blood cells than the female and more of the red pigment that gives the color to blood. This pigment, hemoglobin, is the stuff that picks up oxygen in the lungs and carries it through the body. In ring doves and pigeons the excess red pigment of the male is 7 to 9 per cent.

"Upon and around such general conditions," says Dr. Riddle, "as higher level of tissue oxidations (use of oxygen) in the male, differential sex response to temperature, and extra hemoglobin in the male blood, are suspended the vital functional levels of most or all the parts of the organism.

"They are deeply vital, internal and functional things. They operate and persist during all stages of life. They are the various facts of basic metabolic difference—each stage of which is easily identifiable and measurable, also as a sex difference. They constitute the primary sex difference."

Dr. Riddle says the metabolism differences should lead to better understanding of the work of those scientists who now fix at will the sex of some small animals before birth.

Lucrezia Bori Stars as "Manon" in Opera at Ravinia

BY HAZEL MOORE.

If there were any regrets at Ravinia Park last evening, they lay entirely in the fact that "Manon Lescaut," the very fount of Puccini Melody, should have arrived at performance so late in the season. The brightest jewel of all the Puccini operas, "Manon" sparkles and glows throughout the entrancing score, and last evening the setting was worthy of the gem.

That naughty but extremely delectable young person, Manon Bori Lescaut, otherwise Lucrezia Bori, fed the eye and ear to repletion. She was at all times a ravishing picture, and her voice last night was fresh and young. She received so many plaudits after the second act gavotte, that her daily dozen was more than accomplished by the deep curtseys of acknowledgment.

Nor was the lovely Bori the sole asset of this bright performance. Martinelli found himself entirely happy as the Chevalier des Grieux, who followed the unfortunate Manon to her doom on the erstwhile desert of New Orleans. He was handsome of person and gorgeous of voice.

Desire Defrere was an excellent Lescaut, with just the proper mixture of buffoonery and song. D'Angelo and Bourskaya repeated the good performances of the rôles already made known, while Cavadore, Windheim, and Oliviero did well rôles new to them this season.

No account of this opera would be complete, however, without mention of the fine work of the chorus, who not only created individual characters, but sang with delightful freshness. The orchestra, too, was in fine fettle, responding beautifully to the magnetic baton of Maestro Papi, who was a veritable dynamo throughout the performance.

Sally's Crowd to Have Plenty of Movie Fun

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

When we see "Animal Crackers" at McVicker's theater a week from Thursday, young competitors, we will be entertained by comedians whose actual life has been just as hysterical and exciting as the plays they now romp through and the talkies they make.

You know, Chico is a fine—if eccentric—pianist, but years ago before the Four Marx Brothers' name appeared in electric lights above a broadway theater, Harpo had aspirations in that direction, too. He wasn't exactly a success, however, so when he heard that there was an opening in a movie theater he would send Chico to apply for the job and after a tryout Chico usually got it. The boys looked so much alike it was hard to tell them apart so the next day Harpo whose repertoire consisted of just two pieces started to work at the theater. He never lasted more than two days but it didn't make a great deal of difference because in the meantime Chico had lined up another place for him.

Their biography would be full of such amusing stories and "Animal Crackers" actually is. Each reel of the picture provokes laugh after laugh and in addition to that there is much good music and a number of songs that you'll enjoy. Fifteen chorus girls, each selected because she was the prettiest in some Broadway stage success, are part of the cast of this talkie and help Groucho, Harpo, Chico and Zeppo in their business of amusing us.

O, you're bound to like this picture because it's a combination of everything that goes to make good entertainment and our party will be a grand one, I know. You've got today and tomorrow to write letters that will win you an invitation to it so get busy and compose one that will thoroughly convince me you want to come.

Mrs. Bevans Replies to Letter of Reader; Answers Criticism

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

A booklet on "Sex Education" will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

To answer the following letter which has no address on it, and I must answer it, it is taken in sections:

"I enjoy reading your column each morning in the paper, but don't you think there are too many silly, spineless mothers now, without encouraging them to be any more lenient than they are?"

I do indeed. But spinelessness has never been suggested here. In fact, great emphasis has always been placed upon the sure touch of the mother who knows best.

"Patience is a virtue, but haven't we all seen mothers so patient with a naughty child on the street or in a public place that we longed to choke them both?"

I have, indeed, seen such things. But that is not patience in a good cause. It is stupidity, or the signs of general poor management.

"A little child should have the best loving care in the world, but it needs firmness, as well, and should be taught at an early age that it cannot have or even touch everything it sees in this world."

Firmness combined with loving care is a perfect combination—one always recommended here. Of course, a whole book could be written on the subject of a child's sense of touch and its guidance and satisfaction.

"In riding in our car we taught our children very young to sit where convenient in a car and to enjoy the ride, and called attention to nature, such as trees, cows, birds, dogs, etc., as we sped along. That was amusement enough without being entertained each mile of the way with a new toy to keep them quiet."

This is a good plan. But there are children just as there are grown ups who dislike automobiling for reasons either physical or mental—I know many such. Also, it should be a question how much of the inactivity of "just sitting" in a car for long rides should be forced on young children.

"I have seen mothers ask a small baby what it wanted to eat, when she should know herself." This is not lenience. It is poor judgment.

"There are many laws and rules we each have to learn and if a child is taught obedience before he enters school, his life will be much happier."

One has to agree with this. But be sure that his obedience and conforming to laws and rules be an intelligent—not a blind obedience.

Caramel! What magic there is in that word. It is the unusual in rich and lovely colored sweetening.

Do you know that caramelized sugar in dry powdered form can be prepared right in your own kitchen? It is easily and quickly done. And when you once learn how you will never want to be without it. Aren't there a dozen uses you can think of, now, if you just had some on hand? Amber pie, caramel ice cream and mousse, custard, sirup, how delicious they all are! But it is too much trouble to caramelize the sugar every time one wants it. Well, here is a way of keeping yourself supplied with that desirable sweet. Choose a dry day for making it.

Put 3 cups granulated sugar and 1 cup water into an aluminum pan. Stir until sugar dissolves. [A thin pan is to be preferred because it loses heat so rapidly that the sugar does not continue caramelizing after the pan is removed from the fire.] Cover and boil rapidly until sirup becomes quite thick. Take a peek every once in a while to see how the sirup is coming along.

When thick but not caramelized, remove cover and cook slowly until sirup acquires a characteristic amber color. Watch your step carefully at this stage because it is easy to overheat and obtain a burnt taste and too brown a color. On the other hand, if the sugar is not caramelized sufficiently the flavor will not be distinct enough. With a little experience one readily becomes skilled in judging the desired color. Pour caramelized sugar immediately into buttered pans in thin layers. Cool thoroughly. Then break the brittle candy sheet into small pieces. Grind in a perfectly dry food chopper to a fine powder. Keep tightly covered in screw top glass jars that have been thoroughly dried.

It is an economy of time to prepare a quantity of this, as it will keep indefinitely and can be used for various purposes. Be sure to keep lid screwed on tight and never leave lid off any longer than is required for removing sugar. In this way the sugar keeps in the dry powdered state that pours.

KIDNEY STEW.

Salted water.
3 tablespoons fat [half butter].
1 teaspoon salt.
Pepper.
4 medium onions, sliced.
4 medium potatoes, diced.
1 tablespoon vinegar.

Cut kidneys in half and soak 25 minutes in cold salted water. Trim off fat and any tough membrane. Cut into small pieces, place in a kettle of water and heat to the boiling point. Drain and plunge quickly into cold water. Drain well, then roll in flour and brown quickly in butter. Add salt, pepper, onion and potato, cover with boiling water and cook slowly until tender. Add cream and vinegar just before serving.

Women Jury Service Law to Be Asked of Democrats

A petition asking delegates to the Democratic state convention, meeting this week at Springfield, to endorse the passage of a law permitting women to serve on juries was presented to Anton Cermak yesterday. The proposed change is to be voted upon at the referendum to be held in connection with the election of Nov. 4. The petition was presented to Mr. Cermak by Miss Genevieve Corkell, chairman of the Illinois committee for women on juries; Mrs. Elizabeth Conley, Democratic national committeewoman, and Mrs. Ralph Treadway.

Smile!

WHEN you are brimming with pep, energy, and optimism, you have a real wholehearted smile, because you feel so almighty good! People are glad to see you; things seem to come your way. Here's the secret, learned by thousands of happy people: Clear the natural poisons out of your body regularly. Your doctor will tell you this—and he will also tell you the right way to do it by the Nujol treatment.

When you cleanse your face, you don't harshly scrape it with sandpaper, taking the skin off with the dirt. If you want to clean the poisons out of your body don't use habit-forming laxatives—use internal lubrication, which your body begs for, just like any other intricate machine. Nujol—colorless and tasteless as pure water—makes you feel like a million dollars, yet it costs only a few cents! Nujol is not a medicine; it contains no drugs.

"Regular as Clockwork"

Party at Oil Well Latest Society Plan

BY THALIA

The John Bordens were so enthusiastic about the excitements of the experience watching the first Gibson-Johnson, Borden oil well brought in near Mount Pleasant in northern Michigan about a month ago that they imbued many of their friends with envy, telling about it. Now, the second well is to be sunk, and the Bordens are taking a party of guests along to be in on the fun.

Inasmuch as there are no hotel accommodations within miles of the field, the expedition is to be in the nature of a picnic. But the anticipation waxes so keen as the crucial moment approaches, according to Mrs. Borden, that the watchers have thought for food or slumber, and they forget the lack of comforts while waiting for the well to be brought in.

The group is to leave Chicago for Muskegon on Friday. From there the Bordens and their guests will motor to the field. The well is to be brought in" a week from Thursday. The George P. McLaughlins, Robert Piries, Walter Schuttler, Robert Drum, Oscar Heineman, and Mr. and Mrs. George Thornton and Jarvis P. Catlin of Ottawa will accompany the Bordens.

The regatta held last week-end at Harbor Point, Mich., attracted numerous Chicagoans from the nearby resorts. Everybody who could crowded into a speed boat, outboard or cruiser followed the regatta by water, while the remaining throngs watched the event from the deck verandas of the Little Harbor club or from the private wharf.

The James R. Offields of Chicago and George Massey of Winnetka are the guest over the week-end. The daughter, Miss Betty Offield, was hostess at a dinner for 40 young people on Saturday night at the club. Wesley Offield was loudly cheered by the Chicago contingent when he brought his boat, Spearmint, into second place in the outboard motor race.

Mrs. Frank E. Pierce gave a dinner for 35 guests on Friday evening. Other dinner hostesses for Saturday evening were Mrs. Carroll H. Sumner, Mrs. Joseph E. Otis, and Mrs. J. Sidney Burnet, and Miss Emily Otis.

Henry W. Buckingham of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Otis' brother, Stuart Webster of Chicago, spent the week-end with the Otises at Birchwood farm. The J. Sidney Burnetts have their daughter, Mrs. Edward L. Massey, and Mr. and Mrs. Leone Gaylord of St. Louis as their house guests.

Among the week-end guests at the Harbor Point clubhouse were Charles F. Glore of Lake Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Smith, Nelson L. Bates, Jr., and John B. Barnes.

Miss Margaret Sinclair is to succeed Miss Dorothy Wegener as executive secretary of the Junior league, which will begin presiding over affairs at the league office in the Drake in time for the autumn activities. Miss Wegener is relinquishing the job because of her wedding to Bennet Harvey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harvey, which will take place this fall. Miss Sinclair, her brother, Wells Sinclair, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sinclair, are at Charlevoix, Mich., for a stay of several weeks.

John Borie Ryerson, who is with his mother, Mrs. Forsythe Sherfese, at her summer place at Coopers, L. I., N. Y., won the invitation golf tournament of the Cooperstown Country club for the second successive year, having defeated Victor Brinkman of Mayfield, N. J., in the finals of the meet, which was held last week.

Miss Cornelia Gray Lunt of Evanston is taking an eastern trip this week in place of her annual European jaunt. She left on Sunday for Boston and will return by way of Canada in early October.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen West are spending several weeks at the Lake Forest club. Accompanying them is Mrs. West's sister, Miss Patricia Schroeder.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Renshaw, Jr., of Chicago, are occupying a cottage at the Whiteface inn on Lake Placid for the remainder of the season.

Chicagoans at White Sulphur Springs for a midsummer stay are Mr. and Mrs. John Jay Bryan and their daughter, Miss Anne Bryan, and Lawrence Dunlap Smith of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence B. Reed of Lake Forest have been at the Park Inn at Asheville, N. C., resort where one of the diversions is golf for women players. Under the direction of Mrs. Cornelia Vanderbilt two teams have been organized and these hold matches each week-end.

Mrs. Charles Nicolas Strotz is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, and Mrs. Sidney N. Strotz of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Gotsch of 1430 Lake Shore drive and their daughters, Miss Isabel and Miss Marjorie, have gone to Harbor Springs, Mich., from the Lawsonia golf club, where they have been since last fortnight. Mrs. Ralph Isham and Mrs. Thomas Wells of Lake Forest were at Lawsonia for the week-end.

Wright Offield was loudly cheered by the Chicago contingent when he brought his boat, Spearmint, into second place in the outboard motor race.

Mrs. Frank E. Pierce gave a dinner for 35 guests on Friday evening. Other dinner hostesses for Saturday evening were Mrs. Carroll H. Sudler, Mrs. Joseph E. Otis, and Mrs. J. Sidney Burnet, and Miss Emily Otis.

Henry W. Buckingham of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Otis' brother, Stuart Webster of Chicago, spent the week-end with the Otises at Birchwood farm. The J. Sidney Burnets had their daughter, Mrs. Edward L. Hersey, and Mr. and Mrs. Leone Gale of St. Louis as their house guests.

Miss Margaret Sinclair is to succeed Miss Dorothy Wegener as executive secretary of the Junior league, and will begin presiding over affairs at the league office in the Drake in time for the autumn activities. Miss Wegener is relinquishing the job because her wedding to Bennet Harvey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harvey, is to take place this fall. Miss Sinclair, her brother, Wells Sinclair, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sinclair, are at Charlevoix, Mich., for a stay of several weeks.

John Borie Ryerson, who is with his mother, Mrs. Forsythe Sherfesee, at her summer place at Cooperstown, N. Y., won the invitation golf tournament of the Cooperstown Country club for the second successive year. He defeated Victor Brinkman of Maywood, N.J., in the finals of the meet, which was held last week.

Miss Cornelia Gray Lunt of Evanston is taking an eastern trip this year in place of her annual European jaunt. She left on Sunday for Boston and will return by way of Canada in early October.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen West are spending several weeks at the Lake Placid club. Accompanying them is Mrs. West's sister, Miss Patricia Schmidt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Renshaw, also of Chicago, are occupying a cottage at the Whiteface inn on Lake Placid for the remainder of the season.

Chicagoans at White Sulphur Springs for a midsummer stay are Mr. and Mrs. John Jay Bryant and their daughter, Miss Anne Bryant, and Lawrence Dunlap Smith of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence B. Robbins of Lake Forest have been at the Grove Park inn at Asheville, N. C., recently, where one of the diversions is polo for women players. Under the direction of Mrs. Cornelia Vanderbilt Cecil, two teams have been organized, and these hold matches each week-end.

Mrs. Charles Nicolas Strotz is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney N. Strotz of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Gordon of 1410 Lake Shore drive and their daughters, Miss Isabel and Miss Marion Gordon, have gone to Harbor Springs, Mich., from the Lawsonia Country club, where they have been for the last fortnight. Mrs. Ralph Milliman and Mrs. Thomas Wells of Lake Forest were at Lawsonia for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Henry of 9239 Pleasant avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Lavinia Marie, to Robert Stewart Cresap of Chicago, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cresap of Uhrichsville, O. Miss Henry is a senior at Northwestern university and a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Mr. Cresap is a graduate of Ohio Northern university and a member of Sigma Pi fraternity.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover returned today to the White House after a week-end visit at their Rapidan camp. Their son, Allan, will be with them here for a few days.

Vice President Curtis is expected to return tomorrow morning from a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Webster Knight II., at West Warwick, R. I., and a few days' visit at Newport as the guest of Mrs. George Mesta, widow of one of Pittsburgh's steel millionaires.

The Secretary of State and Mrs. Henry L. Stimson have out invitations for a reception and garden party Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 27, at Woodley, their suburban home in Washington, in honor of the members of the law societies visiting the United States as guests of the American Bar association. Secretary and Mrs. Stimson will receive from 4:30 to 7 o'clock.

Herbert C. Crosby, commissioner of the District of Columbia, with Mrs. Crosby left Washington yesterday for a motor trip in New England. They were joined in New York by their daughter, Miss Jane Crosby, who will return here with them.

Col. and Mrs. Edward Clifford, formerly of Chicago, have as their guest the latter's brother-in-law, Maj. John F. Tillson from Fort Bliss, Tex., for a visit of ten days. Maj. Tillson will be here for a nine months' course at the Army War college, but his family will remain at El Paso because of their children's schools. Miss Helen Tillson, daughter of the major, spent the spring season with Col. and Mrs. Clifford in their Georgetown home, leaving recently for visits in Evanston, Chicago, and St. Paul en route to join her mother at Fort Bliss.

PICNIC TOMORROW FOR ORPHANS, AGED IN LINCOLN PARK

When the orphans and the old folks from all the institutions in Cook county are whisked in limousines and enormous buses to Lincoln park tomorrow for their annual picnic, the old timers will recall with something of a thrill that breath-taking ride 26 years ago in the newfangled "horseless carriages" that dashed about town at the breakneck speed of 10 or 15 miles per hour.

Transporting a few hundred to the first picnic may have been a hard enough task a generation ago, but getting 5,000 to the park and back, safely and happily, is now a mansized job for the Orphans' Automobile Day association responsible for the success of the picnic. According to Robert K. Sloan, president, 165 more automobile volunteers are needed to give the orphans a lift. Drivers are needed in the far north side around Devon avenue, and on the south and west sides. If you can help transport the picnickers call William E. Webster, State 4852, for your assignment.

The annual picnic is looked upon as the red letter day of the year by 3,552 orphans, 613 old folks, and several hundred attendants. It has grown from an outing established by a group of automobile dealers to a civic responsibility. The affair is sponsored by the Chicago Motor Drivers' association, the Chicago Motor Club, the Woodlawn Business Men's association, and the Automobile Club of Illinois.

It has been rumored that several notables will attend the picnic. Among them is Hack Wilson and others of the Cub baseball team, and perhaps some of the Giants. They are expected to appear at 10:15 a. m. As for the rest of the entertainment, there will be box lunches containing the favorite picnic delicacies.

Here's Chance for Cage Fans to Aid Charity

Basketball fans will have an opportunity to help The Tribune's Camp Algonquin fund this afternoon by attending the basketball game between the faculty and students' of Crane Technical High school. The game is called for 1 o'clock in the school gymnasium. The faculty team will be captained by Charles Smidl, Crane Junior college coach, and the student team by Stanz Melino. The school is located at 2245 West Jackson boulevard.

"It was swell! Gee, they tried to drown us in milk. It's nice to sleep in the open air."

Thus spoke a mother who lives in a crowded street near the stockyards. She didn't go into rhapsodies over the sunsets, or over the birds that awakened her every morning. She never mentioned the absence of the roar of the elevated trains or the rumbling of trucks.

Such are the everyday confidences given by tenement mothers to district officers of United Charities of Chicago. Here is a sample of the letters those mothers write to district workers while at Camp Algonquin, THE TRIBUNE's camp on the Fox river, 45 miles northwest of Chicago:

"Just to drop you a few lines that we are all fine and I wood like to know if I and the childrens could stay 2 weeks longer. If so please let me know. So will close with best wishes and regards to you. Haveing a lovely time."

The free ice fund received $4.65 yesterday as the club dues from the T. Q. M. C. club, whose members are Celia Doneen, Shirley Newberger, Lorraine Krueger, Marcie Segal, Maxine Biesenthal, Elaine Stein, Adele Abrams, Aline Newmark, and Barbara Lewis. From the South Church Daily Vacation Bible school, 40th street and Drexel boulevard, came $2.25 for the ice fund.

Patterns by Clotilde

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S OR MISS' DRESS.

A red and white printed linen or crêpe de chine will be chic for this all day dress. The becoming scarf collar of white, with plain red, gives it a sportive air, while it affects princess shaping through the molded bodice and the cleverly low place fullness of the circular skirt. Peach shantung with the collar of the dress fabric, shell pink flat washable crêpe, and yellow and white dotted piqué are attractive suggestions.

The pattern, 2961, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material with ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting for the collar and ½ yard of 35 inch material for the bias bindings.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

What was the most embarrassing moment of your life? If you care to have it published, address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Please write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

Blueberry Pie.

My most embarrassing moment happened to take place in the summer time, during the blueberry season. A party of young people had been invited to spend the day at a delightful old farm house. At the dinner table the conversation turned to the large number of blueberry pickers we had seen during our morning's drive. Some one spoke of what he considered a great delicacy—blueberry pie. Immediately I expressed my opinion. "I never dare eat it," I said in no uncertain voice, "for there is sure to be as much dirt as there are berries." Just a moment later our charming hostess brought the dessert, and I was horrified to see that it was blueberry pie. H. T.

Old Transfer.

I was compelled the other day to make a hurried trip to the home of a friend. I paid my fare, receiving a transfer, which I placed in the outside pocket of my purse. We had gone about a mile when we were delayed by an accident, an auto being lodged across the tracks. I was worried over the delay and when I reached my transfer corner I reached in my purse for the transfer, brought it out, and handed it to the conductor, entered the car and sat down.

I had gone about two blocks when a light touch on my arm caused me to turn.

"Madam, you can't ride on this transfer. You must have been delayed." I readily explained the delay, but objected to his refusal, stating I got off one car and right on his; that a man passenger had done the same and his transfer was accepted.

He replied, "You'll have to pay another fare." I replied: "It's an outrage; I'll walk first," feeling an injustice was done. Imagine my chagrin when on the corner I examined the folded transfer in my hand to find it was a yesterday's transfer, dated Aug. 4. The right one, for Aug. 5, was tucked safely in another pocket of my purse. To say I was embarrassed is telling you something.

MR. SHOUSE PUTS HIS REACTION TO HOOVER ON RADIO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.] — Republican and Democratic spokesmen clashed again tonight on the issue of President Hoover's responsibility for the business depression as the battle for votes in the fall congressional elections got under way.

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, delivered the opening broadside of the evening in a radio address that bristled with criticism of the manner in which the Republicans had administered the affairs of the nation since President Hoover took office.

Tilson Retorts Promptly.

Hardly had Mr. Shouse passed from before the microphone before Representative John Q. Tilson [Rep., Conn.], Republican house floor leader, and warm Hoover supporter, issued a statement in which he described the Democratic spokesman's address as "an amazing collection of half truths, misstatements, abuse, and criticism."

"It is now seventeen months since Mr. Hoover became President of the United States," asserted Mr. Shouse in summarizing his thirty minute review of the first year and a half of the Hoover administration. "Yet what do we witness in America today after this trial period of the great engineer in government?

"Business depression that has not been approached since 1907; unemployment that finds no counterpart in thirty years; anxiety and distress and absolute want such as the country did not face in the panics of the nineties; fear in the hearts of the masses of the people as to what the future holds; hopelessness on the part of the farmers that amounts to absolute desperation; the hatred of other nations, because of our selfish economic policy, that will influence them to buy nothing from us that they can buy elsewhere.

Says Party Is Divided.

"Within the ranks of the Republican party itself we find such division as has not existed since 1910 and 1912. A group of insurgents elected as Republicans to the senate are the most bitter critics of the existing administration. Hundreds of thousands of farmers in every section of the United States say that where they have asked for bread they have been given a stone; wage earners from New England to California, from Maine to Florida, are now treading the streets of our cities in vain search of employment.

"Is it any wonder that the people of the United States are arising to a political overthrow that may assume the proportions of a cataclysm—deter minded to seek, through a change in their government an opportunity for the betterment of their conditions?"

Mr. Shouse asserted that the Democratic party stood ready to endeavor to respond to the pleas of the Ameri can people for relief of distress.

Tilson Asks for Program.

"If the Democrats have a construc tive program in their congressional campaign why did not Mr. Shouse present it," Representative Tilson demanded. "If they have specfic remedies, why did not Mr. Shouse let the nation in on the secret? Why did he feel compelled to confine himself wholly to negative, destructive criticism?"

Geo. D. Clarke, Associate of David Belasco, Dies

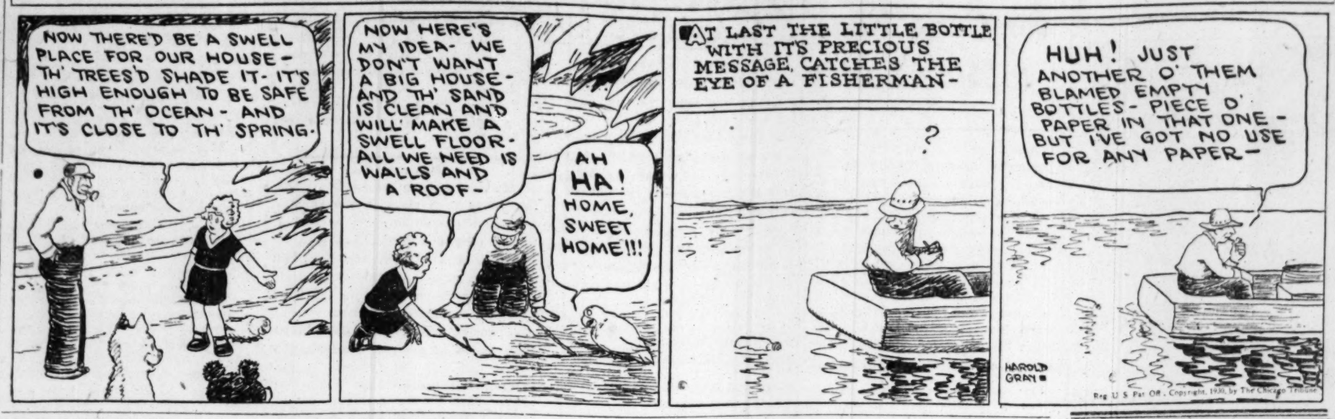
LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Plans



WIFE, MATE ROW; SHE MAY DIE OF FALL FROM AUTO

Stepping to the running board of her husband's car as he started to drive away from a roadhouse at Main street and McCormick boulevard late last night, Mrs. Grace Corcoran, 40 years old, 2340 Farwell avenue, lost footing and fell to the pavement, fracturing her skull.

The husband, Robert Corcoran, who had quit the roadhouse in a pique when his wife slapped his face, drove off as his wife fell. Mrs. Corcoran was taken, in critical condition, to the St. Francis hospital, Evanston, and a police detail went to the Corcoran home to await his return.

Two year old Betty Lutton and her brother, Richard, 5 years old, children of Charles E. Lutton, manager of the Brewer Teachers' agency, were seriously injured last evening when they were run down by a machine while sitting on the curb in front of their home at 827 Clinton avenue, Evanston. They were struck when Mrs. Ethel Decterow, 6019 Winthrop avenue, lost control of her car while turning a corner.

They were taken to the Evanston hospital, where it was found Betty had received a concussion of the brain, while her brother was suffering from internal injuries. Mrs. Decterow was arrested by Evanston police and released on $1,000 bond for hearing next Friday.

Two deaths yesterday raised Cook county's motor toll for the year to 617. The victims:

Frederick Longefeldy, 66 years old, 6115 Forest Glen avenue. Died while being taken to the Welles Park hospital after being struck while crossing Cicero avenue at Pensacola avenue. Casper Flug, 4456 North Leavitt street, the driver, was held.

William Pfister, 38 years old, 4039 Gladys avenue, a member of the Chicago fire department. Died at the West Suburban hospital of injuries received Sunday when thrown from a ladder truck as it struck a curb to avoid a collision with a machine at Mansfield avenue and Justine street.

Flyer Who Prevented Train Wreck Rewarded

For his resourcefulness in preventing the wreck of an express train carrying the golfer, Robert T. Jones, among 400 passengers five weeks ago, Melford J. Freeburg, pilot on the Chicago-St. Paul air mail route, was presented a gold watch yesterday by W. F. Thiehoff, general manager of the Burlington railroad. Freeburg was flying southbound about midnight on July 12 when he observed a trestle afire over the Chippewa river at Trevino, Wis., and saw the approaching train. Playing his landing light on the locomotive until the engineer stopped the train a few hundred yards from the bridge, Freeburg then indicated the fire with his searchlight.

CHARITY SHARES $2,000,000 ESTATE OF JAS. P. SOPER

A $2,000,000 estate is disposed of in the will of the late James P. Soper, Chicago lumberman, filed yesterday with the clerk of the Probate court, Mitchell C. Robin, and admitted to probate by Assistant Judge Edward S. Scheffler.

Among other charitable bequests the will provides $25,000 for the Chicago Memorial hospital; $10,000 for the Chicago Orphan asylum; $10,000 for the Chicago Home for Incurables; $10,000 for the Old People's Home; $5,000 for the Visiting Nurses' association and $10,000 for the Boys' Brotherhood Republic.

The remainder of the estate is divided equally among the widow, Mrs. Henrietta Soper of 4841 Greenwood avenue; a son, James P. Soper Jr., of Lake Forest, and a daughter, Mrs. Geraldine Ely of New York City.

George L. Cragg Funeral Services Will Be Today

Funeral services will be held this afternoon for George L. Cragg, for 35 years a Chicago patent attorney and prominent in church, scientific and art circles, at the family home, 4053 Lake Park avenue. Mr. Cragg, who was 58 years old, died on Sunday. He is survived by his widow, Miriam, and three sons, George, Henry, and Richard.

OPEN BIDS FOR PUBLICATION OF ASSESSMENTS

Reports that the county board intended to abandon the project for the publication of the 1928 real estate assessments were definitely dispelled yesterday when President Cermak announced that the contract for the work will be awarded as soon as a favorable bid is submitted. Nine bids for the work were opened at yesterday's board meeting, the prices, depending on processes, ranging from $2,429 to $46,775 lower than previous bids.

"The appropriation for the publication has been made and the work will be started as soon as possible," Mr. Cermak said. "We rejected the first bids because they were too high and because there was not enough competition. The bids have been greatly reduced and I believe they can be reduced still more."

Two bids were rejected at a recent meeting, one at $41,096 for planographing and the other at $99,472 for printing. Yesterday's low bids were $36,667 for planographing and $52,697 for printing. The bids will be considered by the board next Monday.

Judge, Hay Fever Sufferer, to Preside in 'Weed Court'

When the "Weeds" court day rolls around next Thursday offenders who have failed to clip the weeds on their premises, especially ragweed, will have a hard time convincing Judge Edgar A. Jonas, a sufferer from hay fever, that a $5 fine is an exorbitant penalty. With more than 40,000 cases of hay fever in the city women's organizations, the health department, and the court are joining forces to fight the malady by having the weeds cut.

J. H. Snowden's 2 Million Estate Goes to His Family

Riverhead, L. I., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—The will of James Hastings Snowden, oil producer, of New York and Southampton, who died on July 30, was filed here today in Surrogate's court. It distributed an estate of $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 among the widow, three children and a niece.

Head of Israelite Bureau in Hungary Dies at 79

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Solomon Eulenburg, 79, president of the Hungarian National Israelite bureau, died here today.

COOK DELEGATION INSTRUCTED FOR WET PLATFORM

Cook county's delegation to the Democratic state convention to be held tomorrow at Springfield was instructed yesterday to vote as a unit for a plank that will declare for the immediate repeal of the Illinois search and seizure law, the Volstead act, and the Jones law, and the ultimate repeal of the 18th amendment.

The managing committee here by unanimous vote issued the instruction, and as Cook county will have from 60 to 75 per cent of the voting strength the inclusion of the wet plank is regarded as certain.

Opposition to the plank is expected in the resolutions committee, which is controlled by the downstate contingent, 15 to 10, but the resolution will get to the floor of the convention and Cook county's Democrats will pass it, according to Anton J. Cermak, chairman of the Cook county central committee. Mr. Cermak said the action should be helpful to the senatorial candidacy of James Hamilton Lewis.

KEEP COOL With Kruschen

It's the acid and toxins in your blood that causes it to boil in hot weather.

You can keep free from acid and toxins and at the same time gain in vigor, ambition and keenness of mind by taking half a teaspoonful of Nature's Own Magic Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

Ask for Kruschen Salts—at any drug store in the World—Not just one salts, mind you—but a combination of six vitalizing and rejuvenating salts that Nature put into the Human body at the beginning of creation—And demands you keep there or good health will not be yours.

Kruschen Salts is what you need to keep your stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys in fine working order. A bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents and before the bottle is half gone you'll feel the spirit of youth within you—Your bright eyes—your clear skin—your very walk and great power of endurance will mean but one thing—Good Health—Life will be well worth living.

"Your English" Popular Feature

One of the easiest ways to correct your English is to tune in the Better English Institute program tonight at 10:20. Simple and easily remembered rules are suggested that will help you to present your ideas in clear, concise language.

Komiss Presents Irish Tunes

The old Irish tunes that we all like so well will have a prominent place on D. S. Komiss program tonight. Those lovely old airs, played by the W-G-N Symphony Orchestra, will float from your loudpeaker in true Celtic style. Presented at 7:10 p. m.

Provol Features Variety Bill

Provol, famous imitator of birds, will be the feature of tonight's Variety program. Hear this wizard in a program that will have the characteristics of "feathered grand opera." On the same bill, Polly Brinkerhoff, soprano, and Mark Love, basso. Starting at 8:30 p. m.

Teatime Follows Ball Games

This afternoon immediately after the ball games East and Dumke, heavyweight harmonists, will share a program with Robert Ball, baritone, the tuneful Tonecasters, and Josephine Cook, organist. A varied program to your taste.

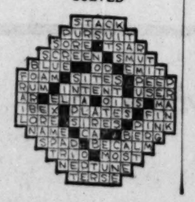
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



Does your alarm clock announce "UNCLEAN TASTE"?

An unwelcome morning visitor, if there ever was one! "Unclean Taste" defies the toothbrush and lingers despite many glasses of water. To rid your mouth of this disagreeable sensation at once...try a quick mouth-rinse with GLYCO-Thymoline. It's the certain, pleasant way to refresh and awaken your mouth and restore clean taste.

GLYCO-Thymoline is different. It is effective without sting or harshness. Do not confuse it with highly flavored mouth washes that merely replace one taste with another. Too, GLYCO-Thymoline deodorizes, not merely disguises, your breath. As a gargle it relieves irritated throats and clears husky voices. It's a morning necessity.

Physicians and Dentists have prescribed GLYCO-Thymoline for over 30 years. They will tell you your mouth wash should be ALKALINE! Use it daily when you brush your teeth—and any time "Unclean Taste" assails. At all druggists. Kress & Owen Co., N. Y.

GLYCO THYMOLINE
RESTORES CLEAN TASTE

Good Morning, Mr. Hungryman

—what can I SERVE you this pleasant morning?

"—Welch's Grape Juice, breakfast cereal, bacon and eggs, buttered toast and a cup of coffee—and be sure to give me WELCH'S!"

—A mighty sensible order, that—and not surprising that people who like to enjoy their breakfasts—thousands upon thousands of such people—are starting their day with temptingly delicious Welch's.

Tomorrow morning—try it! See how its cheery bright color, its exciting fragrance reach right out and capture lazy morning appetites. Serve with cracked ice or dilute with one-third water.

Keep Welch's always on hand in the refrigerator. Eight liberal portions to the pint make it the most economical pure fruit juice you can buy.

But be sure to say "Welch's"—otherwise you may get a cheapened quality of grape juice and wonder why it doesn't taste like Welch's.

At your hotel or club, ask for grape juice on your "club breakfast," and insist on Welch's. For "Ways to Serve Welch's." Free, write to Welch's, Dept. NB, Westfield, N. Y.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Pay No Attention.

"Dear Miss Blake: My girl friend is considerably shorter than I am. My friends laugh at me when I take her out. Should I give her up?

" GEORGE B."

Let them laugh if they will, but don't be influenced by them, George. Let them know you are capable of picking your own friends.

St. Olav Choir Sings in Berlin, Winning Applause

BERLIN, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The St. Olav church choir of Northfield, Minn., gave a concert today in the Protestant cathedral before a large and appreciative audience. The program included sacred music by Bach and Liszt.

FARM AND GARDEN
BY PAUL POTTER

What to Do Now

What to plant and when to plant are included in various topics discussed in the newly revised Chicago Tribune booklet on "Flower Gardening. Fall planting and the list that this includes for a good start in the flower garden next spring fill one of the pages of the 64 page booklet, which can be obtained by sending 13 cents in stamps to the Farm and Garden department of The Chicago Tribune, or the booklets can be purchased for 10 cents at any of The Tribune's public service offices.

Among the nonprimary farm crops for which there is a reported fall falling off in demand are walnut logs, according to a statement issued by the American Walnut Manufacturers' association, which has just completed a survey of demand, price, and future supply.

In 1928 and 1929, the association finds, prices for walnut logs were at their peak, but a decline in furniture and building industries has cut both price and amount of call for the wood. As a source of extra income from the farm wood lot this production should be maintained in view of an expected future demand, the walnut manufacturers report.

Walnut lumber and veneers will not pass out of the picture, it is predicted, and as individual trees, walnuts are classed as the best farm woodlot investment in the future that can be obtained with any kind of a tree. Farmers are advised to cut and sell at current prices only enough to meet the present demand, conserving the remainder of their trees for the expected increase in demand.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

To Straighten Little Legs.

"Has one of your readers some braces to give me for my four year old girl? The doctor says if her legs were straightened she might be able to walk. We are poor, my husband hasn't had a job in a year, and we cannot buy the things we need. If you could get clothing for my little girls, too, I would appreciate it. They are 2, 4, and 6 years old.

" MRS. T. M."

Perhaps one of your children was once in the same predicament as this little 4 year old. If so, won't you give the braces which were instrumental in bringing about this improvement?

Old Couple Need Clothing.

"I am trying to help two deserving people, but being out of work myself I am asking if any one has these articles of clothing: For the man, 81 years old, who is 5 feet 3 and weighs 120 pounds, a fall and winter coat and some underwear. He would wear size 38 or 40, I think. And for the woman, 50, who wears size 40, a fall and winter coat and any kind of dresses she can get. These two people have not bought anything in years except a pair of shoes or stockings, and the man is just recovering from a broken leg. A. D."

Finding a job is not such an easy matter when one has reached this man's age, and providing himself with necessities becomes more difficult all the time. Can you assist a little by supplying the clothing needed?

Lack of Interesting Conversation Puts Marriage on Rocks

BY DORIS BLAKE.

One of our famous writers suggests that marriage goes on the rocks because of a dearth of conversational topics of interest. Outside of the doings and the bright sayings of the children, the woman's conversation is accused of being confined to the most trivial and uninteresting brand of chatter, when it is not made up of nagging phrases with the husband as inspiration for this latter form of verbal deliverance.

Anyway, it is the lack of good, sound, interesting conversation between husbands and wives that is accused of causing the dry dust to settle on the well known institution, as it is practiced in some of our homes.

* * *

Possibly it is because women have been trained to do more listening than talking because they wanted to qualify in men's minds as perfect conversationalists that they have lost the art of carrying on an interesting hour or two on their own. Women can hardly be accused of a natural tendency to silence. In fact, it has been rumored that chatter is woman's middle name.

There's another side to the curbing of woman's natural conversational leanings. One cannot profitably carry on a one sided conversation and married gentlemen, it must be confessed, are more than slightly given to scorning the female viewpoint on politics, the weather, the crops, sports, or any of the broad topics upon which stable conversation is built. A woman must have an audience, just as a man must have one to be expected to shine conversationally.

* * *

Many ambitious members of our sex have given up in despair after a season or two of cultural development because of the coldness of the audience upon which the new line of conversation is tried. So that if there is a cure for the dullness that so frequently settles upon a married pair after the youngsters are parked for the night and the evening shadows have completely fallen, the two adults left together must be willing to let intelligent conversation see what it can do to relieve the monotony.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

MRS. E. H. H.: MASSAGING OF lines about the eyes must be done gently. Begin at the nose and work outward, then upward toward the temples. Use cold cream on the fingertips.

W. T. C.: POCK MARKS AND PITS should be treated by a skin specialist. If it isn't possible to remove them entirely the condition of the skin will be greatly improved by the treatment

Black and Gray Combine in Costume

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Jersey, which suffered a fashionable eclipse for a short time this spring, has returned to the mode in a new reincarnation. You have to touch the new jerseys to be sure they are new jerseys; they have such a thick, soft, velvety surface, that at a little distance you're apt to mistake them for wool velours or duvetyne.

Patou likes these new jerseys in dotted patterns to make the separate morning frocks he offers as a substitute for tailored suits; pale gray woven or printed with white or black coin spots being his favorite color combinations. He picks up the dots with simple trimming at neck and wrist—in white piqué when the spots are white, in black satin when they're black.

He used the gray black dotted jersey to make this walking frock for Mme. Georges Pereire, one of his smartest clients. The sleeves are cut in one with the shoulder yoke which descends in a plastron on the bodice in front, and the blouse, itself, is cut in one with the fitted, shallow hip yoke. A bias band of black satin outlines the neck and the sleeves, which button tightly half way to the elbow, and black satin pipings edge the tailored jersey belt and the zigzags of the front closing. The buttons are covered with the jersey.

The skirt is side plaited all round, starting from a central panel in the front.

The Reboux hat of black satin felt mounted on a gray grosgrain bandeau shows the new asymmetrical movement toward the back of the head and allows considerable expanse of forehead and hair to be seen. Fox scarfs have also returned to favor with chic women. A silver fox happily completes this distinguished costume.

Exercise and Good Head Posture Ward Off the Double Chin

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Catch that doubling chin young treat it rough and tell it it is not going to spoil your good time. When that first little fold or wad or pad or whatever you call the little fleshy formation directly beneath the chin appears, go after it with hammer and tongs. Literally you can go after it with a hammer, for those under chin slappers or patters are hammers with the hard blow eliminated.

But don't let the chin get any big ger than it is after you first detect that small bulge. It will take no more than six weeks to two months to get the clean line of profile shaped up again if you do go after the fattening section at once.

* * *

Is there anything that could be attached to the human face so mortifyingly ugly as a full fledged hanging basket of characteriess fat suspended from the chin? If so, it hasn't been met up with. Not a homely nose nor insipid eyes nor any other facial bad turn is so distorting as that grossly heavy shadow of a former self's neckline.

* * *

First, before you write for exercises, find out what habits of yours are contributing to the adipose. Don't say you just run to fat. Too many women of recent years have offered that alibi to stand up any longer. It simply does not go over. Especially this chin fat. There's no reason on earth why a chin should be weighted down with more than its common share of padding.

* * *

That drooping head habit may have started the chin on its downward path. It's a common habit that destroys the muscle fiber of the part referred to. When you lie down, the chin does not have to be supported on the breast bone. When you stand, walk, dance the muscles that are supposed to hold the head with decent dignity should be made to conform to their rôle.

* * *

Then, there are exercises, pretty well known ones for strengthening the morale of the chin muscles. Dropping the head forward on the chest and lifting it back and forcing it down behind is the first movement. Then turn the head and count the stars over your left shoulder, over the right, resting a minute in between head movements to prevent dizziness.

SMASHING
EVERY CAR CUT
25% TO 50%!
STUDEBAKER SALES CO.
OF CHICAGO—Specialists in Used Car Bargains—never offered such remarkable bargains before! Here are legitimate values that you cannot afford to pass up. 218 cars in one building to select from. And every one of them is backed by the Studebaker Used Car Pledge that guarantees 5 days' free driving trial!

STUDEBAKER VICTORIA, Spec. 6. From the standpoint of performance and appearance this car will satisfy you in every respect. The tires, finish and upholstery are in splendid condition.

$105.
HUDSON BROUGHAM. That's the last word for sparkling performance and attractive appearance. Has every essential extra.

$195.
PIERCE-ARROW TOURING. Here is probably the best open car buy in Chicago. The motor runs very smoothly, and every detail of the exterior and interior is in splendid shape. Many extras.

$195.
AUBURN SEDAN. This is a close-coupled job that runs like clockwork. The upholstery has not a worn spot and the original finish is nice looking.

$195.

CADILLAC SEDAN. 7 pass. that was turned in by an elderly couple who gave it unusual care. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tires, etc. It will give you new car satisfaction today.

$335.
FORD ROADSTER. Late model A. Lacquered a handsome color. Has road light, shock absorbers, windshield wings, side mounts, bumpers, etc. Only driven a few thousand miles so it's like new today. Just reduced in price.

ERSKINE CLUB SEDAN. 1929 that's a quality car throughout. It would take an expert to tell this car had even been driven before. 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc.

$445
STUDEBAKER COMMANDER SEDAN. 1928 that's absolutely 100% throughout. Equipped with shock absorbers, dual wheels, light bumpers, spare tire, etc. It's a beauty and will not last long at our special reduced price.

BUICK ROADSTER. 1927 Mast. 6, finished a smart two-tone tan. Has a roomy rumble seat, windshield wings, and a wealth of extra equipment. The motor is smooth and powerful.

CHRYSLER COUPE. Late model. We sincerely believe that this is the best Chrysler buy in Chicago. Motor is A-1 and the finish is bright and shiny. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Rumble seat.

STUDEBAKER DICTATOR VICTORIA. 1928 that's absolutely 100% throughout. Equipped with shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. It's a beauty and will not last long at our price.

GRAHAM-PAIGE SEDAN. One of the very latest models with 4-speed transmission, side mounts, and many valuable extras. This car is a beauty and will not remain 24 hours at the price we have marked it.

PACKARD SEDAN. Here is an expensive car at an inexpensive price. Was chauffeur driven, so it's in topnotch condition now. Has a wealth of extra equipment.

STUDEBAKER 8 CABRIOLET. 1929 that's equipped with bumpers, side mounts, shock absorbers, wire wheels, etc. Rumble seat. A wealthy family leaving for Europe left this car with us to sell at a reasonable price. When they come back they'll take out a new Studebaker 8. Here's a chance to get a practically brand new car for only $750.

REO BROUGHAM. 1929 Flying Cloud. Finish a beautiful color. Has every essential extra. This car is in absolutely new condition in appearance and the motor is unusually smooth.

BUICK SEDAN. 1929 Mast. 6 that is an exceptional bargain. If there ever was one. Only driven a few thousand miles and the neighbors could not tell it from a brand new Buick today. Has side mounts and natural wood wheels.

HUPMOBILE 8 SEDAN. 1929, 7 pass. Has Pullman car comfort and exceptional performance. The upholstery appears unworn and there are a dozen valuable extras. $985.

CORD CONV. CABRIOLET. A current model, the classiest car of its kind in Chicago. Has wire wheels, fender wells, and a wealth of extras. The interior is spotless and the finish is bright and shiny. Has a sweet running motor. Sold for a big price a short time ago. Now marked unusually low.
